WARDENS SEEK INFORMATION IN TOWNSEND AREA POACHED ELK CASE

Montana Fish, Wildlife and Parks game wardens are asking the public to help identify the person or persons responsible for the illegal killing of at least one elk on private property just east of Canyon Ferry recently.

On Sunday, Oct. 15, responding to a call from a landowner, game wardens discovered a badly decayed bull elk and a more freshly killed cow elk on private land between Ray Creek Road and Dry Gulch Road off Highway 284.

Upon investigation, it appeared the cow elk had been shot within a few days of being discovered. This coincides with a witness' account of hearing multiple gunshots the evening of Wednesday, Oct. 11 near the discovered elk.

Given the state of the carcass, no determination could be made in the field about the bull elk's cause of death.

At the time of this incident there was no legal season in place for the rifle hunting of elk in this area.

Anyone with information about this case is asked to contact Warden Josh Leonard at 406-439-0451, or 800-TIP-MONT. Callers may remain anonymous and may be eligible for a reward.

FRONTIER CONFERENCE BASKETBALL COACHES PICK MONTANA WESTERN & LEWIS-CLARK STATE IN 2017-2018 PRESEASON COACHES' POLL

In a preseason poll of Frontier Conference women's basketball coaches, defending conference, tournament and national runner-up Lewis-Clark State is picked to win the 2017-2018 league title. The Warriors received six first place votes. Montana Western and Montana State-Northern were tied for second followed by Carroll College, Rocky Mountain College, University of Providence and Montana Tech. Carroll received one first place vote.

In this year's women's poll, there was one ballot that gave both Montana Tech and Providence a fifth place vote in which the points for fifth and sixth were added together, divided by two with each receiving half of the total.

In one of the closest ballots in recent memory, the league's men's coaches selected Montana Western by one vote over regular season and tournament champion Carroll as their preseason favorite to win the 2017-2018 league title.

Lewis-Clark State was selected third in the preseason poll followed by MSU-Northern, Rocky Mountain College, University of Providence and Montana Tech. Western received four first place votes and Carroll received three.

FRONTIER CONFERENCE

Forest Service Reminds Hunters To Store Food, Attractants and Animal Carcasses Safely

In recent years many public lands in Montana, including the Beaverhead-Deerlodge National Forest, have implemented Food Storage Orders that affect hunting practices and how hunters set up camp. The Beaverhead-Deerlodge National Forest would like to share some tips for storing food, attractants and carcasses to help hunters develop good habits as bear populations expand.

- Bring your animal carcass home or to the butcher before you finish your hunting trip if you live within driving distance. If you're from out of town, some businesses offer storage for carcasses. There are many butchers, outfitters or other businesses with walk-in freezers can provide space to hunters. Moving the carcass off forest minimizes the chance of encountering an animal feeding on your carcass. Bears feeding on hunter killed elk have led to human injuries.

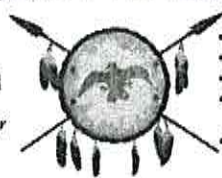

- Plan for animal carcass storage while camping. Bring storage for the carcass for example, in the form of a truck with topper, enclosed trailer, horse trailer with full doors, or certified bear resistant containers. If you use hang poles, the carcass must hang ten feet high at its lowest point and four feet away from climbable supports and must be 100 yards away from your camp. You may also want to bring pulleys and ropes to help hoist your carcass between trees.

- Borrow bear-resistant containers for FREE from your local Forest Service office. Call ahead to your local Beaverhead-Deerlodge NF office to find out what is available. Also, you can go online to the following web site to find a list of tested and approved bear resistant products: <http://igbconline.org/certified-products-list/>

- Pack a tarp or strong plastic sheet to gut your animal in case you down your game near a trail or need to leave your carcass overnight. Gut piles are the most attractive to bears and other scavengers. If you use a tarp or plastic sheet to drag the gut pile away from your animal you may avoid finding a bear on your carcass in the morning. You must drag gut piles at least 200 yards from National Forest system trail to help prevent trail users from surprising a bear feeding on it.

- Don't hang or butcher your animal in camp. Blood on the ground is a powerful attractant to bears and other scavengers.
- When retrieving game, leave a member of your party to "attend" the carcass if possible.
- Take advantage of the permanent food storage boxes in many of the Forest Service campgrounds for your food and other attractants.
- When in doubt, call your local Forest Service or MT Fish, Wildlife and Parks office. They are happy to help you plan your trip and troubleshoot any attractant storage concerns. Be aware that Montana State Wildlife Management Areas have similar requirements.

Remember that all attractants must be acceptably stored at night and attended or acceptably stored during the day. Carcasses or partial carcasses may only be left on the ground if they are one-half mile away from any sleeping area and 200 yards from any Forest Service system trail.

The Beaverhead-Deerlodge National Forest instituted a forest-wide order on June 1, 2014 which is in effect from March 1 through December 1 annually. The storage requirements and tips can be viewed online at: <https://go.usa.gov/xRhqr>. For more information contact your local Forest Service office.

Attorney General Fox Announces New Program to Crack Down on Organized Crime

Attorney General Tim Fox announced today a new criminal interdiction team program as part of the Montana Department of Justice's Aid Montana: Addressing the Impact of Drugs initiative. The team, which was created through funding authorized during the 2017 Legislature, will focus its efforts on cracking down on organized crime in Montana to include interdicting illegal narcotics, preventing human trafficking, apprehending wanted fugitives, and recovering stolen or illegal firearms. The team consists of six Montana Highway Patrol troopers, including trained canines, and will be split into two units -- a west team and an east team to optimize its reach. The team will be supported by two agents from the Montana Division of Criminal Investigation.

Speaking at a press conference at his office this morning, Attorney General Tim Fox said, "Some of the most horrific crimes imaginable occurring in Montana are fueled by an increased presence of organized crime. We must boost our efforts to crack down on organized criminal networks wreaking havoc on our state, and the Department of Justice's Criminal Interdiction Team is a big step in the right direction. This new team should serve as a warning to organized crime everywhere that Montana is not the place to do business. I look forward to what we will accomplish for public safety in Montana by implementing this new resource."

Colonel Tom Butler, Chief Administrator of the Montana Highway Patrol, emphasized that the team will focus on large-scale criminal networks, stating, "These networks pollute our communities with illegal weapons, toxic substances often leading to addiction, and violence. This activity simply has no place in Montana."

Bryan Lockerby, Administrator of the Division of Criminal Investigation, echoed the sentiments of Attorney General Fox and Colonel Butler, adding, "Our cooperative partnerships with law enforcement agencies across the state are an invaluable part of making this team work. We all have a common goal -- to uproot and dismantle criminal networks operating in our state."

Biblical Truth... God's order for the best possible family unit

----We believe the following: (1) the Bible was given by the inspiration of God as stated in 2 Timothy 3:16-17; (2) all statements made in this and any ensuing articles will be based on what the Bible says; (3) the Bible only is the reliable source of spiritual & doctrinal truth; (4) all beliefs in conflict with Biblical teachings are false.---

Thousands of years of sacred & secular history illustrate that when man follows God's rules for society they are blessed. Psalm 33:12 states, "Blessed is that nation whose God is the Lord..." The same history proves over and over again that when people reject God's rules the plunge into wickedness, degradation, immorality & chaos is sure to follow.

The following quote from "Growing Wise in Family Life" by Chuck Swindoll is very revealing. It should ring a warning bell in the minds of those who are interested in seeing America return to God.

"In 1947, sociologist and historian Carle Zimmerman compared the deterioration and ultimate disintegration of various cultures with the parallel in the decline of the family unit in America. His study identified specific patterns of behavior that typified the final stages of the disintegration of each culture. Just before each culture fell into total disarray, certain conditions became prominent. Dr. Zimmerman traced those elements that led to the demise of the family unit. There were eleven in all...and among the eleven were:

- ~ Increased & rapid, easy, 'causeless' divorce. (Guilty & innocent party theory became pure fiction.)
- ~ Decreased number of children, population decay, and increased public disrespect for parents and parenthood.
- ~ Elimination of the real meaning of the marriage ceremony.
- ~ Popularity of pessimistic doctrines about early heroes.
- ~ Breaking down of the inhibitions against adultery.
- ~ Revolts of youth against parents so that parenthood became more and more difficult for those who did try to raise children.
- ~ Rapid rise and spread of juvenile delinquency.
- ~ Common acceptance of all forms of sex perversions."

Conclusion: If there is any hope for America to escape the present slide into obscurity it is that the American people insist on returning to Biblical principles regarding marriage and the family!!

Is your propane cylinder SAFE?

Propane cylinders must be periodically requalified to be safe for use. Do not use cylinders that have not been requalified because you risk property damage, severe injuries, or death.

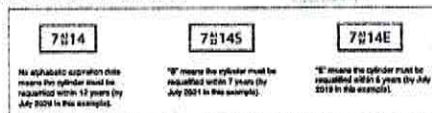

To see if your cylinder is okay to use, look for these markings:

Manufacturing Date:
Cylinders must be requalified within 12 years of manufacture (in this illustration by May 2017).

Requalification Date:
If the cylinder is older than 12 years, look for a "requalification date".

Other possible requalification markings:

*A list of US DOT approved requalifiers and their ID number (RI#) is available on the PHMSA website: <http://portal.phmsa.dot.gov/ri#locator>
For more information, contact the Hazmat Info Center: 1-800-467-4622

Rocky Mountain Supply is happy to offer propane cylinder requalification FREE of charge. Please make sure your propane cylinders are empty and plan a little extra time for the inspection process. We are unable to fill cylinders that are out of date until they have been requalified.

VAN'S IGA HOMETOWN PROUD

I have served in two administrations as President of the City Council. My City Council service was from 2005-2009 and 2014-2017. I have the experience working on City issues. I was a skilled administrator for school districts over 23 years. I asked for cooperation and was able to inspire action. I can do the same for Dillon.

Here are the Goals for the first year of my term:

- listening to constituents and their elected representatives
- reviewing local ordinances and removing ineffective regulations
- enforcing ordinances that remain
- balancing the city budget without raiding the reserves
- promoting the general welfare of all in the community
- building team work in the City workforce and community
- using planning documents (CIP, Downtown Plan, and Five Year Plan) to set the budget and guide expenditures
- finding effective and efficient ways to repair the streets
- maintaining public safety (peace officers and fire prevention)
- providing safe drinking water, and continuing sanitary sewer services
- keeping the business of the City of Dillon always in the number one position

As a result of working with people all my professional life I have become a skilled team builder. Ranging from teams gathered from temporary workers to military men and women, I was able to share my vision of the tasks and get the work done. I enjoy working as part of an effective team which allows all to grow and enjoy success.

As a City Councilman, I was the leader of the committee that made sense out of the Police Retirement problem and worked to obtain approval from the voters to resolve the ever growing deficit. We capped the deficit and will pay off the bonds used to fully fund the obligation.

I also was President of the Council when the Thompson Avenue portion of town was added to the sewer and water systems operated by the City. It seems very hard to visualize that this health protection for the City came in 2008, not 1908.

My vision of Dillon includes fixing the streets all over town. It will take time to address all the issues but it can be done. We need to make a plan and work the plan during the budget process and work scheduling.

We have a Downtown Plan, a CIP, and a Five Year Plan all of which are purchased or updated at the cost of thousands of dollars but are not used other than to check the box in grant applications. Those plans also need to be used in planning budgets and work schedules. They are too expensive to gather dust in the office!

Our water treatment plant is operating successfully. The main waterline is about 100 years old and has been tested by engineers. It needs to be replaced to keep our City healthy. We will do it in the most economically effective manner that will support our current population and allow for growth!

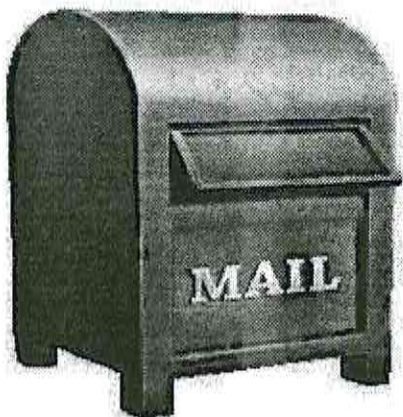

It takes teamwork to operate the City. Vote Tom Straugh!

KLAKKEN FOR MAYOR

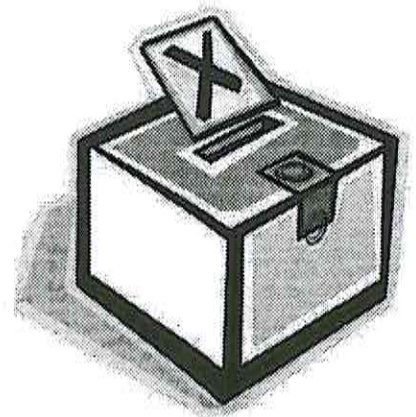

Mike Klakken has the experience, education, and knowledge necessary to continue to be “your” Mayor.

My Vision for Dillon Includes:

- Continuing to Investigate the Most Cost Effect Methods and Alternatives for Street Repairs.
- Working closely with the Zoning committee to revise Zoning to encourage , not impede, businesses and individuals to invest in the City of Dillon.
- Finding the Best Alternative for Replacing the West Side Main Waterline Based on Types and Lifespan of Materials and Cost of Project.
- Working With the Cemetery Committee to Improve the Mountain View Cemetery Grounds.
- Looking For Ways to Make Dillon Grow and Keeping the Home Town Atmosphere.

Letter to the Editor:

I work at a veterinary clinic in the Dillon community, and I would like to share my point of view with the pet owners in our small town.

Our schedule has 12-15 appointment slots Monday through Friday, 5 days a week. Appointments vary from simple nail trims to surgery and are usually booked out about 1 and 1/2 weeks in advance. Additionally, we see another 5 emergency/urgent cases per day.

Some of these are true emergencies and others are animals which just need to be seen as soon as possible.

Daily, the veterinarians care for their hospitalized patients, see appointments, run several diagnostics such as bloodwork, urinalysis, fecal evaluations, x-rays, cytology, etc to evaluate the patient's condition and help determine the cause of the animal's issue(s). Add to that the follow up care of the animals that have been seen in the last few days to weeks. Add to that the after hour emergency calls, which sometimes come at 3 o'clock in the morning. And then the next day comes and it all starts over again. That's a small glimpse of what a veterinarian does everyday. And that is not just where I work, this scenario is the same for all of the clinics in the Dillon area.

I have seen client walk in the door unannounced with a pet that has been run over, poisoned or with a gunshot. I have been part of a team working to save a dog and her puppies during an emergency c-section and again while trying to save the lives of two dogs that have been poisoned. I use the word team because it is always an all hands on deck situation in that kind of emergency. Everyone who works here drops what they are doing and rushes to take command from the veterinarian working so hard to save that life. I have witnessed the success of saving a life and the tragic loss the whole team feels when the animals dies. I have witness the veterinarian who has to break bad news, comfort and advise clients about their animals and I have seen it break her heart when all her research, and knowledge and care (day and night) come to the inevitable conclusion of a grave prognosis.

So whatever expectations you have of your veterinarian, remember this:

Your pets health and well being start in your hands.

May I offer some advice:

- 1) Ask yourself: Before you make a pet part of your life what steps are you prepared to keep this animal healthy and well cared for.
- 2) Train: your dog and teach it good manners. Start with sit and stay and leash train.
- 3) Don't wait: if your animal has an issue such as vomiting/diarrhea, limping/packing leg, lumps/bumps, abscesses, coughing/sneezing,bleeding. Call and make an appointment ASAP.
- 4) Be honest: When the receptionist, technician or veterinarian takes a history for your animal. Animals cannot speak for themselves, it's up to you. Do not hide facts as it makes it very difficult to diagnose and treat them
- 5) Diagnostics are important: when your veterinarian suggests a diagnostic procedure; remember it is just as important to know what is NOT wrong with your pet as it is to have a positive test result. There is no magic pill or magic button to know what is wrong with every animal, every time.
- 6) Start a pet savings : your pets health care is supposed to be for the life of your animal. Literally. Prepare yourself for not only the cost of vaccines but all those unexpected events that come with owning a pet. Your veterinarian cannot treat your pet for free; they have bills to pay too (employees, suppliers, utilities, mortgages, insurance, work comp, liability insurance, licenses....and this is not the end of the list). To imply veterinarians are just "in it for the money" is nonsense. They spend 8 years in school, same as a human physician and often make less than a quarter of the salary with the same debt load.
- 7) Expectations: to expect your veterinarian to be on call 24/7, 365 days of the year is in a word "Unreasonable". Your vet has a personal life with all the interests and complications that entails. They are HUMAN; maybe more so than the rest of us sometimes. After all their lives are dedicated to the care of other peoples animals. The highs and lows you suffer and embrace with your pet, your veterinarian and their staff suffer with hundreds of pets.

Respectfully
Adele C. Hansen
