Zoning Committee

By: MJ

Included in the packet was a copy of "The Standards for Rehabilitation (codified in 36 CFR 67. At the last couple meetings the word "standards" has been used by zoning committee members when referencing the rules and regulations they are imposing to be incorporated into the zoning document.

The intent of "standards" deals with taxes, and preservation of historical property according to 36 CFR 6.

Question: Does the word "standards" according to 36 CFR 6 have anything to do with rules and regulations in the city zoning ordinance? Does it sound better if board members say "we are following the standards" rather than say "we are only following the rules and regulations the zoning document says you must comply with."

Director of Operations reported at the Nov 7th meeting there had been 3 applications for signs that had not been returned. The director then passed out literature on "Roberts Rules of Debate Decorum." The hand out was just a directive or reminder of how members of the boards proceed with business at hand.

Zoning Compliance Permits

#2396 Mr. Clark's permit application for a home based business. (TABLED) until the next meeting. At that time a recommendation will be made to the council.

2383 Hart/Smith (No decision) Director of Operations reported that 2 letters had been sent out and he had not heard back. Committeeman Mooney reiterated again that this was a situation where change went ahead without a permit. Considerable discussion around the table that argues several different issues. Is the trailer a legal residential trailer, is it a camp trailer, is a trailer park license required...?

#2410 Dillon Development: No decision because the developers did not bring forth a new drawing showing the changes the zoning committee required at the last meeting.

Thank you, Bill Francis, for the hand made braided watch / key fob that portrays the Navy colors and the word Navy included in the braid work.

Montana Western students leads pack mule string

University of Montana Western student Trepper Osburn spent last summer leading a string of pack mules through remote areas of western Colorado, providing supplies to improve wilderness areas without motorized vehicle access.

Osburn attributes his ability to gain specialized experience in mule-packing to the adaptability of the Experience One (X1) Program at Montana Western. Montana Western is the only public four-year institution teaching under X1, where students take a single class at a time in 18-day blocks.

Growing up in Columbus, Mont., Osburn has been an active outdoorsman much of his life. He has been involved with his local Forest Service since 2012. Osburn participated in a training program at the Ninemile Remount Station & Ranger Depot in Huson, Mont. where he learned how to load mules with supplies and lead pack-strings into wilderness areas without motorized access. Osburn quickly developed a passion for the profession and is pursuing a career as a Forest Service packer.

"I knew that a college degree and experience would be key factors when trying to move up in the Forest Service as a packer," Osburn said. "The X1 program at Montana Western has been a great way for me to focus on one subject at a time and have the flexibility to gain practice packing in summer and fall."

X1 allows Osburn to use the first block class offered in the fall semester to finish out the packing season ending in late September. Because of the flexibility of X1, Osburn doesn't fall behind on crucial class material and can pick up an extra course second block. This wouldn't be possible in a traditional college setting.

Osburn came to Montana Western to earn an environmental interpretation degree. Environmental interpretation students spend time outside the classroom studying the unique ecosystems, rock formations and plant life that surround Dillon, Mont. The small class sizes at UMW give students specialized attention from professors who are invested in student success in the class room and beyond.

"I have liked all of my professors in the environmental sciences department," Osburn said. "They have all been supportive throughout my education and have helped me succeed."

Osburn worked as a mule packer with the Forest Service's Rocky Mountain Regional Specialty Pack String based in central Colorado during the summer of 2016. He traveled a variety of trail systems across the state working for the Forest Service and non-profits.

Osburn, his boss and their string of ten mules hauled 15 tons of gravel up a trail to help build a 200-foot long pathway over a treacherous mud bog. Osburn led the mules up a two-mile-long trail three times a day for a week, moving around 1600 pounds of gravel per trip.

"Every day I'm packing is a good day," Osburn said. "I've packed for six years now and have been blessed to ride through gorgeous mountain ranges in Montana, Colorado, Wyoming and the Black Hills of South Dakota."

Osburn stands to assume the head packer position when the current lead packer retires. Osburn was considered based on his vast experience as a packer and education in environmental interpretation.

"I am looking forward to a long career doing what I love," Osburn said. "This wouldn't be possible without Montana Western's X1 program and the education I received here."

Letter to the Editor

President Elect Donald Trump said before the election, "the system is rigged!" the question is who rigged the system, and how did he know it was rigged?

LaVon D. Brillhart

Letter to the Editor

Where is everybody?

It has been almost a week since Donald Trump did the "impossible" by winning the election and is now President-Elect of these United States.

I have been waiting every day to see someone congratulate Donald Trump in his monumental and historic win.

As of Monday the only one I see is a disgruntled Democrat complaining that the only reason Trump won is because of the Electoral College. Hillary won the popular vote. But that's not the way it works. The 12th amendment went into effect in 1804. So put on your big boy pants, put away you hankies and give Donald Trump credit for doing what all thought was the impossible. So Democrats, Republicans and Independents, swallow your pride and join me in congratulating President - Elect Donald Trump. It is my hope and prayers that our wonderful country comes together again and we emerge better than ever. A nation with a robust economy, secure borders and a strong military and homeland security. This is the only way we can survive as a nation.

Give Donald Trump the chance he deserves. I believe he can and will do it and deep in your hearts I believe you do too. As Dean Alfang said, "All this is what it means to be and American".

God bless America and God bless President - Elect Donald Trump.

Chuck Dishno, a Republican. Semper Vigilo, Fortis, Paratus et Fidelis "Always vigilant, strong, prepared and faithful."

F.Y.I. The Twelfth Amendment was proposed by the 8th Congress on December 9, 1803, when it was approved by the House of Representatives by vote of 83-42,[4] having been previously passed by the Senate, 22-10, on December 2.[5] The amendment was officially submitted to the states on December 12, 1803, and was ratified by the legislatures of the following states.

2016 Love in a shoe box!

It's time again to get the shoe boxes out and make a difference this year for a child! This is part of a national effort to help children across the country and around the world. Anyone can help: groups, individuals, families, schools, or churches.

All you need to do is:

Put together a shoe box to send to a child, or

Make a Donation – every donation helps. Shipping costs $7 per box. You can make checks payable to Samaritan's Purse/Shoe box and drop off at Mary's house or donate online and track your shoe box! Donations are tax deductible. For online donations go to: <http://www.samaritanaspurse.org/what-we-do/operation-christmas-child/> and click on "support."

If you would like to be part of this amazing program and have questions or would like more information, contact me. I will be delivering boxes to Bozeman

The Fifth Judicial District Voice for Children is a CASA program based out of Dillon. CASA programs (Court Appointed Special Advocates) pair up abused and neglected children in our community with trained CASA volunteer advocates. The roll of the CASA advocate is to speak for the best interest of these children in Court. The CASA advocate does a through investigation contacting family members, social workers, teachers, foster parents, therapists... and any others that are in the life of the child, in order to make an informed recommendation. The CASA maintains a continued relationship with the child they are assigned to, often the only consistent relationship in their lives during these difficult times. The work of a CASA volunteer is an invaluable, heartfelt asset to the community and to the children they serve. To speak up for a child gives them a Voice, to give them a Voice gives them Hope. If you interested in becoming a CASA advocate please call 925-1405.

Thank you Fifth Judicial District Voice for Children for all you do!
