ZONING versus TAKINGS

By: MJ

People have a way of debating issues on the surface and never getting down to the actual facts in discussions. Questions: Is that the political way of doing things. By not addressing the concrete facts people have a revolving door allowing them the wiggle room they need to never be held accountable.

TAKINGS CLAUSE: The "Takings Clause" refers to the last clause of the Fifth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution that limits the power of eminent domain. The Takings Clause is a provision of the Bill of Rights that has been litigated in the courts for many years. Courts wrestle with the fact of determining when a regulation becomes a "Takings." The Courts have recognized some important factors to consider; 1) the economic impact of the regulation, 2) the degree to which the regulation interferes with investors and providers, the 3) capacity or character of the government actions. Questions: Should individuals affected by government actions reducing property values be compensated with reduced property taxes? Should the individuals that have property values increase due to the government's actions have their property values increased? This is a reality in Dillon. NOTE: The (3) factors listed have never been discussed at any of the Zoning or Board of Adjustment meetings I have attended, nor have I seen any discussion in the minutes or on the audio tapes PUBLIC USE: The government has the power of using "eminent domain" that authorizes the takings of private property for "public use" providing the owners receive fair market value in compensation. Question: Is the City of Dillon going to compensation the property owners with a fair dollar market value in the "Potato Cellar area? The businesses in that area provide jobs, a market for products produced in area, storage for products delivered and used by the locals...

This is an issue that people may debate with strong emotional feelings and personal opinions. The argument has no merit if you don't have authentic facts and figures establishing validity of the effects on the community. We have not seen nor heard any of those facts and figures discussed or distributed via paper for the C-2 zone in the Potato Cellar area. When the Board of Adjustments made a ruling on traffic flow and not hardship for the "Bull Pen" they did not have a detailed discussion amongst the committee on the hardship.

One member of the Board of Adjustments did express his view after actually watching the traffic flow of people doing business at the Bull Pen. He felt it would decrease the business 50% if the city ruled against the business. It appeared that the board may or may not have made their decision prior to the public meeting.

When our local government closes businesses it leaves families and children without a paycheck. The community loses revenue via taxes. The talk on the streets and with committee personnel representing Dillon is; "Dillon is going to boom." Where is the proof, where are the financial facts?

When Stoltz went out of business the city was provided with many facts and figures of how the city would be impacted over a ten year period. Government personnel denounced those facts and did not make plans on how they could work toward replacing the millions of dollars that was going to leave the community.

Yes, I have referred to Zoning as a way for the government to acquire a "Takings" in several articles I wrote. I believe "Zoning" could be a way the government might back-door an issue thus making it a reality and binding for businesses and people involved.

BUSINESS MEETING SCHEDULED FOR DILLON ROTARY WEDNESDAY

Human Trafficking Awareness Traveling Art Exhibit Coming to Montana

AG Fox to Speak at Opening Event on

National Human Trafficking Awareness Day January 11

In observance of National Human Trafficking Awareness Month, Attorney General Tim Fox invites Montanans to view the "Faces of Freedom: Voices Calling for the End of Modern Day Slavery" traveling portrait exhibit when it comes to the state on January 11. Faces of Freedom raises awareness about the realities and effects of human trafficking and other forms of violent oppression in the world today. The exhibit celebrates human trafficking survivors and presents opportunities to engage people in learning more about this form of modern day slavery.

The exhibit is making its way to Montana through the Freedom 58 Project thanks to the support of Soroptimists International - Whitefish. Faces of Freedom features 14 original artworks depicting people rescued and restored from sex trafficking. Each portrait was carefully selected to speak to the theme of the international plight of human trafficking. The artists are from the West, and include photographer Bonnie Sanders, a Montana State University graduate. The kick-off event takes place January 11, 2017 at noon on the third floor of the State Capitol. Attorney General Tim Fox will speak, as well as representatives from Freedom 58 and Soroptimists International - Whitefish.

"Human trafficking is a multi-billion dollar criminal industry that occurs all over the world, including here in Montana," said Attorney General Tim Fox. "No matter where this crime happens, the common denominator is that its victims have lost their freedom. My office is pleased to partner with Soroptimists International - Whitefish and the Freedom 58 Project to bring these powerful portraits of human trafficking survivors to Montana. We invite the public to see these beautiful paintings and reflect on the real-life journeys of their subjects as they move from oppression to rescue, and ultimately, to justice and freedom."

Diane Yarus of Soroptimists International - Whitefish, said, "Soroptimists International - Whitefish is proud to partner with the Montana Department of Justice to address this crime in our communities. The Altria Group honored our human trafficking awareness efforts by awarding us a grant that helped us bring this extraordinary art exhibit to our state, allowing us to raise awareness and stimulate community conversations about how to protect our citizens from this criminal enterprise." Yarus added that Soroptimists International launched STOP Trafficking in 2007 to raise community awareness of sexual slavery. The program has evolved to include a multi-dimensional approach to end sex trafficking, including assisting victims, preventing sexual slavery, and advocating for better laws and enforcement.

It is estimated that nearly 21 million people are enslaved around the world. To learn more about the efforts of Attorney General Fox and the Montana Department of Justice to bring awareness to human trafficking and justice to its victims, click here.

STRONG PEOPLE PROGRAM New Session Begins January 5

Beginning January, 2016, the Dillon Strong Women™ Program became STRONG PEOPLE and welcomes men as well as women into the program. STRONG PEOPLE uses the same exercises that the Dillon Strong Women™ Program used previously.

The program will help participants look and feel better while increasing strength, bone density, and balance. Since 2010, when the program began locally, participants have reported improvement in all of these areas. It is a good program for people of all ages and activity levels.

Participants use ankle weights and dumbbells (all provided) in exercises done slowly, beginning with minimal weight and increasing the weight very gradually as the exercise repetitions seem easily completed.

The program is not for profit and leaders volunteer their time. A minimal fee of $20 per month is charged so equipment can be purchased and rent paid to the Elks Lodge. New participants are encouraged to try the program for two or more meetings before making any payments. If they choose to continue the program, the fees are charged at that time.

Currently the program is being run two days per week (Monday and Thursday) in sessions eight to 12 weeks long, after which participants have the opportunity to continue a maintenance program (no fee charged) until the next session begins. A new session begins Thursday, January 5, 2017, from 10:00 until 11:15 at the Dillon Elks Lodge, 27 E. Center St. All former and new participants (including men) are encouraged to attend. Wear comfortable clothing and closed toe footwear.

For further information contact Jeannette Pittman at 660-2777 (call or text) or Lois Volkening at 925-3774 (call or text).

CHRISTMAS HOLIDAY LAMENT

With a tip o' the hat and apologies to LaVon the poet.

Christmas is over;

I sure have gotten fat.

The wine and the mules

Is where the calories are at.

I sure do miss my fit, slimmer

Body of last summer.

To lose the fat means no alcohol,

And that really is a bummer.

Garth L. Haugland
4565 Hwy 41
Dillon, MT 59725

Residents of Beaverhead County:

It's with regret that I'm writing to inform you of my decision to resign the position as your Beaverhead County Commissioner - District #3 effective December 31st.

This wasn't an easy decision as I think of the County as my 2nd home.

My health issues have become too great for me to be able to fulfill the requirements and obligations of the position.

I feel it's best for me to make room for someone with the time and energy to devote to this job.

It's been an honor and privilege to serve and work with all of you this past 22 years.

I wish you all well and thank you.

Sincerely,

Garth L. Haugland
