The Big Muddy Western Series

The Big Sky Cinema, located in Dillon, Montana proudly presents the red carpet premier of the Big Muddy Western Series Saturday, February 18th at 10 am. Cast and crew, their families and friends are invited to attend. There are nearly 100 local folks involved in the series that Stan casted over the length of the production. Also, there will be an official wrap party held at the Elks Lodge held from 4 pm to midnight. Please come and celebrate your part in this special series filmed entirely in the beautiful Dillon area.

While 2016 is behind him, executive producer Stan Smith looks forward to another successful year of film and television production. Smith, a businessman has been involved in the film industry since 1979.

Stan Smith reveals his artistic side by utilizing his painting, drawings and award winning photography to create a beautiful line in fashion wear. Smith recently signed on as a designer for Vida and Co. Design Studio located in Paris, France. Smith is an inspiration to the fashion industry.

Stan comes from a longtime ranch family in Beaverhead County. Proud father of two and Grandfather of nine, with one on the way! His roots run deep in beautiful Dillon, Montana, as well as his work in Hollywood since 1979.

Smith has managed the Big Sky Cinema for 33 years. He owns and operates the Smith Park Stables and is very involved in his community. Beaverhead County Museum, Kiwanis, CASA Voice for the Children and White Hat Coalition, among others. He was recently featured in a new book release "Shot in Montana". A story on the history of Big Sky Cinema, written by Montana Author, Brian D'Ambrosio.

Montana's Bannock State Park is a historical ghost town that has benefited greatly with Smith's involvement in film production. The Big Muddy, Ballad of Lefty Brown, Expedition Unknown and others have been filmed there. As an actor, Smith starred as the title character in the short film, Ballad of Jack Slade, Black Jack Garnett in Money Blood and Tombstone, the second installment of the Big Muddy Western Series and most recently traveled to Los Angeles to portray the owner of a 1979 Hollywood disco, in a yet to be titled drama.

Acting comes natural for Stan Smith and his skills include coordinating and performing stunts for films, television and commercials such as Xanadu, Far and Away, all of the Lonesome Dove mini series and subsequent series, Busch Beer, Chevy Trucks, Marlboro and modeling.

Smith also coordinated stunts for the "Battle of the Big Horn Documentary", Contested Ground under the direction of director Chris Hoffert.

Smith took some time to care for family and returned to film making, his true passion, starting with the Bannock episode of Ghost Adventures and filming a documentary on horseback about trailing cattle.

In 2014 Smith began modeling once again for renowned photographer, Judy Host and began a two year project with a fellow film maker named Chris Hoffert, Director of the Big Muddy series.

Stan has produced several short films and feature films during the last few years, along with several productions and USO show performances. Stan was a producer of the Montana made horror film, "Flesh and Blood", and is currently a producer and script writer for the fantasy web series, Tales of Synthina.

Smith has been working on a 6 year Montana Production, Saving for the Day and The Tinderbox filmed in Butte, Montana. All the while, a 2 year production of The Big Muddy.

Since December 2015, Stan has been involved in 11 productions in Montana. As the casting director for the Big Muddy and assisting in the casting for The Ballad of Lefty Brown ,episodes of Expedition Unknown and Ghost Adventures, Stan has brought many Montana residents in on these films and TV shows.

Letter to the Editor

Where are we now as a nation?

In 1787 when the original 13 states adopted our new constitution, a Scottish history professor named Alexander Tyler had this to say concerning the fall of the Athena Republic 2,000 years earlier. He stated democracy is always temporary in nature and cannot exist as a permanent form of government. He further elaborated, a democracy will continue to exist up to the time voters discover they can vote themselves generous gifts from the public treasury. From that moment on, the majority will always vote for the candidate who promises the most benefits. What is the final outcome? Every democracy will ultimately collapse due to loose fiscal policy. Our government cannot give things out from the public treasury if it has no money. If they do, they either borrow the money from other countries or print the money. We the taxpayers stand good for it.

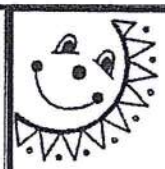

The average age of the world's greatest civilizations as written by Alexander Tyler is around 200 years. These nations always progressed through the following sequences: From bondage to spiritual faith to great courage to liberty to abundance to complacency to apathy to dependency, back into bondage.

So, where are we now as a nation? Is America on the path towards a collapsing democracy? Sadly yes! Here are my other concerns:

1. Major universities and colleges providing "healing spaces" with Legos, coloring books, dog therapy - just because the presidential election didn't go their way. What type of leaders will this generation be when running the government, operating a business, teaching our children?
2. Renegade mayors of "Sanctuary Cities" harboring illegals, ignoring the government's illegal immigration policy.
3. People demonstrating because our government instituted a moratorium banning people from terrorist countries whose mission is to destroy this country. For the disenchanted....get a clue! Have you seen the immigration crises in Europe?
4. We have an entire generation or two who have no idea what is written in the Constitution, the Bill of Rights, and the Declaration of Independence. Did you know these historical documents were written

Under A Rock:? Mrs. Giles,
Do I have to spell it out for you.

Mr. McGinley was "appointed" to the County Commission when Neal Cherry who was elected, desided to resign, he used health issues to resign his elected position. After the term was up. Then and only then was McGinley elected.(I can tell you more).

Mr. Rice was "appointed" to the County Commission when Donna Sevalstad, who was elected, resigned, talk to me I will tell you more on this one. After filling out Donna's term, then Mr. Rice was elected to the postion.

Garth was ill, but he was re-elected, then resigned due to health. Bingo, Another "appointment", 3rd one to get on the County Commission.

I wrote my letter after phoning a Commissioner and not getting all of my questions answered, I could not control when it ran. Prior to that time, not even a map of the area Garth represented was put in the Dillon newspaper.

I hope that this clarifies your under a rock comment.
