Do Obituaries Really Have To Be Polite?

Tyrades! by Danny Tyree

"The evil that men do lives after them; the good is oft interred with their bones." ---- William Shakespeare.

The story went viral, so you've likely heard of the 74-year-old Texas man whose death emboldened his embittered daughter (against the advice of the funeral director) to post a scathing online obituary that catalogued his myriad shortcomings as a father and human being.

The obvious question now is "Will this be a News of The Weird FLUKE, or the beginning of a TREND of brutal honesty -- gray print merges with 'The Jerry Springer Show'?"

Of course members of Polite Society are aghast that this story might inspire others to coarsen our culture and tamper with the genteel way dirt naps have "always" been tiptoed around. Just as an insincere congressman can defer to "the distinguished gentleman from South Carolina," we're supposed to give the deceased a glowing (or at least neutral) send-off, even if the consensus of 97 percent of scientists is that they demonstrably weren't worth the dynamite it would take to blow them up. This pattern is carried out because...well, just because.

It goes along with the old pious paradigm of "If you can't say something nice about someone, don't say anything at all ---- because the irrepressible scamp may come at you with a switchblade."

Perhaps the "prim and proper" folks should donate funds so likely-to-be-trashed sociopaths can afford to arrange retorts to be published posthumously. ("I'm ashes and you're glue. Whatever you say about me bounces off and...ah, skip it.")

Yeah, yeah, it's supposedly unsporting to kick someone while they're down. Maybe Uncle John should've realized when he was DROWNING KITTENS that someday HE would be the one vulnerable and deceased.

Philosophically speaking, if there is no afterlife, the taunts can't hurt the un-dearly departed. Or, if the deceased goes to The Bad Place, the critiques are the least of his worries. If he someone reaches the Good Place, he can chuckle and forgive the venting.

Many people find the standard obituary template (birth and death dates, survivors, employment history, etc.) to be claustrophobically bland. They pay for a more personalized tribute a week or two after the bare-bones death notice, so maybe we could have a two-tiered system for negative obituaries, to allow for a "cooling off" period. ("Okay, I'm back on my meds now. I wrote WHAT about Aunt Geraldine? Boy, is my face red!")

I understand your trepidations about slippery slopes. Justifiable denunciations of wife beating or substance abuse might eventually open the door to nitpicky dissing of more subjective behaviors. ("Sure, my father won six medals in Operation Desert Storm; but I'll bet his comrades would have bayoneted him if they had heard the way he slurped soup.")

And yes, it would be ideal to have some FACT CHECKERS for the more incendiary obituaries; but, frankly, I'm glad if a warts-and-all obituary can bring a wronged person closure, catharsis or peace of mind. I would rather their bottled up emotions get released against an urn on the mantel than against my Chevy S10 when I'm slowing the progress of their 18-wheeler.

Ultimately, aren't we being less than totally honest when we claim that decent people NEVER speak ill of the dead? I don't hear many (sane) people chirping, "Give Hitler credit for making Anne Frank famous. What a Hollywood agent he could've made!"

LADY BEAVERS STING YELLOWJACKETS

The Dillon Lady Beavers stung the Yellowjackets in Hamilton on Thursday afternoon with an end score of 52-21. The Beavers move on to play at 4:45 Friday while Stevensville moves to the loser out bracket and plays against Frenchtown at 8 am.

The Beavers had a long dry spell in the 1st half but it was a different game and changed for the better in the 2nd half. The Beavers had some great passes under the basket.

The usual double digit shooters for the Beavers were shout out and others stepped out for the team. The Beavs couldn't seem to miss a basket towards the end of the game. They were 11 out of 22 in the second from the floor and 8 out of 10 in the 2nd 1/2 from the stripe. Yellowjackets kept some life with free throws at the end of the game.

Brynley Fitzgerald had 6 points, Paige Rouse 4 and 7 rebounds, Bailey Berriochoa did well and had 5 rebounds, Jordyn McKay added 4 points, Kelsy Truman put up 8, Kylie Christiansen, Kathleen Tatarka and Savannah Hildreth all contributed points and Kyndall Peterson had a great game.

Results were not available from the boys game at press time.

Children's Advocacy Centers Honored by Attorney General Tim Fox

Attorney General Tim Fox recognized the Children's Advocacy Centers in Montana who have achieved accreditation or re-accreditation with the National Children's Alliance. The newly accredited CACs are located in Bozeman, Havre, and the Ft. Peck Reservation, which is the first accredited CAC located on a Montana tribal reservation. Recently re-accredited Children's Advocacy Centers are located in Hamilton and Missoula.

At a press conference attended by representatives from the CACs and area legislators, Attorney General Fox said, "Sadly, the need for programs to help Montana children victimized by crime or abuse has increased in recent years. Fortunately, these three new Children's Advocacy Centers, in addition to two who have achieved re-accreditation, are staffed by specially trained professionals who stand ready to meet the needs of children traumatized by crime and abuse in their communities. The efforts of these multi-disciplinary teams are crucial to ensuring hope and recovery are possible for young victims served by these centers, and the Montana Department of Justice is committed to continued support of this vitally important work."

In 2016, over 1,700 Montana children victimized by crime or abuse were served by a nationally accredited children's advocacy center, or a trained multidisciplinary team in their community, compared to over 1,200 children served in 2014. The centers and teams all receive training and technical support from the Montana Department of Justice. Through these programs, children receive forensic interviews, mental health and medical care, and victim advocacy for their families.

Brenda George, Executive Director of the Children's Alliance of Montana, said, "The Attorney General's Office of the Department of Justice, in particular the Children's Justice Bureau, is an indispensable partner for the Children's Alliance of Montana by providing resources and training to CACs to become nationally accredited, empowering professionals to provide the highest standard of services to children who are victims of abuse in Montana."

There are 10 rigorous standards a CAC must meet to achieve accreditation. Each of these standards is based upon evidence-based best practices. Attorney General Fox added that although each of the standards is equally weighted and important, Montana is particularly proud of its success in meeting the multidisciplinary team standard and demonstrating that professional teamwork is what helps children and families. Multidisciplinary teams include victim advocates, child protection workers, medical and mental health professionals, law enforcement officers, and prosecutors.

Montana is home to 10 nationally accredited CACs.

UNDERSTANDING THE CONSTITUTION

The Beaverhead Forum is proud to present Understanding the United States Constitution.

The U.S. Constitution is historically unique because it gives unprecedented power to the people. Learn your rights and how to uphold the American Republic.

The program will start at 7:pm, Monday, Feb. 27 at City Hall.

Let a smile be your weapon

Want to create a kinder, better world? It can be done with simple, everyday acts, such as:

- Leave some things unsaid. Don't shoot from the lip.
- Lighten up. find the funny side of a situation.
- Give an unexpected kiss... or warm hug.
- Say, "You look wonderful," and mean it.
- Say, "Good morning," even if it isn't.
- Mail an unexpected and caring letter to an old friend.
- Place a surprise phone call. Tell the other person the good thoughts about them you've had in your heart.
- Wash the dishes when it's not your turn.
- Take the trash out when it's not your turn.
- Make coffee at your office – for your secretary.
- Visit an elderly shut-in.
- Talk with a lonely child. Be there for a kid who needs a caring adult.
- Keep a confidence.
- Squeeze the toothpaste tube from the bottom.
- Share a funny story with someone whose spirits are dragging.
- Allow someone to make a mistake. Allow ourself several mistakes.

Community Economic Development Strategy
Beaverhead County 2017
Headwaters Resource Conservation Development

We are updating our Comprehensive Economic Development Strategy (CEDS), the only region-wide economic development plan for Southwest Montana, and are looking for public input to help craft the document and guide local decision makers. The final document will include a list of action items that our organization and your community will strive to achieve to help create and retain jobs, attract and retain new businesses and grow the economy or our amazing region.

Your input is important. Please look over these questions and send your ideas (via hard copy or e-mail) to the Headwaters RC&D address below. Thanks …

1. What is the biggest economic challenge facing your community?

2. What is the best opportunity for economic growth in your community?

3. What are the three biggest needs for economic growth in your community?

4. Do you have any other comments you would like to be brought up in the plan?

Send you ideas to:

Do You Know the Truth...Who is the Jesus of the Bible? (#31)

----We believe the following: (1) the Bible was given by the inspiration of God as stated in 2 Timothy 3:16-17; (2) all statements made in this and any ensuing articles will be based on what the Bible says; (3) the Bible only is the reliable source of spiritual & doctrinal truth; (4) all beliefs in conflict with Biblical teachings are false.---

As stated above, the Bible is the only reliable source of information regarding Jesus Christ. Any sources in conflict with the Bible are false.

The Bible states that Jesus Christ was born of a Virgin & conceived by the Holy Ghost, "Now the birth of Jesus was on this wise (in this manner): When as his mother Mary was espoused (engaged) to Joseph, before they came together, she was found with child of the Holy Ghost...and they shall call his name Immanuel, which being interpreted is, God with us," Matthew 1:18 & 23b. This is the fulfillment of the prophecy given by God in Isaiah 7:14, "Therefore the Lord himself shall give you a sign; Behold, a virgin shall conceive, and bear a son, and shall call his name Immanuel."

Note the following scriptures stating that the Jesus of the Bible is the Savior of mankind, "For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Savior, which is Christ the Lord," Luke 2:11.

He is the ONLY Savior, "Jesus said unto him, I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man comes to the Father, but by me," John 14:6.

There is NO OTHER Savior, "Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby ye must be saved," Acts 4:12.

Conclusion: Those who trust in something or someone other than the virgin born Son of God for the salvation of their soul will die in a state of condemnation. Those who die in that condition will not be taken to the glories of heaven when their life on earth comes to an end.
