Mayor Klakken Supports City Taxpayers

By: MJ

It appears that the Conservation District is taxing the people of Dillon. Documentation was presented where all incorporated cities are not to be taxed by the Conservation District. Would this be an example of taxation without representation?

Mayor Klakken brought this to the attention of the county commissioners several weeks ago. He discussed with the commissioners that the Conservation District did not have the right to tax outside of the District. The city of Dillon is incorporated and should not be taxed by the Conservation District.

On 7/24/2017 representatives from DNRC, Conservation District, City Attorney Dolan, Commissioner Rice, Clerk and Recorder Scott and several members of the Dillon Conservation District were present at a meeting to discuss the matter of over-taxation. Presented were several maps displaying different Conservation District boundaries, papers showing where Dillon was excluded from taxation and then papers showing in 2006 where the tax was imposed on the people of Dillon. Commissioner Rice felt that this taxing error may have been a slip-up by an employee entering information on a computer.

Question: Should the people be reimbursed for taxes wrongfully charged and who would pay?

NOTE: It was agreed at the meeting that the residents of the city should not be taxed. The process of removing the Conservation District tax from people's tax statements will start immediately with letters being written.

NOT SAFE FOR BURNING

Because of the extreme dry conditions in Beaverhead County all burning needing a permit is banned on all private lands in the county. The ban will be lifted when conditions are more favorable for safe burning. For information call the Sheriff's office 683-3700.

Proposed Changes to the Central Business District

You can find a copy of the current Central Business District zoning regulations and the proposed Central Business District zoning regulations on the City of Dillon website.

Remember that there is going to be a public hearing, August 8th, 2017 at 6:30 for public input concerning the proposed change of the C3 business district to the previous business district zoning regulations.

Public input will also be taken for the proposed change of the C3 zoned area south of Reeder Street to R2.

Suspect Dead in Missoula, Name of Jefferson County Victim Released

Shortly before midnight on Tuesday, an individual suspected to be involved in the death of a woman found Sunday morning in Jefferson County, shot himself, resulting in his death.

At the request of the Montana Department of Justice's Division of Criminal Investigation, officers with the Missoula Police Department were conducting surveillance on the suspect at a residence on the 3600 block of Rattlesnake Drive, in Missoula.

Shortly before midnight, the suspect, as well as two other individuals, entered a vehicle outside the residence and began to drive away. As the vehicle left the residence, officers with the Missoula Police Department followed, then pulled the vehicle over. As the officers knew the suspect was potentially armed, they exited the vehicle with weapons drawn, and waited for a backup unit to arrive. As the officers waited for the backup unit to arrive, the suspect shot himself. The two other individuals in the car were taken into custody.

As the incident occurred while officers with the Missoula Police Department were conducting a traffic stop, the Ravalli County Sheriff's Department will conduct the investigation into the suspect's death to avoid a conflict of interest. More information about the incident will be released following further investigation.

Jefferson County

The deceased female found Sunday morning in Jefferson County has been identified as 45-year-old Cassandra Dean Morrison.

Beaverhead Conservation District Tidbit - Watersheds

Beaverhead Conservation District is a political subdivision created by the Montana Legislature in 1950 to help carry out locally led conservation initiatives throughout Beaverhead County. We will be writing tidbits for the local newspaper regarding conservation initiatives every other week.

You may have heard the term watershed before, but what does it actually mean? A watershed is a geographic area defined by ridges where water drains to a common river, basin, or sea. For example, the Beaverhead Watershed has Pioneers to the west, Blacktail Mountains to the south, Ruby Range to the east, and Tobacco Roots to north. All of the water that drains from these mountains eventually flows into the Beaverhead River. All of the area of land that water travels on leading up to the Beaverhead River is considered the Beaverhead Watershed.

Water is a necessity for plants, animals, and people. We all rely on water for drinking, cooking, irrigation, agriculture, recreation, manufacturing, aesthetic beauty, and much more. With that being said, it is important for us to make sure it is clean enough and there is enough water for all of the different users. According to the 2012 Census of agriculture, the market value of agriculture products sold in Beaverhead County is over $142 million yearly. In addition to agriculture, hunting and fishing in Beaverhead County provides $36.2 million in direct expenditures according to the Beaverhead County Atlas. It is our duty to protect our watershed for plants, animals, people, and our economy!

We are lucky to have the Beaverhead Watershed Committee here in Dillon! The Beaverhead Watershed Committee was formed in August of 2001 by a group of landowners and stakeholders with a common goal of improving and repairing the environment across the watershed. Since that time the committee has reached ridge to ridge with successful projects related to water quality, water quantity, fencing/grazing, weed management and outreach expansion. The committee is made up of a diverse group of volunteers representing all stakeholders within the watershed. Representatives include: Agriculture, Outfitters and Guides, Local Business, Trout Unlimited, Beaverhead County Commissioners, City of Dillon, and Beaverhead Conservation District. The function of the BWC is to coordinate a local, citizen-based approach to maintaining public awareness and continuous improvement of Beaverhead riparian health. All meetings are open to the public and the public is encouraged to attend. If you would like to be put on our email list, please email beaverheadcd.bswc@gmail.com for more information.

The monthly district meeting is held the third Thursday of each month at 6:00 pm in the USDA conference room. If you have questions or would like more information contact Jamie Cottom at the Beaverhead Conservation District, 683-3802 or beaverheadcd@gmail.com.

July 2017

Dear Clients, Colleagues and Friends:

I am excited to announce my legal career is about to turn in a new direction. I recently accepted an offer from the Yellowstone Boys and Girls Ranch Foundation of Billings, MT to join its executive team. I am grateful for the opportunity to assume a leadership role in an organization I have supported for more than 20 years, the past 16 of which has included serving on the Board of Directors. From its humble beginning in 1957, Yellowstone Boys and Girls Ranch has become a nationally recognized provider of services to emotionally troubled children ranging in age from 6 to 18. Yellowstone now serves more than 750 hurting children and their families every day from a number of locations, including Dillon, MT.

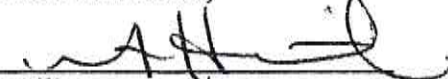

Over the coming months, I will be working part-time in Dillon ensuring the orderly transition or retrieval of client files. I will also be returning to Dillon frequently over the next year to spend time with my family until they are able to join me in Billings next summer.

In the meantime, the Law Office of Marta N. Farmer is opening its general law practice in Dillon in my current location at 122 E. Glendale St., Dillon, MT. Marta Farmer began practicing in 2008 in Havre. In 2012, she also began teaching full time as an adjunct professor in business and accounting law at Montana State University in Bozeman. Marta will be offering her legal services in business law and litigation, agricultural law, wills and trusts and other general practice matters.

Attorneys Colleen Coyle and Bill Fanning of Coyle & Fanning, PLLC will also be available to my clients in the Beaverhead and Madison County areas, in addition to maintaining their existing practice in Bozeman, MT. Colleen Coyle and Bill Fanning are well-known water right specialists in Montana and their services will be in high demand as the re-adjudication of water rights on the Madison, Jefferson and Ruby Rivers and their tributaries commences in the near term.

To my clients in Dillon and Southwest Montana, I express my most sincere appreciation for the opportunity to serve your legal needs for nearly 25 years. I encourage all of you to meet the new attorneys - I hope you will share my confidence in them. Both law firms may be reached through our secretary, Becki Casey, at 406-683-6790. The office location will remain at 122 E. Glendale St., Dillon, MT 59725.

With Gratitude,

William A. Hritsco
