Showstoppers Season

Films, comedians, poets and dancers – oh my! The Southwest Montana Arts Council's 2017-18 Showstoppers Season offers a diverse collection of performing arts that has something for everybody.

SMAC kicks off the season with the Wild & Scenic Film Festival. This is the third year SMAC has presented this internationally touring festival. Featuring films that focus on living, working and playing in the great outdoors, this year SMAC has focused on presenting perspectives from all over the world, including: the growing of coffee, the first Bangladeshi to climb the Seven Summits, water conservation in Ecuador, a super salmon who swam further up a river in Alaska than any other salmon before him, a mother's love of climbing in Great Britain, skiing in Iran, and an expedition in Mozambique involving mountaineers and scientists. The same set of movies will be shown on two dates: Thursday, November 2, at 7 p.m. and Sunday, November 5, at 4 p.m., both at the Old Depot Theatre.

Alex "The Zaniac" Zerbe will perform at the BCHS Auditorium on Thursday, November 30, at 7 p.m. This human cartoon has been featured on America's Got Talent and Last Comic Standing and has two Guinness World Records. He creates a performance that entertains and captivates all ages. Thanks to a generous donation from the Dillon Jaycees, children in grades K-12 can attend for free if accompanied by an adult.

SMAC will present its 2nd Annual Spoken Word Festival on Thursday, March 22, at the Old Depot Theatre at 7 p.m. This year's event will feature a spoken word/dance/music performance by Dave Caserio & Friends, as well as the work of local poets, students and lovers of words.

The final Showstoppers Season event will be a performance by the Repertory Dance Theatre from Salt Lake City. RDT is the nation's oldest and most successful repertory dance company. Unlike conventional modern dance organizations, they present audiences with a diverse range of modern dance styles and choreographers paired together in dynamic and unexpected performances. RDT will perform on Wednesday, April 18, at 7 p.m. at Beier Auditorium on the University of Montana Western's campus.

Showstoppers Season tickets can be purchased online at SMACarts.org, at Wildwood Floral or at any SMAC events. Single event tickets are also available.

The Southwest Montana Arts Council would like to thank its event sponsors, particularly Pioneer Federal Savings & Loan, who help bring world-class performances to our neck of the woods.

For more information, contact 683-6208 or SMACarts@gmail.com.

Zoning
By: MJ

Government bureaucracy is alive and well in Dillon, MT. It seems our council believes that rules and not goals are the way to do business. Humans living in the city brings in revenue. Why is it then that we impose many rules and regulations that shut the capital growth and human progress down? A home to an individual is far more than bricks and mortar. It means stability, emotional well-being, pride, a major goal in someone's life. To set rules and regulations so stringent that people cannot afford to comply only hurts the community and stalemates productivity.

Zoning Board: The zoning board gets its share of complaints from a small fraction of public that have their own personal agenda. Often when you dig into the reason behind a person's continual objections without facts and figures, you will find a personal agenda or desire that does not represent the whole. Mayor Klakken is adamant about following the law to the "T" which gives everyone equal representation without manipulation or doing favors for friends.

The Growth Plan is another document the committees follow that outlines goals, objectives and actions to undertake the challenge of shaping and directing the city's future. The plan provides direction to the community through development and land use planning, economic development and programs to support the health, safety and welfare of the community's residents.

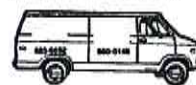

I have heard very little discussion about the economic growth in Dillon from any of the boards or council. Revenue for Dillon has been brought up by a member of the zoning board several times but seems to fall on deaf ears Question: If the board was provided with a simplified overview of city budget would this give the committees additional information and education to empower them to make improved and categorically better decisions.

SMALL GROUP MAKING LARGE IMPACT

The Pioneer Mountain Education Foundation is a small, non-profit organization hoping to make a large impact on the lives of children in our community. Their cornerstone program is the Maverick Ski Team, which aims to provide youth with not just skiing skills, but also passion, confidence, and courage to carry throughout their lives.

The Ski Team is open for skiers ages 7 to 17 and features a winter program that develops all-mountain skills and introduces the fundamentals of alpine ski racing. Athletes also have the option to compete around the state as part of a United States Ski Association club. Come visit the Maverick Ski Team at the Beaverhead Ski Patrol Ski Swap on Friday, October 6th from 5 to 9 p.m., and on Saturday, October 7th from 9 am to 3 p.m. at the Fairgrounds to find out more.

They will also be at the Pray for Snow Party on Saturday, October 7th from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. at the Patagonia Outlet. If you would like to support the Pioneer Mountain Education and Maverick Ski Team, head down to Beaverhead Brewing on Friday, November 17th for a Pint Night. Also, check out Pioneer Mountain Education Foundation's Facebook page '@pioneermountained'. Let it snow!

To the editor,

'Do Liberal Democrats Want War With Russia?' This news headline is not from a conservative or a libertarian or even a strong political independent like me. This headline and corresponding article are from a longtime, self-described liberal and Democratic Party member, Stephen Cohen.

Russian expert Cohen is professor emeritus at Princeton University and New York University. In the September 26 issue of the liberal magazine, The Nation, Cohen raises the "War With Russia" question and answers it.

Here is one key quote by Cohen: "Abandoning journalistic standards of verifiable evidence, reliable sources, and balanced coverage, The New York Times and The Washington Post have increased their publication of sweeping allegations as virtual facts. (For their practices, see the many critical articles by the award-winning journalist Robert Parry at consortiumnews.com.) That print news is amplified almost nightly on MSNBC and CNN. Many other smaller liberal outlets play the same role.

Still worse, liberal or pro-Democratic media have trumpeted "Russiagate's" most reckless charge that in 2016 America "came under attack by the Russian government," as [Hollywood actor] Morgan Freeman intoned in a recent video produced by Hollywood liberals. "We are at war," he declared. Can this mean anything other than that Washington must immediately launch an "attack" on the other nuclear superpower?"

I bring Cohen's assessment to the Tribune readers for two reasons. First, it takes intellectual courage for someone of Cohen's national and international reputation to indict his own ideological political class (super liberal Democrats) for promoting Fake News. Cohen's article can be found here: (<https://www.thenation.com/article/do-liberal-democrats-want-war-with-russia/>).

Second, because John Xanthopoulos and two of his UMW colleagues, along with two Russian professors, and I are writing an applied handbook on advancing Russia America Education Innovation, one of our chapters is about improving Russia America Communications by identifying and measuring Fake News via Quantitative Content Analysis. As such, we are relying on credible sources such as Cohen for framing our "lessons learned."

We conclude our Communications Chapter with this statement: Whether we agree with Stephen Cohen's assessment in part or in whole, Cohen's indictment of once trust-worthy liberal news sources is both thought-provoking and troubling.
