Jury Duty: Honor Or Agony?

Tyrades! by Danny Tyree

"Ask not what you can do for your country; ask if that really persistent hangnail qualifies you to deep-six the summons." - JFK's evil twin.

My 3-month stint in the circuit court jury pool has ended without my actually getting picked for a jury, and I'm deeply disappointed.

Googling the phrase "I hate jury duty," I see that I and other high school civics geeks are in a distinct minority.

Because of childcare, traffic, and other considerations, many people feel unduly burdened by the time-honored tradition of being regarded as a toothless meth chemist's "peer." Methinks some protest too much. Just watch the juror who bellows, "The store can't get along without me." A year later you'll run into him in the unemployment line, mouthing a more sheepish, "The office can't get along without the 17-year-old Indian kid they hired to replace me."

Some folks gripe about the very idea of being FORCED to do something, as they're on their way to meet their personal trainer. Others think jury selection and presentation of evidence are tedious and deadly dull. Maybe the judges and attorneys could come up with some cooler questions, such as "Do you believe in rock and roll? Can music save your mortal soul? And can you teach me how to dance real slow?"

Some conscientious citizens hate the responsibility of passing judgment on others (unless you count those six motorists they gave "the finger" and condemned to the stygian depths on their way to the courthouse).

Some people have a hard time deciding whether 'tis nobler to turn a petty thief loose on the world or give him 11 months and 29 days of free room and board. If only there were a third option, but the international Tar & Feathers cartel has made that prohibitively expensive.

Such reluctant potential jurors can come up with creative utterances for getting rejected by one side or another:

"I wouldn't care if he had killed my own MOTHER. I couldn't make anyone wear those orange jumpsuits and pick up litter along the roadside. It's a fashion abomination."

"Ruth Bader Ginsberg bet me $100 I couldn't figure out a way to get this case appealed to the Supreme Court."

"I'll swear to tell the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth; but the ritual must be consummated with a human sacrifice."

I read one intriguing essay about copying the all-volunteer military model and replacing the current coercive jury system with a pool of professional jurors who actually WANT to decide cases. These jurors would be well-paid and pampered in many ways.

It's worth considering, but I can see potential for corruption. Jurors will demand assistants for their assistant jurors, solicit bribes from high-powered gavel salesmen and threaten a hung jury unless a film critic can be flown in to compare and contrast the prosecution's surveillance video and "The Blair Witch Project."

Worse, jurors will start an escalation of pay by SPECIALIZING in areas of ignorance or fairness. "I don't have an opinion on drive-by shootings." "I've never known anyone who was involved in a fender bender." "O.J.? Did he ever buy that white Bronco he was looking at?"

Inevitably, court systems will be bankrupted as they sponsor research to resurrect Sgt. Schultz from the "Hogan's Heroes" TV show, in hopes of creating the nation's ultimate jury foreman.

"I know nothing. NOTH-ing!!"

BIOLOGISTS SET TO BEGIN GRIZZLY BEAR TRAPPING FOR RESEARCH PURPOSESPUBLIC REMINDED TO HEED WARNING SIGNS

As part of ongoing efforts required under the Endangered Species Act to monitor the population of grizzly bears in the Yellowstone Ecosystem, the U.S. Geological Survey is working to inform the public that pre-baiting and scientific trapping operations are about to begin within the Hebgen Lake drainage basin in the Hebgen Lake Ranger District of the Custer Gallatin National Forest, Montana. Biologists, with the Interagency Grizzly Bear Study Team (IGBST), will begin work in the area beginning July 15th and will continue through August 31st. Trapping operations can include a variety of activities, but all areas where work is being conducted will have major access points marked with warning signs. It is critical that all members of the public heed these signs.

Monitoring of grizzly bear distribution and other activities are vital to ongoing recovery of grizzlies in the Yellowstone Ecosystem. In order to attract bears, biologists utilize natural food sources such as fresh road-killed deer and elk. Potential trapping sites are baited with these natural foods and if indications are that grizzly bears are in the area, culvert traps or foot snares will be used to capture the bears. Once trapped, the bears are handled in accordance with strict protocols developed by the IGBST.

Whenever bear trapping activities are being conducted for scientific purposes, the area around the site will be posted with bright warning signs to inform the public of the activities occurring. These signs are posted along the major access points to the trapping site. It is important that the public heed these signs and do not venture into an area that has been posted. For more information regarding grizzly bear trapping efforts call the IGBST hotline at 406-994-6675.

Upcoming Beaverhead Chapter of Joining Community Forces Meeting

ROTARY ADDRESS SIGNS

Who is trying to find you? Fire Department, ambulance, law enforcement, mail or package delivery, stock inspector, food delivery, friends?

Help them out and be in compliance with Beaverhead County ordinance #2000-04 that states, in part, "All owners of structure shall display and maintain the assigned address sign....." And, " Each residence sign shall be green with reflective white numbers.....minimum of 3 inches square."

On Nov 16, 2016, the Montana Standard ran an article from Beaverhead County Sheriff Frank Kluesner requesting county citizens obey the local ordinance requiring property owners to mark their property with the proper address. "It is extremely difficult to respond quickly to any emergency when emergency service personnel cannot locate your property," Kluesner said in the article.

As a fund raiser in support of the local community, particularly with scholarships, the Dillon Rotary club is offering address signs that meet the county ordinance. They are sturdy metal (6" x 18") with a green background and reflective white numbers (3 inches square). The sign is pre-drilled for easy horizontal or vertical mounting and costs a mere $20.

The sign bears your own house, rental or business number, is easy to read from the street, even at night, and looks neat and professional.

For more information or to order a sign, please contact any member of the Dillon Rotary club or call Marty at 660-1352. Please specify whether you want horizontal or vertical letters on your sign.

Special Speaker this Sunday at First Baptist

The pulpit of the First Baptist Church at the corner of Idaho and Sebree Streets will be filled by a special speaker, Bill Jenkin III, this Sunday, July 16, for all services (9:45 AM, 11:00 AM, and 7:00 PM). The public is invited to attend any or all of these services. Bill and his wife Terri grew up and began their married life in Anaconda, Montana. As a sawmill worker, a fellow employee shared the gospel of Jesus Christ with Bill, and he and his wife Terri were born again. After that life-changing event they were called into full-time Christian work.

In 1983 the Lord led them to become a part of Continental Baptist Missions as missionary church planters. In a sense they became second-generation Continental Baptist Mission missionaries as the first church they became affiliated with after their conversion was a CBM mission church in Philipsburg, Montana. After joining the mission, the Jenkins considered church planting in their home state of Montana, but God saw fit to lead them elsewhere.

For over 21 years, Bill and Terri had the privilege of establishing and nurturing four churches to graduation in the Sunshine State of Florida. In the winter of 2004, Bill stepped into the newly created office of Vice-President and Director of Church Relations for CBM, a position which gave him the opportunity to represent the mission and share what God was doing through North American church planting efforts. In May of 2006, he accepted the call to become CBM's sixth president and continues to serve in this capacity, ministering to the needs of CBM missionaries and local churches alike.

The Jenkins consider it a privilege and joy to serve the local church through:

- Missionary Conferences
- Bible Conferences
- Church Growth Seminars
- Evangelistic Outreach
- Marriage/Family Relationship Conferences
- Men's Retreats and Ladies' Retreats
- Sportsman Banquets

Do You Know the Truth...What meant by 'Adoption' in the scriptures? (#48)

----We believe the following: (1) the Bible was given by the inspiration of God as stated in 2 Timothy 3:16-17; (2) all statements made in this and any ensuing articles will be based on what the Bible says; (3) the Bible only is the reliable source of spiritual & doctrinal truth; (4) all beliefs in conflict with Biblical teachings are false.---

Many people believe that all are children of God and a part of His heavenly kingdom. This is a dangerous, false idea that leads to the belief that everyone goes to heaven when they die.

While all men are God's by creation, no-one is a child of God simply by means of the natural birth. Note John 3:3 where Jesus said, "Except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God." He goes on to explain in John 3:6, "That which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit." From these scriptures it is clear that we are not the children of God simply because we exist.

This new birth, which is required in order to gain entrance into God's kingdom, occurs when the individual places his faith in Jesus Christ. Jesus made this clear in, John 3:16, "For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

As being born into a family eliminates the need of a legal adoption, in the spiritual realm the new birth eliminates the need of an adoption into God's family.

Having established the fact that we become children of God by means of the spiritual birth, let's examine what is meant by the term 'adoption' in the scriptures.

"Adoption" is used only five times in the Scripture, all by the apostle Paul, Romans 8:15, 23; 9:4; Galatians 4:5; Ephesians 1:5. It is a compound Greek word meaning "son" & "to place." The literal meaning is "to place as a son" or "to give to one the position of a mature son."

Conclusion: Becoming a child of God is immediate upon trusting Christ, but adoption is still future.
