Safe Hunting in Bear Country

Hunters are, by design, good at sneaking up on bears unobserved. They also provide bears with an attractive food source in the form of gut piles and carcasses. Follow a few precautions to minimize bear interactions and increase safety while hunting this season.

Example of how to store food or carcasses

1. Be aware of your surroundings at all times. Watch for bear sign or signs of carcasses that would attract bears such as scavenging birds or foul odors. Be on alert in areas of low visibility and by streams which mask noises.
2. Bear spray works! Bear spray produces a large cloud that targets a bear's nose and eyes - its most sensitive areas. It has proven 98% effective at preventing human injury in actual encounters. Remember that bears have thick hides and that they move faster than most pistol shooters can properly aim.
3. Calling for elk and deer/elk scents are attractive to bears. Bears have approached and injured hunters while calling. Always hunt with a partner and keep your bear spray readily accessible if calling for elk. Include a coagulant like quick clot in your first aid kit.
4. Keep a clean camp. Bears are very smart, have a great memory and if they receive a food reward in one camp, they may become aggressive as they continue to raid camps. Make sure all attractants are placed in a hard-sided vehicle, locked in a bear-resistant container, or hung 10 feet up and four feet out from any supporting branches. Anything that has a smell or has once had a smell needs to be put away.
5. Regular coolers are not bear-resistant and must be appropriately stored, even when empty. Check with a local ranger station about obtaining bear-resistant containers through the loaner program, free of charge.
6. If you are fortunate enough to harvest an animal this year, gut it immediately and move the gut pile away from the animal and in a place where you can view it from at least 200 yards away as you return. This may help keep the bear to stay away from you and your carcass and may also prevent other hunters from stumbling on a bear. Pack tarps for moving gut piles, ropes and a pulley for hanging game.
7. Never bring a carcass into your camp! If you need to leave a carcass on the forest, hang it (10' up, 4' out) 100 yards or farther from a sleeping area or trail. If you must leave it on the ground make sure it is at least a half mile from any sleeping area and 200 yards from a trail. Leave your kill in a place where you can view it from at least 200 yards away as you return.

If you do encounter a bear, it is important to leave the area quietly as soon as possible without running or turning your back. Avoid making eye contact with the bear and immediately take out your bear spray and be ready to use it. Report any encounter to your local Forest Service Office.

Remember Stage 1 Fire Restrictions are in effect on the Beaverhead-Deerlodge NF which means campfires are not allowed, go online to https://firerestrictions.us/mt/ for more information about these restrictions. Also, use motorized vehicles only on designated routes, and bring certified weed-free hay and straw. For information about local regulations or bears, go to the Beaverhead-Deerlodge National Forest website at www.fs.usda.gov/bdnf, or stop by a local Forest Service office.

Inquiry Class

Friday Sept. 8 will see the resumption of monthly Inquiry Classes here in Dillon by Fr. Russell Radoicich of Holy Trinity Orthodox Christian Church in Butte. "The Apocalypse" will be discussed in an informal setting on the campus of UofM Western in Room 150 in Main Hall at 5:30 pm. The public, students, believers or non-believers, all are welcome who wish to explore the history and oral traditions of the church founded by the Apostles of Jesus Christ 2000+ years ago. Topics vary each month and there is lots of discussion and questions interspersed with Fr. Russell's lecture of the Orthodox perspective.

Beware of Fake Charity Scams Relating to Hurricane Harvey

The Internal Revenue Service today issued a warning about possible fake charity scams emerging due to Hurricane Harvey and encouraged taxpayers to seek out recognized charitable groups for their donations.

While there has been an enormous wave of support across the country for the victims of Hurricane Harvey, people should be aware of criminals who look to take advantage of this generosity by impersonating charities to get money or private information from well-meaning taxpayers. Such fraudulent schemes may involve contact by telephone, social media, e-mail or in-person solicitations.

Criminals often send emails that steer recipients to bogus websites that appear to be affiliated with legitimate charitable causes. These sites frequently mimic the sites of, or use names similar to, legitimate charities, or claim to be affiliated with legitimate charities in order to persuade people to send money or provide personal financial information that can be used to steal identities or financial resources.

IRS.gov has the tools people need to quickly and easily check the status of charitable organizations.

The IRS cautions people wishing to make disaster-related charitable donations to avoid scam artists by following these tips:

Be sure to donate to recognized charities.

Be wary of charities with names that are similar to familiar or nationally known organizations. Some phony charities use names or websites that sound or look like those of respected, legitimate organizations. The IRS website at IRS.gov has a search feature, Exempt Organizations Select Check, through which people may find qualified charities; donations to these charities may be tax-deductible.

Don't give out personal financial information — such as Social Security numbers or credit card and bank account numbers and passwords — to anyone who solicits a contribution. Scam artists may use this information to steal a donor's identity and money.

Never give or send cash. For security and tax record purposes, contribute by check or credit card or another way that provides documentation of the donation.

Consult IRS Publication 526, Charitable Contributions, available on IRS.gov. This free booklet describes the tax rules that apply to making legitimate tax-deductible donations. Among other things, it also provides complete details on what records to keep.

Taxpayers suspecting fraud by email should visit IRS.gov and search for the keywords "Report Phishing."

More information about tax scams and schemes may be found at IRS.gov using the keywords "scams and schemes." Details on available relief can be found on the disaster relief page on IRS.gov.

Beaverhead Trails Coalition Notice

The Beaverhead Trails Coalition (BTC) will be hosting a public meeting on September 13, 2017 from 6:30 to 8:00 p.m at the Depot Theatre to discuss a proposed new walk/bike trail along Noble Avenue from Skihi Street to Highway 41.

The trail will provide a safe and enjoyable connection with existing segments in Dillon and the surrounding area.

The Coalition is seeking input from the community to finalize the conceptual design for the trail and develop cost estimates.

This work is funded by grants from United Way and the LOR Foundation and will make proposals to fund detailed engineering and construction possible.

Visit our website at beaverheadtrails.org/trail-connectivity for more information about the project.

Comments and ideas are welcome at the meeting or by email at beaverheadtrails@gmail.com.

The Beaverhead Trails coalition is a 501(c)3 organization committed to creating and improving walking, hiking and biking opportunities in and around Dillon.

23rd Annual "Boots Country" Karaoke Results

The 2017 23rd annual "Boots Country" Karaoke contest was held over the Labor Day weekend in Dillon.

The weather was very good. We only had one little shower Wednesday evening, otherwise it was perfect.

Taking 3rd place and winning $50.00 was Yim Sribenjakul, a Western Montana College student. Yim was born in Thailand, went to High School in Superior, MT, played football for Western and works at Mac's Last Cast. Yim's choice of songs was "Drinking Class" by Lee Brice.

In 2nd place and taking home $100.00 was Joe Vannett originally of Dillon but now lives in Great Falls, MT. Joe's family still lives in Dillon. We all remember Joe from when he worked at McDonalds. His rendition of the Simon & Garfunkel song "The Sound of Silence" was a real crowd pleaser.

The first place winner and pocketing $1000.00 was Kacey Craftan of Dell, MT. He did an excellent job on the Tracy Bird song "Ten Rounds with Jose Cuervo". Kacey likes to draw and write short stories. Kacey drew the picture for the front cover of this year's Beaverhead County Fair Book, and also the picture on the fair buttons. Kacey works for the University of Utah at Lakeview. He has 3 cats, 2 horses, 1 dog and a pet skunk.

Congratulations to the winners and a big "Thank You" to all the contestants for participating.

CLOSE SISTERS VISIT THE UNIVERSITY OF MONTANA WESTERN

Article by Matt Raffety —As part of the program of the 1st Annual Big Sky Behavioral Health Summit, Keynote speaker Jessie Close, with sisters Glenn Close and Tina Close, made a special visit to the University of Montana Western on Sep. 6, in order to raise awareness and break down the stigma that surrounds mental illness.

Jessie Close is a nationally renowned mental health advocate, prominent speaker, and critically acclaimed author of the book "Resilience: Two Sisters and a Story of Mental Illness." Jessie Close is also the sister of six-time Academy Award nominated actress Glenn Close, who is a co-founder of the non-profit organization "Bring Change to Mind."

of her struggle and eventual recovery from mental illness and addiction. Jessie Close credits the incredible support of her family combined with proper treatment as instrumental to her recovery. She also had an important message for the summit attendees. "Please be a champion for mental health and sobriety, and reach out to someone who is struggling. And if you yourself are struggling, please reach out and get help," she said.

According to her sisters, Tina Close and Glenn Close, it takes a huge amount of courage to speak up and be honest about mental illness. "I'm so glad that Jessie wrote the book," said oldest sibling Tina Close. "I'm learning so much about what she went through."

All four siblings now have residences close to Jessie Close, and this network of family support is crucial to someone with mental illness. "We need to be open and unafraid when it comes to talking about mental illness," said Glenn Close. "The amount of courage my sister has is huge, and more families need to talk about mental illness together."

In addition to the Keynote address, the Howard Gaines Service Award was presented to Julie Ingram for her outstanding work in the mental health field. Ms. Ingram has helped patients in crisis for many years at Barrett Hospital and Healthcare and recently implemented an Art Therapy program for residents of the Kindred Parkview Nursing and Rehabilitation Center.

Biblical Truth... Bible truth about controversial subjects (part 3)

----We believe the following: (1) the Bible was given by the inspiration of God as stated in 2 Timothy 3:16-17; (2) all statements made in this and any ensuing articles will be based on what the Bible says; (3) the Bible only is the reliable source of spiritual & doctrinal truth; (4) all beliefs in conflict with Biblical teachings are false.---

The subject of man's spiritual salvation is spoken of in John 3:1-18. In the first four verses of this chapter we see a highly educated religious teacher who was mystified about the spiritual birth. This incident illustrates the fact that a man with a degree in religion and is in a leadership position may be totally ignorant of God's truth about spiritual matters.

To many people the new birth is a mystery. The different opinions by various church groups about this subject have caused much controversy and confusion about it. Based on what Jesus stated in this segment of scripture we note several things that are not required and can contribute nothing to the salvation of man's spirit.

Salvation, which is necessary to gain entrance into God's presence in heaven, is NOT: (1) a code of ethics; (2) better morals; (3) reformation; (4) education; (5) baptism; (6) confession to a priest; (7) penance; (8) culture; (9) joining a church or other religious group. A person can do all of these things and go to hell when he dies!

Five New Testament figures answer the question asked in Acts 16:30, "Sirs, what must I do to be saved?": (1) Paul, "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and you will be saved," Acts 16:31; (2) the Apostle John, "...as many as received him, to them he gave power to become the sons of God...," John 1:12; (3) John the Baptist, "Behold the Lamb of God, which takes away the sin of the world," John 1:29; (4) Jesus, "He that hears my word, and believes on him that sent me, has everlasting life..."; (5) Peter, "...through His [Jesus] name whosoever believes in him shall receive remission of sins."

Conclusion: If you trust anything or anyone besides Lord Jesus Christ for spiritual salvation you will NOT enter into heaven when your appointment with death arrives!
