A "Real" Silent Movie Experience

The Old Depot Theater will host a step back in time to when we watched the silent silver screen to the sound of live piano or theater organ music. On Saturday, April 1st, Sarah Thurmond will be tinkling the ivories with ragtime accompaniment through three Charlie Chaplin movies. There will be two show times available, one at 3:00 pm and one at 6:00 pm. The Master of Ceremonies for the occasion will be Stan Smith. Admission costs $7 with tickets available at the Beaverhead County Museum and at the door. The schedule for the 3:00 pm show is: Musical Tramp, The Adventurer, Sunnyside and, after a short break, A Dog's Life. The 6:00 schedule will be The Idle Class, The Immigrant and after the break, a Buster Keaton & Fatty Arbuckle Film, Out West.

Thurmond has been playing piano since she was 4 years old. Her love of Ragtime music stems from having a player piano in her home as a child. She grew up on a farm in Illinois where practicing her piano meant getting out of a few chores. "We had a television," says Thurmond, "but my dad wouldn't let us watch it. As a result I did practice. My teacher, Gayle Dobbins, was able to encourage playing in Classical as well as Ragtime styles and I was able to use my Ragtime pieces at our recital. I went on to study graphic design which I also love, but the Old Depot Theater is the perfect place to return to my Ragtime roots." Thurmond, known in Dillon by some as "the pizza gal", is the owner of a portable wood-fired pizza trailer. For more information about this fun movie experience call 406-683-5027 or 406-925-2348.

opinion, is probably more adequate, in fact it's going to be a big lift, but again, these are valuable projects to Montana. The Senate Bill's sponsor, Republican Senator Eric Moore, as myself, generally aren't in favor of big government spending, but called this a decision made because of some "good timing." We have interest rates at historic lows. If we pass this bill, because we haven't passed a bonding bill in the last three or four sessions, our annual expense to service these bonds is decreasing dramatically.

In order for Senator Moore's proposal to be signed into law, is to pass through the Senate before Friday, but I'm very aware of the criticism its price tag could invite.

Having said that, I appreciate Senator Moore actually offering a workable solution. It's frustrating when oftentimes, too many people say no to workable solutions like this, when they simply don't have alternative plans to offer. Let's at least have the conversation, we owe at least that much to the folks that elect each of us.

Shifting gears, a little bit lets talk about craft breweries and what we are proposing to help them grow, without harming the all beverage licensees (tavern owners) in the process. Brewers across Montana face a unique and arcane obstacle that is holding back the industry - the 10,000 barrel production cap. This arbitrary cap stifles growth and punishes success. It is limiting the potential for the industry to create Montana jobs, and also sell their beer into a more regional marketplace. A bipartisan effort is underway to fix this problem, and allow Montana breweries to grow.

House Bill 541, sponsored by Rep. Adam Hertz raises the limit to 60,000 barrels, allowing breweries to grow without losing their taproom. The Montana House passed the bill on a vote of 85-14, now it moves to the Senate, for our consideration. There are still some things that could be done to help the small brewers with their ability to operate in a manner more to their liking, which I usually support, but these changes are a collaborative process, and take time to gather adequate support.

Senator Jeff Welborn's Weekly Report HELENA:

This week as we will be deliberating on the State's budget, another push for Montana's vital infrastructure needs, also has to happen this week, as the 65th state legislature rolls on toward another deadline.

Friday marks the last day for revenue bills to be approved by both the house and the senate, so where does Montana stand to adopt a new bonding bill for its many infrastructure needs? Governor Bullock has once again been pushing for his own version of infrastructure to be passed in 2017, after the notorious story of Montana's legislature failing to pass an infrastructure bonding bill in 2015; that bill missed passage by one single vote.

The failure to reach a conclusion drew frustrations from Republican and Democratic leaders alike, but legislators from both sides of the have manned bills this year to reach a compromise. Representative Jim Keane, a Butte Democrat, who acted as the original sponsor for Governor Bullock's massive infrastructure bill this year, told me recently that his original bill has now been split into multiple parts.

Plenty of projects are already gaining cash support, as they do every session, but there are a number of other projects that need additional support to pass legislative approval

Those projects include:

- Montana State University's Romney Hall
- Southwestern Montana Veterans' Homes in Butte
- Montana State University Billings science and technology building addition.

The newly proposed House version the infrastructure Bill, priced at $33 million, doesn't include any of these projects.

The proposed Senate Bill, priced at $98 million, in my

Barrett Hospital & HealthCare Named 2017 Top 100 Critical Access Hospital

Barrett Hospital & HealthCare in Dillon, Montana was recently named one of the Top 100 Critical Access Hospitals in the United States by iVantage Health Analytics and The Chartis Center for Rural Health.

"This achievement is very gratifying and validates our daily commitment to providing the best health care possible to our community, while maintaining an efficient and effective facility," said Ken Westman, CEO.

Barrett Hospital & HealthCare scored in the top 100 of Critical Access Hospitals on iVantage Health Analytics' Hospital Strength INDEX®. The INDEX is the industry's most comprehensive rating of rural providers. It provides the data foundation for the annual Rural Relevance Study and its results are the basis for many of rural healthcare's most prominent awards, advocacy efforts and legislative initiatives. The list of the Top 100 Critical Access Hospitals and more information about the study can be found at www.iVantageINDEX.com.

The Top 100 Critical Access Hospitals play a key role in providing a safety net to communities across America – and the INDEX measures them across eight pillars of hospital strength: Inpatient Share Ranking, Outpatient Share Ranking, Cost, Charge, Quality, Outcomes, Patient Perspectives, and Financial Stability.

"It's more important than ever that rural hospitals proactively understand and address performance in the areas of cost, quality, outcomes and patient perspective. iVantage's INDEX was designed to serve as this industry model," said Michael Topchik, national leader of the Chartis Center for Rural Health. "Across the spectrum of performance indicators, there are rural providers that are writing the blueprint for success as they transition to value-based healthcare. Our analysis shows that this group of top performers exhibits a focused concern for their community needs."

Barrett Hospital & HealthCare has been serving the community of Dillon and surrounding areas since 1923. With a wide array of service lines and an impressive group of medical staff, we are pleased to offer high-quality healthcare to our community members throughout life's journey.

Beaverhead Animal Shelter fundraiser

A note from Susie: In preparing for our annual fundraiser this year, to be held on Friday, April 28, the Beaverhead Animal Shelter is asking for new and gently used items and/or antique kind of items for the auction. If you feel that your items are auctionable, we will feel that way too. Any help you can give us would be great. Pick up service is available, call 406-683-8119. Please help us help them by having the funds to keep up with daily bills, food, and veterinary care. Thank you so much for your donations and continued financial assistance.
