MONTANA FOOD AND AG NETWORK LAUNCHING STATEWIDE BURGER QUEST

The Montana Food and Agriculture Network is launching a statewide burger quest in hopes of finding the best burger in Montana. The campaign launches July 1st, 2017 and will run through the entire month of July. In response to a Thrillist article published earlier in May where Montana was left out of the search, the network decided to launch their own statewide burger search - #MTBURGERQUEST.

The article, "the 100 best burgers in America" written by national burger critic, Kevin Alexander, took 1 year, 30 cities, and 330 burgers to complete. Alexander states that he simply didn't get a chance to hit some places, Montana included. "We hope to engage Mr. Alexander and invite him to Montana for future burger quests. In the meantime, the ultimate goal is to increase awareness of locally produced foods, in a fun and exciting way," said Jené Matzkanin, with the Headwaters RC&D Food and Ag Center.

Throughout the campaign, the network will highlight some of Montana's top beef producers. As advocates for local food culture, the network hopes to get Montanans involved in this movement. With over 2.5 million head of cattle, Montana is recognized on both a national and international level for its exceptional beef - and exceptional beef means exceptional burgers!

Here's how it works:

Anyone wishing to nominate a burger must upload a picture to Facebook, Instagram, or Twitter with the hashtag: #MTBurgerQuest. Those who are tech savvy can tag the network in the post as well, @MTLocalFood. The only rule, it must contain Montana produced beef. We will collect submissions and compile a poll that will be sent out via social media, where we will then ask anyone and everyone to vote for the best burger. Burger submission deadline is 11:59 p.m., July 31, 2017.

The Montana Food and Agriculture Network consists of 4 centers located throughout the state. These centers include Bear Paw Development Corporation (Havre), Lake County Community Development Corporation (Ronan), Beartooth RC&D (Joliet), and Headwaters RC&D (Butte). The statewide network provides assistance in food and value-added agriculture product development, marketing, and farm-based energy development. The network focuses on adding value to existing agricultural resources within Montana. Each center works to support economic development by ensuring that more of the state's food, agricultural, and energy dollars circulate in Montana by keeping more of our agricultural products within the state by processing them locally.

For more information about #MTBurgerQuest, please contact Jené Matzkanin, Headwaters RC&D at 406-533-6781 or jmatzkanin@headwatersrcd.org.

Montana Western Professors Author Book On Consumer Choice In The Modern Economy

The explosion of consumer choices is the subject of a new book by University of Montana Western professors Christian Gilde and Fred Chilson.

The book titled "Overchoice: Too Much to Choose From, Too Little Time" explores the pros and cons of a modern economy that offers more choices to consumers than ever before.

Gilde said the increase in choices is significant. "The average supermarket now stocks 45,000 products compared to 3,700 in the 1950s. Today we can shop at amazon.com day and night choosing from over 300 million separate items."

A passage from the book details the pros and cons of overchoice. "On the one hand, overchoice can be beneficial in allowing people to have enough alternatives to find what they want or what is good enough for them. On the other hand, overchoice can be overwhelming, confusing, and even unhealthy, and can lead to bad consumer decisions." "Choices are a good thing, Gilde said. "But the trap is you may invest more time than they really need to. When you're looking for a house or a car, you are likely to spend a considerable amount of time making the choice. When you're just looking for shampoo or toothpaste the effort spent should be minimal."

In some cases, consumers faced with a large assortment of options, make no choice at all. "Too much choice can decrease the motivation to choose and diminishes the satisfaction with the chosen option," Gilde said.

One study cited in the book showed that many people choose to have no retirement fund rather than stress out over all of the options. The study found that offering four funds resulted in a 75 percent participation rate, whereas offering 59 funds dropped the participation rate to 60 percent.

Gilde and Chilson also detail strategies business owners can employ to ensure that they don't overwhelm their customers with options.

"Overchoice" is an anthology. The first chapter was written by Gilde and Chilson with subsequent chapters authored by colleagues and friends.

Gilde and Chilson are currently working on their next project studying the decline of shopping malls and the urban planning needed to utilize these abandoned spaces.

"Overchoice: Too Much to Choose From, Too Little Time" can be purchased on amazon.com.

Name Calling

By: MJ

Name Calling & Derogatory Statements: In several of the council and committee meetings I have attended Councilman Straugh appears to be frustrated and irritated. He has made several derogatory remarks like: the streets are in the worse shape they have ever been in and the city treasurer is unethical. It appears he is implying that the city Street Crew, City Treasurer, Mayor and Director of Operations are not doing the job they are hired or elected to do. Is name calling and bullying the way to have successes?

Where's the facts and proof: He brought opinions and no facts to the table showing proof that the street crews were not working to fix the streets. Note: He did not bring facts forward showing how bad the streets were that the crews today inherited from past years of no funding and neglect nor did he bring facts forward proving financial issues and problems the city inherited from problems in the past. He did not bring the facts forward that to rebuild a block of street will cost $250,000± and there is only $164,000 in budget for streets. He did not bring information forward that in the past $1,000,000± was spent rebuilding only a hand full of blocks on Glendale St. He brought to the table his opinions, void of facts, on why he voted against the city purchasing an excavator. The purchase would assist in helping crews to do jobs faster while saving wages and a lease payment.

Unethical: That is the word Straugh used to define the City Treasurer. (Ethical is a set of moral principles, the discipline dealing with what is good and bad and with moral duty and obligation). Mr. Straus is seeking a contract with the city in order that he might improve and have control of his retirement. He has acted in good faith, answering questions asked from committee members, explaining he does not want to cost the city any more money... There are many state and local laws, rules and regulations that enter into a decision to change from employee to contract. The mayor and Straus are working with all entries including City Attorney to find a solution. If you are interested get the committee minutes that will give you a detailed breakdown of the process.

Job Qualifications: Mr. Straus, City Treasurer has a MBA from University of Chicago, worked as a CPA in Minnesota and has a proficient job record in financing. I believe what Mr. Straus, working as a team player for the city, has made major accomplishments by saving a million dollars of taxpayer money via the reconstruction of bonds, improving interest rates received by city, addressed issues of accounting for all water pumped from wells and the list continues. A person said to me one day, "anyone could do the job of treasurer". I think the important issues is; how well do you want the job done? Mayor Klakken: PHD in Physics. Bachelor degree at Montana State and Doctorate from Washington State Universities. I believe that Mayor Klakken has learned a great deal from his experiences as seated mayor working with a municipality and how government functions. He has worked tirelessly for the people (taxpayers) in the community.

I understand people get frustrated and use words that bite, condemn, belittle...I question if this is a productive way to have an amicably working relationship. We all don't have the same educations, the same knowledge, same gifts, however we all have educations, knowledge and gifts that need to be respected. The saying that "two (2) heads are better than one (1)" was coined for a reason.

Rural Healthcare Facilities,
 Department of Labor & Industry
 Launch Innovative Nursing Apprenticeships
New training curriculum invests in Montana's rural healthcare industry to grow job opportunities

As Montanans seek new opportunities to improve their wages and improve their job skills in the healthcare industry, Northeast Montana Health Services (NEMHS) and Faith Lutheran Home have partnered with the Montana Department of Labor & Industry (MTDLI) to launch a new Licensed Practical Nurse apprenticeship in Wolf Point. This new program provides distance learning through MSU-Billings City College for apprentices to invest in the local communities serviced by Northeast Montana Health Services.

Working with the Montana Registered Apprenticeship program through the Montana Department of Labor & Industry, Faith Lutheran Home in Wolf Point will be the first organization to utilize this new nursing apprenticeship. The apprentice will complete the two semesters of the LPN program at MSU-Billings City College using distance learning. During their classroom learning, apprentices will work at Faith Lutheran Home as Certified Nursing Assistants. After completing the coursework, graduates will receive licensure from the Montana Board of Nursing.

"Montana's rural communities are losing healthcare workers to retirement," said Labor & Industry Commissioner Pam Bucy. "Through innovative apprenticeships such as this, rural Montanans can better determine their career pathway, whether that is coming straight from high school or college, or seeking a new occupation."

For healthcare administrators like Jo Ann Hibl, Vice President of Senior and Long Term Care for Northeast Montana Health Services, these types of innovative training programs are the future to growing and expanding the healthcare workforce in rural Montana.

"The house I live in now is just down the street from where I grew up," said Hibl. "Community nursing needs are different in places like Wolf Point. People have known each other their whole lives and need to trust the person treating them has the training and expertise to help them."

"Continuity is valuable in Montana's small towns," continued Hibl. "By investing in our communities, retention is higher because people want to raise their families where they grew up. This new nursing program lets that happen for the apprentices."

To learn more about the Licensed Practical Nursing program or any of the almost sixty occupations served through the Montana Registered Apprenticeship unit please call the Montana Department of Labor & Industry at 444-4100 or visit apprenticeship.dli.mt.gov.

Do You Know the Truth... What brings blessings and happiness to a nation (pt. 2)?

---We believe the following: (1) the Bible was given by the inspiration of God as stated in 2 Timothy 3:16-17; (2) all statements made in this and any ensuing articles will be based on what the Bible says; (3) the Bible only is the reliable source of spiritual & doctrinal truth; (4) all beliefs in conflict with Biblical teachings are false.---

Abraham Lincoln spoke these words regarding the errors of America on October 3, 1863.

"It is the duty of nations as well as of men to own their dependence upon the overruling power of God; to confess their sins and transgressions in humble sorrow...; and to recognize the sublime truth, announced in the Holy Scriptures and proven by all history, that those nations are blessed whose God is the LORD."

We know that by His divine law, nations, like individuals, are subjected to punishments in this world.

We have been the recipients of the choicest bounties of heaven; we have been preserved in peace and prosperity; we have grown as no other nation has ever grown.

But we have forgotten God. We have vainly imagined that all these blessings were produced by some superior wisdom of our own. Intoxicated with unbroken success, we have become too self-sufficient...too proud to pray to the God that made us."

America was a nation blessed by God when it was established. Most people then understood the principles of Biblical morality, marriage, and the family unit. It was those beliefs, along with the recognition for the need and benefits of Bible believing churches & Christianity that kept our country safe for almost 200 years.

In the past 60 years, however, we have seen a move away from these Biblical principles. The result has been the deterioration of the quality of life and safety we once enjoyed. References to 'church' or 'Christianity' are forbidden while the government demands that homosexuality and same sex marriage be accepted.

Abraham Lincoln's speech reflects the requirements for receiving God's blessing 2 Chronicles 7:14 it is to humble ourselves, pray, seek God's face, and turn from our wicked ways.

Conclusion: We cannot expect God's blessings when His commands are rejected as the proper way of life!
