Sears, Kmart, Malls: My New Worry List

Tyrades! by Danny Tyree

My wife and I met on a blind date at a Bonanza restaurant in a nearby shopping mall nearly 32 years ago, so it was dismaying to drop in on the same mall on a recent Saturday afternoon. Store after store was unoccupied, customers were few and far between and a general "ghostly" ambience prevailed.

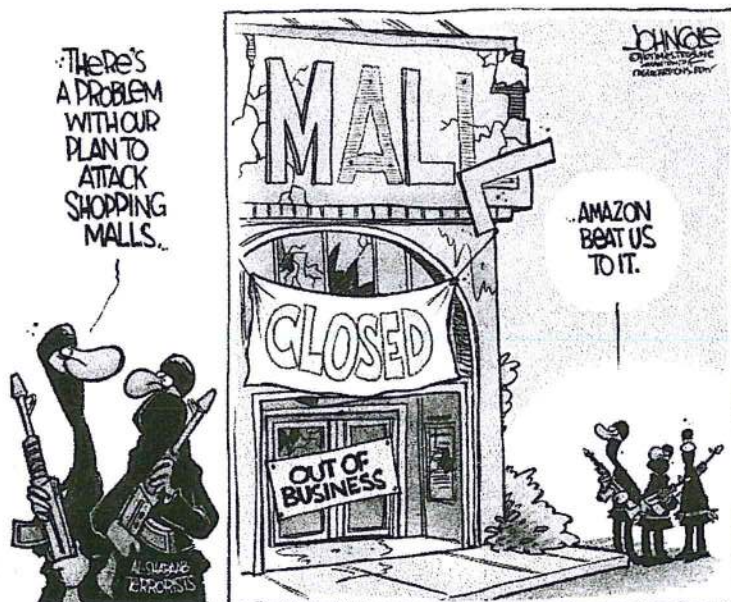

Alas, our experience is not unique. According to USA Today, many of the nation's less affluent communities have seen their malls and shopping centers underutilized or closed, because of competition from discount outlets, standalone "big box" stores or online retailers. Analysts say 25 percent of remaining malls are in danger of losing traffic-driving anchor stores such as Macy's, Sears or J.C. Penney.

"Selfies" have made the iconic mall photo booth obsolete. Apps that let you "swipe left" are much easier than hanging out at the mall to watch for potential dates. Those quarter-gobbling mechanical horses have been shipped to a slaughterhouse in Canada. The "food court" is now just a scruffy guy in a black robe using a corn dog for a gavel.

Sure, some intrepid souls keep going to the mall to walk, window shop or purchase obscure items. And, yes, other old habits die hard. ("Here, hold my purse while I search online for shoes.") But malls have certainly seen better days.

The USA Today report on malls in general was paired with an article reciting the woes of Sears in particular. The 131-year-old institution recently warned investors of "substantial doubt" about its ability to stay afloat.

I have fond memories of going to the (long-closed) local Sears catalog store to see Santa Claus, and of perusing my mother's 1969 reproduction of the Sears 1902 catalog, so I'm sorry to hear of the financial difficulties.

Some Sears executives remain optimistic. ("Ha! I wish I had a nickel for every time someone has predicted the death of Sears. No, seriously, dude. I need the nickels. And any dimes you find in the sofa cushions...")

Another proud Sears leader waxed philosophical, advising, "When life hands you lemons, make lemonade. Of course Amazon will probably find a way to sell the lemonade cheaper and deliver it by drone..."

(Sears sister-company Kmart is contemplating changing the "blue light special" to the "going toward the light" special.)

Sears has already reaped $900 million by selling its Craftsman tool line to Stanley Black & Decker. They may buy more time by spinning off other popular brands such as Kenmore appliances and DieHard automotive supplies. ("And we can spin off 'The Jeffersons' and 'Joanie Loves Chachi' and...no, wait...")

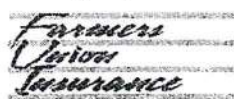

Mall owners are gamely trying to reinvent themselves, renting space to media production companies, specialty grocers and military recruiters. ("The few...the proud...the indignant because their GPS malfunctioned and brought them to this heckhole...")

Maybe someday preservationists will spring up to save malls -- the way campaigns are currently waged to revitalize courthouse squares. But the decline of malls is just "circle of life" stuff. Automobiles made people less dependent on peddlers and country stores. Later, malls made downtown shopping districts dry up.

Maybe in another generation we'll be on to the Next Big Shopping Trend. Perhaps we'll all be plugged into the Matrix and IMAGINING that we're sitting at our keyboards ordering online. ("Imaginary husband, hold my purse while I FLY to the refrigerator to get some snacks for Round Two of e-commerce!")

Special Report from.....LaVon D. Brillhart

Next Saturday is April first. Which means April Fools Day. Here are some April Fools Day Facts.

47 million dollars was spent on a study why some buffalo don't roam but just seem to mosey around. This study took five years and the taxpayers got buffaloed.

37 million dollars was spent on an investigation where Dr. Pepper received his Doctor degree. It was discovered that Dr. Pepper was and is an impostor. Many authorities said he should be put on ice.

25 million dollars was spent on a study showing people with bad breath is far superior to people with no breath. Scientists said this was an important study but some said the entire study stinks.

41 million dollars was spent on a study. Why is it if you talk to yourself, they say funny things about you and you are just not right. But if you sing by yourself and to yourself you are a very artistic person and a happy person. Part of the study was done in a shower.

12 million dollars was spent on a study that found out that the majority of people who live on a dead end street were still alive. This study will be repeated every three years.

46 million dollars was spent on a study why early to bed and early to rise will make you healthy wealthy and wise. This did not find that the facts were wrong. 89% of the people had trouble staying awake at work. 94% of the people said they lost money because and they could not remember the question. And 100% said the study was stupid and they were not any wiser than before the study.

34 million dollars was spent on a cure for "sea sickness." It was found out that ice cream, candy, chocolate, pie and cake will cure sea sickness. So the conclusion was when you see any of these foods eat them. Many said the money was well spent and it was a sweet study.

Attorney General Fox Applauds President's Executive Order Rolling Back Energy Regulations

Montana Attorney General Tim Fox issued the following statement Tuesday, commending President Trump's executive order aimed at rolling back burdensome energy regulations:

"I support the President's executive order requiring a review of Obama-era energy regulations. The federal courts have stopped implementation of these regulations, finding that those suing the federal government are likely to prevail because the rules are illegal and exceed the authority granted to the President by Congress. While the policy issues surrounding America's energy strategy and environmental protection are important and should be debated in Congress and in state legislatures, my job is to defend the rule of the law and the Constitution. For those reasons, I also support President Trump's decision to revisit America's energy policies going forward through legal means and proper collaboration with the states."

DILLON AREA SPRING 2017 HUNTER EDUCATION COURSE

The 2017 Dillon spring hunter education course will be held at the Dillon Middle School on April 19, 21, 24, 25 and 28 from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. each night. The field day will be held on Saturday, Apr. 29 from 9 a.m. to noon at the Dillon Rifle and Pistol Club Range.

To successfully complete the course students must attend all five classroom sessions, pass a written test, and attend the field day.

Student must be at least 10 years old to enroll. Class enrollment will be capped at 35 students. Adult, on-line students seeking a field day must make other arrangements by contacting one of the instructors listed below.

Online registration is required by going to Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks website at fwp.mt.gov and following the links to hunter education.

A parental Acknowledgment of Risk Form and a Student Code of Conduct must be downloaded, completed and handed in on April 19. Students will not be admitted to class if these forms are not completed and handed in at the first class.

Students are required to read the first three chapters and answer the quiz questions of the Montana Hunter Education Manual prior to April 19. The manual can be obtained from the Dillon Middle School Office or Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks office, 730 N. Montana St., Dillon. Students will not be admitted to the class if the assignment is not completed.

Parents are welcome to attend the classes and field day. For parents attending the field day they are reminded that they must furnish their own eye and ear protection. This is a normal safety precaution for the shooting range and must be complied with.

We hope this course will be successful for all students and they enjoy a safe and rich hunting experience this fall. An additional Hunter Education course will be offered in August.

For further information on Hunter Education please call Dr. Don Darling at 683-5088, Kerry Wahl at 406-490-0956 or Craig Fager at 683-9305.

Regina from Womack's Printing "The Photo Lady" or from Taco Johns where she spends some weekends. Regina choked, during the following test her esophagus was torn. She remained on a ventilator and feeding tubes for a couple weeks in ICU. During surgery to repair her throat she quit breathing. Since then she has had blood clots and vertigo.

She is able to make it to work for a few hours but is not up to her old self yet. Expenses are adding up after a couple months so we would like to help with this benefit dinner

If you would like to help or donate to the auction please call Brenda or Rachel at Womack's Printing 683-4903 or Wendy at 683-2800
