MONTANA WESTERN ANNOUNCES FALL ENROLLMENT NUMBERS

The University of Montana Western's enrollment continues a ten-year trend of growth and stability. Last year's entering class was the highest during a decade that saw an average increase of 10% in full time enrollments.

The university's fall enrollment is slightly down, from 1418 FTE (full-time equivalent) to 1401. Student headcount is 1451.

University of Montana Western Chancellor Beth Weatherby says the minor dip was predicted as a result of a combination of increased tuition for freshmen and a decrease in the number of high school graduates.

"In an extremely competitive environment, students continue to choose Montana Western because of Experience One," Chancellor Weatherby said. "We are the only public university in the nation offering experiential learning on the block schedule, where our students take one course at a time for 18 days, take a four-day break, and then move to the next course. Our strong array of programs, stunning location, excellent faculty and staff, and Experience One add up to a vibrant atmosphere for teaching and learning."

Unlike other universities, students continue to enroll all semester at the beginning of each block, so the numbers often increase.

Attorney General Fox Releases Statement on Las Vegas Shooting

Montana Attorney General Tim Fox released the following statement regarding Sunday night's shooting in Las Vegas:

"The horror of Sunday night will be forever burned into this country's memory. While acts of evil test our resolve, we must stand firm against hate and violence, and join together to combat those who wish to harm our citizens. My thoughts and prayers go out to those who've been injured, as well as to the friends and loved ones of those who lost their lives."

Zoning meeting Sept 26, 2013

By: MJ

Mr. Mooney refers to the Growth Policy often in the zoning meetings along with the 270± Zoning Document. At this meeting it was said that the growth policy and zoning document were wrote as a means to improve the "standards" in Dillon. There was no explanation of what the "Standards" were. That is not uncommon as there is hardly ever facts included in the verbiage being distributed.

Christopher Herron's trailer came up again at this meeting. Ms. O'Rourke spoke up and said that you can not get a loan nor can you get insurance on a pre-1976 trailer. She did not say a thing about loans or insurance on a trailer that had been brought up to code. Mr. Mooney talked about elevating the "Standards" for Dillon and he felt the documents were wrote as a guide to do that. He went onto say trailer houses should be out in the "Hinterland" indicating the surrounding area. It appeared that the experts speaking had all the answers and did not need information from Mr. Herron. They did not ask him if he acquired a loan, spent his saving or had insurance. The heart wrenching part was they spoke above, around and below him but never to him. Questions: Would this be the way people should be treated or the procedure to be followed to improve the "Standards" of Dillon? Would you be putting people in more danger of losing their lives if the trailer is farther away from the fire department? Note: Safety reasons (how fast trailers burn) has been a large part of the discussions at these zoning meetings.

Growth Policy:

The Growth Plan does say that affordable housing is made available via rentals, mobile homes and subsidized housing. In 2013, 47% of all occupied housing is rental housing. It does not say that trailers should be removed to the hinterland.

It does not say or I could not find where the Growth Policy stated; that before any development can take place on an unzoned piece of property the property must be zoned as Mr. Mooney indicated at the Sept 12th zoning meeting. It does say that all areas will be zoned within the city limits. Facts are important when topics are being discussed.

Day Care Center: There was a complaint about a day care next to a home and the noise was disturbing. Day Care Centers are allowed in a residential area. There was no research done to see if this was a wide spread problem in the neighborhood or it was an isolated case. Mr. Mooney asked if the Nuisance Ordinance would apply in this situation. Committeeman Garry suggested kicking the subject around, look at the size of the day care and look at state regulations and requirements on size. He went onto say that the city might be able to say what size of day care you could have in a certain area.

E-Mails: Chairman Graham reminded everyone that e-mails sent to committee members must be sent to and archived at the city also. Mr. Mooney state he had a right to communicate with representative members on each committee and e-mail other members. City Attorney Dolan reminded us that we need to consider the perception and respect the board members and the hard work they do.

BARRETT
HOSPITAL & HEALTHCARE

Letter to the Editor:

I am writing this letter to let people be aware of what is happening in Dillon with are so called caring vets. My little dog Blue Nipper has suffered terrible at the hands of people who are suppose to help our animals, but who really care for nothing but the money. My dog has a very short time to live because of an uncaring vet here in Dillon who told me the growth on her neck was nothing more than an old dog fatty tumor, an also added, well she is 15 years old. In other words, shes not worth trying to save. I repeatedly took her out to get it looked at and was assured not to worry. So I decided to take her for a second opinion only to find out it was a malignant cancer that has already spread thru her little body - the vet in Twin Bridges took the growth off - sent it to Missoula for testing and did everything he could to try and save my dogs life. I finally got a caring vet who actually loves and cares for animals - if the first vet I took her to would have at least sent me to someone who cared, my dog might have been able to be saved. But because he did not care, he has sentenced her to death and my heart along with her. Another one of the vets here in Dillon did surgery on my dog 4 years ago and I paid my bill in full, but on the weekend my dog had run out of her pain pills. I called out there to get more pills but because it was Saturday and I did not have enough money to pay at that time, I was told I would have to wait until Monday so I could pay for the pills before receiving them. So once again that lady vet cared only for the money and not for the suffering of my little dog.

Now onto something that just happened to one of my friends. He took his dog to another vet here in Dillon to get a small growth removed off his little dog - only to return to the vet to pick her up to find out, the vet, had pulled out a few of her teeth - now mind you, this is a 6 year old dog. She did not even notify my friend that she was going to remove the dogs teeth, she did it behind his back and told him, oh well, they needed to come out. I have since talked to people who have the same horrible stories about the vet pulling their dogs teeth out with out even notifying the owners that they were going to do that. Four different people that have told me this. One of the dogs they did that to was four years old, how could 5 of her teeth be bad?

People of Dillon, please get second opinions for your animals. If I had taken my Blue over to Twin Bridges in the first place, she might have lived a few more years, but because of an uncaring vet, she only has a few weeks left to live. My new vet is doing all he can to make her comfortable and help me get through this dying process. He even calls me at home to check on Blue, that is a vet who cares.

You vets in Dillon took an oath to care for the animals, not worry about the all mighty dollar.

Dogs know nothing but how to love you and always be at your side, they know nothing of greed and cruelty. Shame on you Dillon vets.
