Attorney General Fox Encourages Montanans to Review On-Line Safety

Attorney General Tim Fox invites Montanans to join internet users and organizations across the United States and around the world to celebrate Safer Internet Day on February 7. This is the fifth year Safer Internet Day has been recognized in the United States, and Attorney General Fox is marking the occasion with a new public service announcement (PSA) detailing several ways to stay safe online.

"Today's technology keeps us constantly connected, whether we are on our computers at work, our tablets at home, or our smartphones when out and about," said Attorney General Tim Fox. "While that increased connectivity lets us do wonderful things like find highly-rated restaurants in new cities, or video-chat with our loved ones who live far away, it can also give scammers a point of access to our personal information and accounts."

The new PSA is designed to increase public awareness that a safe and positive internet experience depends on us all. Montana consumers can make a few simple adjustments to their online habits to make every day a safer internet day, including:

- Know who you're dealing with – ID thieves can pose as anyone online or over the phone. If you have doubts about the legitimacy of the person on the other end of the line, end the conversation and contact the organization in a way you trust, like calling them at the phone number listed on your billing statement, or on their website. Don't follow the link in a suspicious email.
- Take advantage of privacy settings – businesses, websites and apps often have different levels of account privacy and security to choose from. Learn what your choices are, and employ the setting you feel comfortable with.
- Think before you share – limit information that could be used to steal your identity or answer security questions on your accounts, such as your date and place of birth, a detailed work history and other personally identifying material. This applies to sites for business networking, too. Also refrain from posting status updates or photos that share your location, especially if you're out of town. You don't want to advertise that your house is unattended and make it a possible target for burglars.
- Report dangerous behavior – posts on social media run the gamut from light and funny to serious and personal. If someone is making aggressive posts or comments, or writing that he or she plans to commit an act of violence in real life, assess the situation. If you believe the threat is real and your or another person or people could be in danger, contact your law enforcement officials right away.
- Guard your personal information – credit card, bank account and social security numbers can be stolen online, or from documents your throw out. Shred or destroy any

Bulldogs Rally in Second Half, Defeat Carroll

The No.13 Montana Western Bulldogs moved within one game of the No.8 Carroll College Fighting Saints for first place with five games left to play, by beating the Saints 77-71 Tuesday night at the PE Center.

The Saints were able to jump out to an early lead and hold a seven point advantage heading into the intermission.

Then the Bulldogs came out firing, shooting 65 percent from the field in the second half and 55 percent for the game, including 67 percent from downtown. The Offensive outburst allowed the Bulldogs to take the lead with five minutes remaining. The Bulldogs were able to answer every challenge the Saints would throw at them in the waning moments of the game and allowed the Bulldogs to come away with their second victory over Carroll this season.

Zaccheus Darko-Kelly scored 17 points off the bench, going 5-5 from the field including 3-3 from beyond the arc, and a perfect 4-4 from the charity stripe.

Shyke Smalls and Kooper Kidgell each scored 16 points and Riley King and Dom Robinson scored 11 points apiece. Robinson scored seven of his points in the final 1:41 of the game, including a clutch three from way downtown, helping the Bulldogs seal the victory.

The Bulldogs travel to Billings, Mont. on Feb. 11 to take on the Battlin' Bears of Rocky Mountain College. Tip-off is set for 7:30 P.M.

ZONING COMMISSION CHANGES

By: Lynn Westad

Major changes made by Mayor at City Hall on Zoning Commission. The three most knowledgeable & qualified on the Zoning Commission were not reappointed. There are now 5 members and 2 places are vacant. Chair: Ray Graham, Members Erfle, Garry, Nye & Frank. Only one member has any experience. So there is little depth of knowledge with the members that are approving & denying Zoning Applications.

The Mayor makes the appointments so if you are interested send a letter to the Mayor and request to be appointed. The only requirement is to be a resident of the City or maybe not so much with this Mayor.

I expect we will see major rewrites of zoning soon and they will not be moving Dillon forward into today's world. I will agree that as the document has been worked improvements have been made fit Dillon and there are probably more. It is always a work in progress. But the demands I see being presented by the Mayor to the Commission is heading in the wrong direction. Zoning is to protect the public health, safety & welfare and the property investments of its owners. A loose & to flexible document will not provide that protection needed.

In the last Marge Jappe report on parking I saw many questions posed. The Zoning only regulates parking on land occupied by a residence or business. All the other questions posed for discussion are handled by the City Council and enforced by the Police Dept. The current ordinance that addresses parking on public right-of-ways (streets & alleys) is Title 10 which is before the council Feb. 1st. to approve changes.

In Zoning downtown the parking requirement may be an exception because of the physical layout of the downtown area. Each application will be reviewed and a decision will be made on its individual situation. We need the good parking requirements in place when a major use change occurs or new development comes in like IGA & Dairy Queen so they have adequate parking for the use of the land and don't create new parking problems.

For that matter a lot of parking problems in downtown have been relieved by the parking lot on Montana St. Others unfortunately have resolved due to downsizing of employees and closed empty buildings. Keep a close eye on this subject it may effect you soon.

WHAT GOES ON BEHIND CLOSED DOORS?

An opinion piece on how our elected County Commissioner officials are really elected?

What is the status on county Commission?

Who are the applicants? Also who are the elites choosing our elected (?) Commisioner?

Soon there will be (3) three sitting commissioners who never received a vote from registered voters to first hold this position.

3 Commissioners or is it 3 Kings? What happened to elections? Just what goes on behind closed doors?

Ted Ruttenbur

Bulldogs Run Past the Saints, Sweep Season Series

Back in December the Montana Western Bulldogs won for the first time in Helena in 11 years, it only took them two months to do it again. The Bulldogs blew out the Carroll College Fighting Saints 61-43, to complete the three-game season sweep.

The Bulldogs feisty defense took the fight out of the Saints, holding them to 3-25 shooting, four points in first quarter, and 11 for the half. The Bulldogs took full advantage of the Saints poor shooting and turnovers, building a 21 point lead at the break.

The preverbal lid came off the basket in the second half, as the Saints were finally able to get shots to fall, shooting 13-40 in the second. But the Bulldogs were able to withstand any rally by the Saints and coasted to an easy victory.

The Bulldogs shot 39 percent from the field for the game, and 50 percent from downtown. The Bulldogs made 17 of 19 from the charity stripe.

Aniese Palmore led the Bulldogs with 19 points, eight rebounds and five assists. Kaye Bignell scored 16 points and grabbed seven boards.

The Bulldogs travel to Billings, Mont. on Feb. 11 to take on the Battlin' Bears of Rocky Mountain College. Tip-off is set for 5:30 P.M.

Announcing the return of
DILLON PUBLIC LIBRARY'S

BOOKS AND BABIES

Early literacy program

Books and Babies is a program designed for children, newborn to 36 months, and their parent(s) or caregiver(s). We will pack a half hour with songs, rhymes, hand and word play, action and FUN! An introduction to literature begins at a very early age through nursery rhymes, songs, and stories. The activities in this half hour will contribute to your baby or toddler's language development and early literacy skills. This time spent with parents and other infants is also a great time for the children to socialize and learn how to get along with others.

Every Thursday morning
10:00 – 11:00 am

This program will occur every Thursday through May of 2017. There may be some cancellations, but we make every effort to let you know about those ahead of time.

Library Basement Programming Room

Please use East Glendale entrance.

What is Early Literacy?

Early literacy is what children know about reading and writing before they can actually read and write. Research shows that children get ready to read long before they start school. You can help your child learn important skills now so they can become good readers later.

Want to learn more? Brochures are available at Dillon Public Library on stages of early literacy – babies, toddlers and preschoolers. Or visit Montana State Library's Ready 2 Read website at:

http://ready2readmontana.org

ALL LIBRARY EVENTS ARE FREE AND OPEN TO THE PUBLIC!
