Attorney General Fox Urges Repeal of Law Restricting Action Against Drug Companies

In a letter to Congressional leadership sent Monday evening, Attorney General Tim Fox joined a bipartisan coalition of 44 attorneys general urging Congress to repeal a law restricting punishment of prescription drug manufacturers and distributors. The plea from the state attorneys general comes during a time of national outcry over increased overdose deaths related to prescription opioids.

Passed in April 2016, the Ensuring Patient Access and Effective Drug Enforcement Act effectively strips the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) of its ability to issue an immediate suspension order against drug manufacturers and distributors whose unlawful conduct poses an imminent danger to public health or safety.

The Act redefined in federal law "imminent danger to the public health or safety" to mean "substantial likelihood of an immediate threat of death, serious bodily harm, or abuse of a controlled substance." By doing so, the Act created a standard nearly impossible for the DEA to meet, preventing enforceable action against pharmaceutical companies and distributors whose actions pose a threat to public health.

"At a time when increased opioid overdoses continue to cripple communities across the country, it makes no sense to have laws on the books preventing federal agencies from taking justifiable action against drug companies acting unlawfully," said Attorney General Tim Fox. "Through my Aid Montana initiative, my office is working to address all aspects of substance abuse in Montana. This includes joining forces with my attorney general colleagues, urging Congress to repeal laws like this that stand in the way of getting the substance abuse crisis under control."

Joining Attorney General Fox in the letter are attorneys general from Alabama, Alaska, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, District of Columbia, FL, GA, Hawaii, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, MI, MN, Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, North Carolina, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, SC, SD, Vermont, Virgin Islands, Virginia, Washington, and West Virginia.

Daines, Fox Continue 'Brawl of the Wild' Rivalry

For the fifth straight year, Montana Attorney General Tim Fox and Montana's U.S. Senator Steve Daines continue their 'Brawl of the Wild' wager for the University of Montana - Montana State University football game. The Bobcats (4-6) and Grizzlies (7-3) clash this Saturday at Bobcat Stadium in Bozeman.

The terms of this year's bet: the loser will sport the colors of the winning team and record a video, congratulating them. The loser will share the video on Twitter and Facebook.

While Fox won the bet the first three years in a row, the Bobcats' victory last year puts the pressure on for a Griz "W."

"Although the rivalry between us has been a bit rough on the Senator, I was able to convince him to keep the wager alive after the Cats finally scored a victory last season following a three-year drought," Fox said. "I hope Steve held on to the nice Griz shirt I gave him a few years back as a prize for one of his three losses. He's going to need it."

Daines added, "As Attorney General Fox had to learn the hard way last year, we call it Cat-Griz for a reason. I look forward to celebrating the win at an electric Bobcat Stadium this weekend and keeping the Great Divide Trophy in Bozeman for another year. I know Attorney General Fox already has a nice Blue and Gold ball cap - I encourage him to wear it in the video he'll be sending my way after Saturday's game."

Senator Daines graduated from Montana State University in 1984 with a degree in chemical engineering. Attorney General Fox graduated from the University of Montana in 1981 with a degree in geology and in 1987 with a law degree.

First Meeting Of Yellowstone Grizzly Coordinating Committee

The Yellowstone Ecosystem Subcommittee (YES) was the multi-agency body responsible for coordinating grizzly bear recovery in the Yellowstone Ecosystem. Now that the grizzly in the Yellowstone Ecosystem has again been delisted, the name of the group officially changes to the Yellowstone Grizzly Coordinating Committee (YGCC). This name change and many other facets of management of a delisted population are dictated by the Conservation Strategy (CS), a document crafted as part of the plan to recover the grizzlies in the Yellowstone Ecosystem.

The meeting will be held at Chico Hot Springs in Pray, MT. and start at 1 pm on Thursday, Nov. 30 and should be finished around noon on Friday, Dec. 1. One of the first orders of business that the committee will take action upon is to review and vote on is the charter for the group. The YGCC will use the CS to direct the agenda for much of the meeting and it directing how the states of Idaho, Montana, and Wyoming will move forward with management of this recovered population of grizzly bears. Public comment will be taken just before the meeting adjourns on Friday, December 1.

ROTARY SPEAKER

Toby Hefner and Kyzer Bair will be the featured presenters at the noon Rotary meeting scheduled for Wednesday, Nov. 15. Hefner and Bair will discuss their experiences from the 2017 RYLA (Rotary Youth Leadership Awards) camp held at Luccock Park Camp in Livingston, MT.

The Rotary Club will meet at the Guild Hall of St. James Episcopal Church located at 203 East Glendale St. in Dillon. Visitors are welcome to join Rotarians for lunch. The presentation is scheduled to begin at 12:30 p.m. For more information, email Deb Hedeon at deborahhedeon@gmail.com or Roxanne Engellant at engellantr@gmail.com.
