Fiddle Music at the Old Depot Theater

For the 34th year, on February 18th and 19th, the Dillon Fiddle Contest, hosted by the Dillon Junior Fiddlers, will bring outstanding music to Dillon. From throughout the Northwest, Fiddlers will come to compete in a contest in categories representing all age groups of musicians from preschool through seniors. This year's judges are Isaac Callendar and Hannah King. King, a former Dillon Junior Fiddler, lives in Jackson, Wyoming. Her titles include 3 Montana State Championships, 2 time winner of the Rocky Mountain Regional Contest, a second at the National Fiddle Contest in Weiser, ID, in the Junior Division in 2013 and Young Adult National Champion in 2014. Callendar currently resides in Great Falls and holds an impressive array of titles, as well. He has been 2nd at the Grand Masters contest in Tennessee, 2nd in Weiser, ID, and holds state titles for Montana and Washington as well as NW Regionals in Spokane. The judges will not only be working hard at the contest, but will delight the audience with their music at the Saturday Evening concert and Variety Show.

The contest site is The Old Depot Theater on S. Montana ST, at the western end of the Beaverhead County Museum campus. Contest sessions begin at 9:00 a.m. both Saturday and Sunday, with a lunch break each day. Tickets for the contest, which include eligibility to win one of several exciting door prizes, are available from any Dillon Junior Fiddler and the following area businesses: The Bookstore, Sweetwater Coffee, The Beaverhead County Museum, and Beacon Business Center in Sheridan, MT. Tickets cost $10 per person and include both days for that price. A discount will be available for families with children and teens. The Saturday night Concert and Variety Show will also be held at The Old Depot Theater and will cost $5 per person. Door prizes will be drawn on Sunday and winners need not be present to win.

Other events that round out the contest are an informal jam at Los Koritas between 6 and 8 pm on Friday night, Feb. 17th, and a silent auction with items on display Saturday until the show intermission is over.

The Dillon Fiddle Contest is the biggest annual fundraiser for the Dillon Junior Fiddlers with proceeds going to pay for half scholarships to the Montana State Fiddle Camp in Monarch, MT. This gives the young fiddlers opportunities to study with teachers of national acclaim in a variety of musical styles. Members of the group will attest to the enthusiasm and musical growth that the camp generates. This year, with increased membership, the total for half scholarships needed could cost approximately $4500.

WRESTLING TEAM FINISHES 10th

The Beavers mat men as a team took 10th place. The Dillon boys did have two state titles come home and they were Brent Tezak at 152 pounds and Patrick Griffin at 170 pounds. Tezak came back in the extra time period on a mission to end with the win. He had been called for a stall penalty at the end of the pervious period and came out in a matter of seconds and got the sudden takedown. Griffin won by a pin in 3:36 repeating his championship again this year. Other points came from Kwin Stoddard with fifth place and a fall, Cooper Hoffman in fifth place who won by decision.

BEAVERS BASKETBALL

Dillon boys improve to 16-0 with the win over Hamilton 50-41 on the road Saturday. Tanner Haverfield had a game high 19 points. The Beavers were helped by Troy Andersen who put up 12 points, Kyson Wilson added 11, Michael Haverfield had 6, and Andrew Lemiex and Clay Allison each had 1.

Bulldogs Fall to Rocky Mountain College

The No.13 Montana Western Bulldogs fell to Rocky Mountain College 80-72 Saturday night at the Fortin Center. The Bulldogs fell in close game to Rocky. The Bulldogs were able to weather the storm and cut the lead to just one heading into the half. Western managed to take a three point lead with 14 minutes remaining in the second half. But were unable to build upon it, let alone maintain it, as Rocky stormed back and held a 10 point lead for most of the game.

Howlett Sinks Game Winner, Bulldogs Defeat Rocky 67-64

The No.22 Montana Western Bulldogs completed a 14 point second half comeback, when Taylor Howlett banked in a three-point shot with 4 seconds remaining to beat Rocky Mountain College 67-64 Saturday night.

The Bulldogs, who trailed by as many as 14 points in the second half, were able to chip away at the Rocky lead in the fourth quarter. Two huge three-pointers from Sierra Bignell and Cierra Lamey in the final 51 seconds gave the Bulldogs life and the comeback was on.

The Bulldogs were able to shut down Rocky in the fourth and hold them to 10 points, outscoring them by 11. With the win, the Bulldogs moved into second place in the Frontier Conference with four games remaining.

Lamey tied a career high 16 points and hit four three-point shots, to lead the Bulldogs in scoring. She also had six rebounds.

GIVE THEM A BREAK! FWP URGES SHED HUNTERS TO HOLD OFF UNTIL SPRING

Winter can be a tough time for us humans, whether struggling with a pesky cold or digging out from the latest snowstorm. Now imagine what it's like for Montana's elk population. It's an especially stressful time for elk, with deep snow and limited food options. That's why Montana Fish, Wildlife and Parks is asking shed hunters and other recreationists to give elk their space until the snow melts and the animals are less stressed.

Shed hunting has become increasingly popular in recent years and more competitive. In some cases, that has led individuals to try to get a head start by running elk through trees to break off antlers or to trespass on Montana's Wildlife Management Areas where elk find sanctuary this time of year (most do not open until noon on May 15). Both are illegal.

Snowmobilers, skiers, and snowshoers should avoid areas where elk are bedded down. It is safest to admire them at a distance.

Finally, many elk often come down to lowlands and might be found near homes. It's critical that dogs be kept on a leash when elk are present. Dogs can cause serious injury or kill animals much larger than themselves. The stress of a chase alone can eventually lead to the death of the animal. And of course, pets can be injured or killed while attempting to take down an animal big or small. Dog owners might be cited for permitting a dog to harass wildlife.

Letter to the Editor

I'm not sure which rock Mr. Ruttenbur has been under, but the last time I looked both Commissioner McGinley and Commissioner Rice were elected to their positions.

Only when Garth Haugland, Commissioner, resigned did the current commissioners look to fill his seat until the next election. They are following the Montana Code in their efforts. Because Garth was an Independent they could have just pulled someone off the street and asked that person to be the third commissioner. However, they have formed a commission of nine people, 7 elected officials plus a Republican and a Democrat to interview and refer 3 people of the 9 who applied to the Commissioners. The Commissioners will choose one person who must run for the position at the next general election.

Mr. Plutt has articles in each weekly Dillon Tribune that explain and follow this process.

Very truly yours,
Lynn Giles

Letter to the Editor

Because I was undecided on which way to vote on the bond issue to improve some buildings and replace others at BCHS, I decided to take Gary Haverfield up on the offer of a tour of the facilities and give me an exact quote of my tax increase.

The tour showed me the need, and my share would only be $75 total per year on my 3 properties. A good investment.

I voted yes.

I highly recommend voters take the tour and have Mr. Haverfield give you a quote, then decide.

Wade Hansen
