Gone but not forgotten.
We miss you!

Congratulations to Dale Royer Royer and Hampson Capture Trap Titles at NJOSC

Dale Royer and Emily Hampson fought off tough competition to win Junior Olympic titles Tuesday at the 2017 National Junior Olympic Shooting Championships (NJOSC) from the International Shooting Park just outside Colorado Springs.

Dale Royer Double Trap's loss just might turn out to be Trap's gain. Royer (Jackson, Montana) is proving as much after the Double Trap specialist turned disappointment in the loss of his main event into opportunity with his sudden emergence as a trap contender. Double Trap has been eliminated from the Olympic program as announced by the International Olympic Committee earlier this week.

Royer was the top qualifier, connecting on 116 of the 125 targets thrown. He'd shoot 22 of 25 to start the Final and then turn it on from there by connecting on 24 of his final 25 targets for a 46/50, which would tie the current International Shooting Sport Federation (ISSF) Finals World Record set recently in the new Trap Finals format. Mick Wertz (Muncy, Pennsylvania) was a steady competitor throughout and his 44 hit targets in the Final would earn him a second-place finish and a spot on the National Junior Team. Logan Mountain (Palmdale, California) was third.

Fourth place overall finisher Brendan Bligh (College Station, Texas) would take the J2 age group (15 to 17 years of age) title. Cal Harris (Brentwood, California) finished second followed by Jacob Tucker (Booneville, Arkansas) in third. Sheldon Privetts (Kingman, Arizona) is the J3 (14 years and younger) Junior Olympic champion. Tristan Schroder (Battle Creek, Michigan) was second while Dylan Ziegler (Reno, Nevada) was third.

Men's and Women's Skeet competition takes place the next three days starting with official training on Wednesday.

Lettuce Go to the Farmers' Market
Dillon Farmers' Market Opens Saturday June 24
 The Dillon Farmers Market will begin June 24 and run through September 23, 2017. The market will be open on Saturdays from 9 am to 1 pm, in the Wells Fargo Bank parking lot at 20 North Montana Street.
 Do not park your vehicle overnight in the Wells Fargo Bank parking lot on Fridays. Vehicles left in the lot at 7 am on Saturday mornings may be towed.
 The market is seeking musicians and others to provide entertainment at the market. Anyone interested in performing at the market should call in advance to organize dates, times, and spaces.
 "Our market is not just for vendors," said Cain. "Our purpose is to serve the community of southwest Montana, and we really appreciate the support, encouragement, and ideas of our general members." For a $5.00 fee, all members receive a Dillon Farmers' Market shopping bag. Additional bags are available for purchase at the market.
 The Dillon Farmers' Market is a 501 (c) (4) nonprofit corporation. Membership and vendor fees support the market operations, including insurance, portable toilet, advertising, stipend for the Market Master, canopies for the Kids Corner and entertainment, office supplies, printing, and postage. In addition to the $5.00 annual membership fee, vendors pay $5.00 per week for a space in the market. The annual report, application forms and market rules can be downloaded from the web site for the Dillon Farmers' Market, dillonfarmersmarket.blogspot.com. For more information, call secretary Katie Bump at 406-683-6735, or president Catherine Cain at 406-498-6198.

20th Annual Wildflower Tour of Gravelly Range Set for July 6
 The Forest Service will sponsor its 20th annual wildflower tour of the Gravelly Range on Wednesday, July 6, starting at 9 a.m.
 The free tour winds through the Gravelly Range in Madison County which is noted for a spectacular, high-elevation display of wildflowers. Forest Service employees on the tour will help identify plants seen along the way. Officials note that each year brings its own set of growing conditions, producing an always plentiful and varied show of wildflowers.
 The tour will begin at the Forest Service office in Ennis and proceed toward the Gravelly Range. Participants generally drive their own high-clearance vehicles, but can catch a ride with others if they don't want to take their own vehicle. Attendees are advised to dress for inclement weather and bring their lunch and water.
 For more information, contact the Forest Service in Ennis at (406) 682-4253, or check out the Beaverhead Deerlodge National Forest Facebook page.

State Attorneys General to Meet at Big Sky Next Week

Attorney General Tim Fox today announced that the National Association of Attorneys General (NAAG) will host its annual Summer Meeting at Big Sky Resort next week.

State and territorial attorneys general will convene with key staff, other government officials and corporate, association and academic representatives to discuss legal issues addressing health care, the Internet of Things, self-driving cars and natural disasters. There will also be an update on this term's U.S. Supreme Court cases and the William H. Sorrell Lecture Series on tobacco policy and enforcement.

"NAAG has planned a full and enriching slate of presentations, and we're excited they chose Montana this year as the host state for its annual summer meeting," Attorney General Tim Fox said. "Among other topics, we'll examine challenges in the American healthcare marketplace; discuss ethical leadership under the model rules of professional responsibility, and explore the use of alternative dispute resolution in multistate and complex litigation cases. I look forward to welcoming NAAG staff, many of my fellow attorneys general, and other attendees to Big Sky next week."

Attorney General Fox and Governor Steve Bullock will offer opening remarks, and Chief Thomas Tidwell of the U.S. Forest Service will speak as well. Additionally, NAAG will elect its new slate of officers for 2017-2018 and host its annual awards ceremony to recognize the work of those who contribute to the Office of the Attorney General and the Association. This includes NAAG's most prestigious honor, the Kelley-Wyman Award, bestowed each year upon an attorney general who has done the most to achieve the Association's objectives.

The meeting begins Tuesday, June 20 (noon) and runs through Thursday, June 22 (2:00 p.m.).

Stapleton Reports Voter Fraud in Missoula County

Montana Secretary of State Corey Stapleton reported today that mail ballot voter fraud occurred in Missoula county during the congressional special election. The case involved signature forgery on a mail-in ballot.

"We've had mail ballot security issues in Missoula now for two consecutive election cycles," said Stapleton. "Our office takes this matter seriously."

Stapleton said his office has notified the Missoula County Attorney's office.

Firewood Available at Price Creek Campground

The Dillon Ranger District has been falling hazardous trees that are dead and dying in the Price Creek Campground north of Polaris along the Pioneer Mountains Scenic Byway. These down and dead trees are now available for gathering firewood. Wood is available on a first come, first served basis.

Wood cutters are advised to gather wood during the week and to be cautious while driving, parking and gathering wood as this area is used frequently by many campers.

Firewood cutters must have a valid wood permit. Officials remind wood cutters that only trees on the ground may be cut and gathered. Standing trees may not be cut.

Firewood permits are available at the Dillon Ranger District located at 420 Barrett Street in Dillon. For more information call (406) 683-3900.

Attorney General Fox Calls for Collaboration to Address Growing Substance Abuse Crisis

Montana Attorney General Tim Fox calls for bipartisan collaboration to address Montana's growing substance abuse crisis.

"We must put politics aside, roll up our sleeves, and get to work. We won't save our state from this disease unless we all work together."

In the post, Fox outlines what he and his team at the Montana Department of justice wish to accomplish with his offices new initiative, Aid Montana: Addressing the Impact of Drugs.

"It will be a collaboration of private sector, federal, state and local government, and everyone in-between, all working together to construct a "well-oiled machine" that can effectively address substance abuse in Montana. And most importantly, this "machine" will be a comprehensive strategy. We're going to come at this from every angle."

Fox also calls for patience and focus when discussing solutions to address the state's substance abuse problems.

"It's naive to think that there is a "silver bullet" that will fix this problem. It's also naive to ignore the complexity of this epidemic, thinking that it's simply a matter of choosing a hodge-podge of government programs, combined with a "shotgun-approach" use of tax dollars, and it will magically be cured over-night."

Attorney General Fox's office, the Montana Department of Justice, and other stakeholders are partnering with Montana Healthcare Foundation to hold listening sessions across the state (the first was held in Butte) to gather information to develop a comprehensive strategy for addressing substance abuse in Montana. These listening sessions will supplement another extensive information gathering effort led by Attorney General Fox's office.

Following the listening sessions, the stakeholder group will hold a substance abuse and addiction summit this fall in Helena to discuss the process for putting the strategy together.

Below is a list of the three remaining listening sessions:
