JUNG TRIO - Violin, Cello, Piano

A wonderful sister trio, the JUNG TRIO, will grace the stage at Beier Auditorium on Tuesday, February 14, 2017 at 7:30 p.m.

Comprised of sisters Ellen (violin), Julie (cello) and Jennie (piano) and known professionally as the JUNG TRIO, this spectacular classical ensemble comes to Dillon as part of the Dillon Concert Association's concert series and is sponsored by Jim and Laurel Hagenbarth and an anonymous donor.

They have been awarded numerous prizes in major chamber music competitions and festivals and have been heard on a variety of classical radio and TV stations, not only in the United States, but in Canada and South Korea as well.

The Jung sisters are dedicated to helping serve their community and have organized several fundraising events including the Susan G. Komen foundation, a cause close to their hearts, and "Promise for Haiti", a benefit for children in Haiti.

Dillon Concert Association membership grants admission into all 2016-2017 performances. Single event tickets will be sold at the door: Adults - $15; College - $10; Student/Youth - $6.

For further information about this fine classical trio, please call Chris Kloker at 865-0076.

Montana Western's Athletic Director looks to future of Bulldog athletics

University of Montana Western's Athletic Director Russ Richardson recently returned from Dallas, Texas where he participated in a collegiate athletics health care summit.

The Interassociation Summit on the Organization and Administration of Athletics Health Care Services in the University Environment summit convened with the purpose of enhancing the organization and administration of health care services for intercollegiate student-athletes.

Richardson was responsible for representing the perspective of small colleges as they develop frameworks for appropriate staffing and service requirements, providing student-athlete health care and discussing administrative and organizational implications of ensuring independent medical care.

Richardson is no stranger to attending national summits, seminars and consulting all over the United States due to his decades of experience in the field of athletic training and intercollegiate athletics.

"We're fortunate to have someone with Russ's skill sets and expertise overseeing Bulldog athletics," Chancellor Beth Weatherby said. "The amount of lecture requests he receives speaks to his national reputation as an industry leader in athletic training and administering athletics in a higher ed setting."

Richardson, a Dillon native, graduated from Western Montana College (now Montana Western) in 1982 with a bachelor's in secondary education while majoring in athletic training and industrial arts. He began his career in athletic training at Reedley College in Reedley, Calif. and earned a master's in physical education from nearby California State University.

He moved to Spokane, Wash. in 1988, where he spent 23 years as Director of Athletic Training and Associate Professor of Health Sciences at Whitworth University.

During his time at Whitworth, Richardson served on numerous professional development boards and consulted with colleges across the country about their athletic training programs.

"My family and I greatly enjoyed our experience in Spokane and it was at Whitworth where I really began to develop and grow professionally," Richardson said. "I had a lot of opportunities to travel to other schools, both nationally and internationally, and provide my insights and perspectives on collegiate athletics. I was also able to learn a great deal from how other colleges and universities remain competitive and produce successful student-athletes, in and out of the classroom."

While in Eastern Washington, Richardson earned a Doctorate of Education with an emphasis in higher education administration from Washington State University in Pullman.

When he returned to Dillon in 2012 to accept an athletic trainer position at UMW, it was something of a long awaited homecoming for the born and raised southwest Montana kid who had spent 30 years away from home.

"From Fresno to Spokane, I had a great career doing what I love, but when the opportunity to return to Dillon and my alma mater presented itself, I jumped at the chance," Richardson said.

Richardson served as an athletic trainer until 2016 when he beat out national candidates to become UMW's next Director of Athletics.

"I'm blessed to be able to spend the latter part of my career as AD for the Montana Western Bulldogs," Richardson said. "The commitment of the Dillon community to upgrading and improving the student-athlete experience has been nothing short of remarkable. It's great to be home serving the students I care about in such an amazing place."

He said he is looking forward to the next chapter in Bulldog athletics, which includes "entering a new phase of excellence in athletics and academics." The athletic department has undergone a new marketing and rebranding effort that includes a revised bulldog mascot and logos. The changes will be unveiled during UMW's Spring Alumni Weekend in April, 2017.

Under Richardson's leadership the athletic department is also working on capital projects intended to update outdated athletic facilities.

"I'm pleased to be able to lead an effort to take Bulldog athletics to the next level," Richardson said. "Our athletes, fans and supporters deserve competitive teams in every sport and a first class experience whether on the playing field, court or in the stands."

Bulldogs Go Cold Late, Fall to Skylights 57-51

In a battle of two nationally ranked teams, The No. 22 ranked Montana Western Bulldogs fell to No. 11 MSU-Northern Skylights 57-51 Saturday night in the Straugh Gymnasium.

The two teams traded punches, and neither team could gain the uperhand as there were 16 lead changes and 13 ties in the contest.

Senior Aniese Palmore carried the Bulldogs against the Skylights, scoring a career high 29 points. However it wasn't enough, as the Bulldogs got out scored 11-2 in the final four minutes of a closely fought contest.

Once again poor free throw shooting hurt the Bulldogs as they went just 4-11 from the line.

Savanna Bignell scored nine points off the bench. She left the game midway through the fourth quarter, after taking a hard foul on a fast break. Kaye Bignell scored six points and had six rebounds.

Lights upset the Bulldogs

No. 13 ranked Montana Western Bulldogs fell to MSU-Northern Skylights 76-73 in controversial fashion Saturday night in the Straugh Gymnasium.

The Bulldogs fouled a Lights player near the three-point line, the player then took three steps and laid in an uncontested layup with 3.5 seconds left. Instead of shooting two free throws, the basket counted and the lights were awarded an and-1. The Lights escaped with a 76-73 upset win.

The Bulldogs could not stop the Lights as they shot 50 percent from the field and 50 percent from beyond the arc, hitting 15 of 30 three-point shots.

The Bulldogs didn't have a bad night either, shooting 43 percent from the field and 35 percent from downtown.

However they could stop the lights hot shooting hand, and had a hard time winning the loose ball battle.

Shyke Smalls scored a game high 23 points, Dom Robinson had 19 points. Kooper Kidgell had 17 points, and Marcus Payne added 10 points. Riley King had a game and career high 11 rebounds.

It will be held in the high school auditorium at 7:00 pm. Students will receive packets and instructions to sign up for classes for next year, as well as other important information that will help them transition from middle school to the high school. Students and parents, please don't miss out on this very important evening. Also, for those 8th grade graders hoping to enroll in the Honors English, or Biology as a freshman, the tests will be given on February 15th at 6:00 pm at the high school. Please check in to the BCHS office.

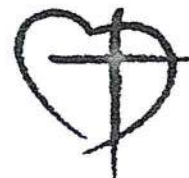

In girls' basketball, the trip to Butte East was mostly successful. The 7B team lost by 10 points, but the 7A team won by 12 points. Both the 8A and 8B each lost by one point. The girls all played well. Great job ladies. Then last Tuesday, the 7 and 8 B teams traveled to Deer Lodge. Although the 7th grade team was unable to pull off a win, the 8th grade team won by one point in a very exciting night of basketball. Congratulations girls.

Coming up this week in girls' basketball, the A teams will host Deer Lodge in the DMS gym for our famous "black out". We encourage all students, staff, and fans to wear black and cheer on our lady cougars to victory. 7A will play at 4:00 pm, followed by 8A at 5:00. Then tomorrow, Tuesday, February 7th, our teams will host Butte East in both gyms. 7th grade will play in the DMS gym, while 8th grade will play in the new gym. He only takes the best
A heart of gold stopped beating
Two shiny eyes at rest
God broke our hearts to prove to us
He only takes the best
God knows you had to leave us
But you didn't go alone
For part of us went with you
The day he took you home
To some you are forgotten
To others just part of the past
But to us who loved and lost you
The memory will always last.
