Updated News Article from the Zoning Commission

Dillon Zoning Commission Activities and
Certificate Review Actions,
August, 2015 – November, 2016

Montana law authorizes cities to enact and enforce zoning regulations for "the purpose of promoting health, safety, morals, or the general welfare of the community." Dillon's current zoning ordinance (Title 17) became effective in January, 2013 following a significant revision of the previous code. As with the previous code, approval is required prior to beginning residential or commercial construction projects or erecting signs, fences or other structures in any of the zoning districts or operating a home-based business.

The Commission began implementation of the new ordinance in earnest in the summer of 2015 by recommending City Council approval of an updated Zoning Map at the Mayor's request. Designating Zoning districts for the unzoned areas has also received attention. The Commission has also sent two packages of code revisions to the Council with a third on the way. The revisions included many changes to clarify the standards, improve consistency and correct errors. Examples of substantive changes include clarification of responsibilities, sign regulations, and parking requirements.

Also in the summer of 2015, the Commission and the Administration were alerted to problems with a project underway on the NE side of Dillon which would have adversely impacted residents in the area. Insufficient parking for eight dwelling units in the two buildings under construction as well as other issues were identified. Recommendations by the Commission resulted in quick action by the Mayor, bringing the project to a halt pending resolution. Since a permit had been issued by the Operations Manager, a possible lawsuit resulted in settlement with the builder.

Three results came out of this experience: (1) The project was reconfigured as four dwelling units; (2) Fifty-six property owners in the area petitioned to have zoning standards raised by changing from an R3 (high density) to an R2 (two-household) district; (3) The Mayor proposed changes in responsibilities by asking the Zoning Commission to review all zoning certificate applications, previously the sole responsibility of the Operations Manager. Happily, the duplexes are nearing completion and, on the Commission's recommendation, the City Council approved rezoning the area.

Between August 2015 and the spring of 2016, the Commission reviewed all certificate applications. More recently, the Operations Manager has assumed responsibility for smaller structures, fences and signs but consults the Commission at his discretion. In order to meet certificate review and other responsibilities, the Commission has met twice a month when necessary to accommodate applicants. In addition, the Commission and the Operations Manager have documented the review process and begun developing checklists and application submittal requirements to expedite reviews.

In the 16 months through November, 2016, the Commission reviewed zoning certificate applications for 18 signs, 7 fences, 3 home-based businesses, and 10 commercial and 30 residential construction projects. 15 of the sign and 6 of the fence certificates were approved by the Commission. The Board of Adjustments approved variances for two signs located in an unzoned area. Commission review of most sign and fence applications ended in August 2016. Of the four applications for (3) home-based businesses through November 2016, only one certificate was denied; in this case a revised application was one of the three approved.

Eight of the ten commercial projects were approved, including new or expanded buildings for Barrett Hospital, Phillips Concrete and Dillon Loomix. The Board of Adjustments approved a variance for one of the two denied proposals as well.

At 30 applications, residential construction projects accounted for the largest number reviewed by the Commission. 19 residential applications were approved, including 18 new dwelling units in 11 buildings and several additions. Most of the certificates denied were for projects that would have created parking and/or setback problems for neighbors. Three cases involved boundary adjustments which would have increased existing non-conformances and were in violation of the pre-2013 zoning code as well. Two denied applications involved a nearly forty year old subdivision in which the developer had not installed required improvements. Finally, situations surrounding two of the denied applications were subsequently resolved without further Commission involvement.

It is noteworthy that residential application review delays and denials peaked by the spring of 2016. The Commission approved 9 of 11 applications in the six months through November 2016 with the resolution of one denied certificate pending. Likely factors contributing to the improved applicant success rate include better understanding of the standards and submittal of better materials for evaluating proposals. The Operations Manager and the Commission have developed tools for improving the process and educating applicants on requirements as well.

In conclusion, the past two years have been busy ones for the Zoning Commission and the City Administration. While implementation of Dillon's updated zoning ordinance got off to a bumpy start, significant progress has been made. In addition to revising the code, documenting the evaluation process and educating everyone on the requirements has helped with reviews. We thank everyone for the support we have received in the last few months as implementation of the new code has progressed.

Bulldog volleyball signs high school standout setter

The University of Montana Western head volleyball coach Brent Lewis has announced the signing of Karen Kale to an NAIA Letter of Intent.

Karen Kale, a 5-7 setter from Merced, Calif. will graduate in the spring of 2017 from Golden Valley High School. In her senior season at Golden Valley she recorded 562 assists, 51 aces, and had a 90 percent serving average.

As a prep, Kale was a two-time all-Central California Conference second team setter, Co-MVP of her team, and a three-time member of the Academic All-Conference team.

The daughter of Jim and Lori Kale, Karen plans to major in elementary education. "I want to become a teacher," said Kale, "That's what this school is all about. When I took my visit, the town was small and that's what I want. The volleyball girls were the sweetest thing, they were really inclusive. I've always wanted to leave California to experience something different. I'm ready for a change."

Bulldog volleyball inks California High School Standout

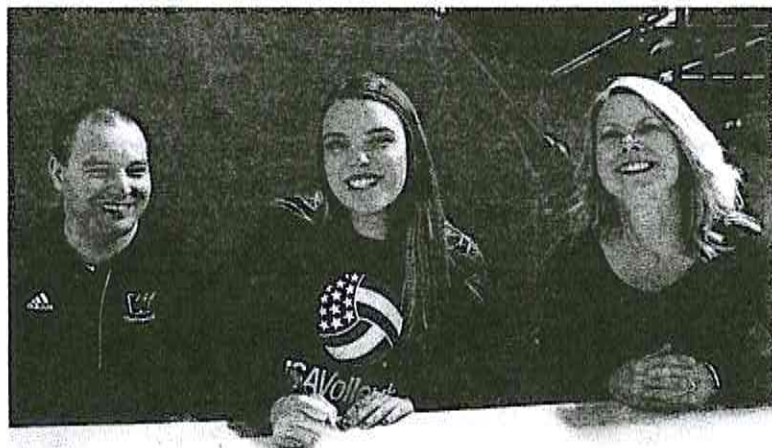

The University of Montana Western head volleyball coach Brent Lewis has announced the signing of Breana Barrios to an NAIA Letter of Intent.

Breana Barrios, a 6-2 middle blocker from Ripon, Calif. will graduate from Ripon High School in the spring of 2017, where she was three year varsity starter.

As a prep, Barrios led her team to an undrafted league championship and was named offensive MVP. She was a three time all-league selection, and led her team in blocks, and kill percentage. She also played a year of basketball and was on the varsity swim team for a season.

Barrios has played four years on two nationally ranked club volleyball teams, the Rage Volleyball Club and the Pacific Coast Volleyball Club, both teams qualified for Junior Nationals.

The daughter of Steve and Michelle Barrios, Breana plans to major in business at Montana Western. "Breana chose Montana Western because she wanted to attend a smaller beautiful university in a beautiful state, which offered a great education and great athletics." Her father Steve said, "She is really excited about the X-1 program at Western. She is also looking forward to helping Montana Western volleyball win a conference championship and making it to the national tournament."

The Associated Students of Montana Western Resolution Regarding Fair Treatment of all Students, Faculty and Staff at the University of Montana Western
December 1st 2016

Authored by Kelsie Field, ASUMW Vice President; Seth Hogan, ASUMW Treasurer;
Wyatt Sarrazin, ASUMW Senator and Dennara Gaub, ASUMW Senator

Whereas, There is an ongoing movement to prevent discrimination on college campuses.

Whereas, The National Center for Educational Statistics and the Bureau of Justice Statistics released a report in 2015 stating that 781 hate crimes were reported on college campuses in the United States.¹

Whereas, The Federal Bureau of Investigation defines a hate crime as “criminal offense against a person or property motivated in whole or in part by an offender’s bias against race, religion, disability, sexual orientation, ethnicity, gender, or gender identity.”²

Whereas, 9-11% of students at the University of Montana Western (UMW) identify as an ethnic minority.³

Whereas, Many students identify as other social minorities, including those with regard to: race, religion, disability, sexual orientation, gender or gender identity.

Therefore, Let it be resolved, The Associated Students of The University of Montana Western (ASUMW) support and equally represent all students.

Therefore, Let it further be resolved that intolerance of any student, faculty or staff member with regard to race, religion, disability, sexual orientation, ethnicity, gender, or gender identity will not be condoned or tolerated by the ASUMW.

Therefore, Let it further be resolved, that ASUMW urges all students and university personnel to embrace diversity on the UMW campus. We also request that intervention occur when witnessing any negative behavior towards a person or group.

Therefore, Let it be resolved, this resolution shall be sent to Beth Weatherby, University of Montana Western Chancellor; Deb Hedeem, University of Montana Western Academic Provost; Nicole Hazelbaker, University of Montana Western Dean of Students; Dillon Tribune; Dillonite Daily; KDWG radio station and; The University of Montana Western Students, Faculty and Staff
