Beaverhead-Deerlodge National Forest Seeking Applicants for Summer Jobs

The U.S. Forest Service is seeking qualified applicants to fill temporary, full-time positions for the 2018 summer season on National Forests in Montana. Available jobs include firefighting, recreation, customer service, engineering, and several scientific fields. Beaverhead-Deerlodge National Forest locations include Dillon, Butte, Ennis, Philipsburg, Wisdom, Whitehall, and Wise River.

There will be two opportunities to apply for summer jobs, all online through www.usajobs.gov.

The first opportunity will be for fire and recreation positions. All these jobs will likely be listed as Forestry Aid or Forestry Technician, but will include a variety of different positions. Firefighting opportunities include entry-level firefighter, fire engine operator, handcrew member, and helitack crewmember. Recreation jobs will include general recreation, trails, and wilderness trails. Positions for all these jobs will be advertised on USAJobs January 3 to 9.

The second opportunity includes a variety of different fields, including forestry, range, archaeology, botany, fisheries, wildlife, hydrology, engineering, equipment operations, and customer service. Positions for all these jobs will be advertised on USAJobs January 31 to February 6.

The Forest Service recommends preparing your online job application early, by registering an account in USAJobs, creating an online resume, and uploading copies of school transcripts and other relevant information.

More information is available on the Beaverhead-Deerlodge National Forest website at www.fs.usda.gov/main/bdnf. Look for the Employment Information link on the right. There you will find Outreach Notices with more details on all the available opportunities, including local contacts for each position at each duty location.

The start date, length of season and number of positions hired will depend upon budget and individual unit needs. None of the positions will exceed six months in length. Seasonal housing may be available in some locations.

Forest Supervisor Melany Glossa encourages people to consider working on the Beaverhead Deerlodge this summer: "This year we expect to again hire well over 100 summer employees to help manage the 3.3 million acres of public land in our corner of Montana. Working for the U.S. Forest Service is a rewarding experience, with beautiful landscapes, challenging work, sound science, great co-workers, and engaged and helpful communities."

For more information contact the Beaverhead-Deerlodge National Forest office in Dillon at (406) 683-3900, or any of the District offices in Dillon, Butte, Ennis, Philipsburg, or Wisdom.

Gentlemen and Ladies

By: MJ

I was attending a public meeting where there was all men on a panel. A women walked in with a baby carrier seating herself in the audience. The child started to fuss and she preceded to openly nurse the child without as much as a cover. This seemed to be a distraction for others attending the meeting. It appeared that there was no consideration nor respect for other people in the room nor their feelings

I am from the old school that believes nursing a child is a private and precious time between mother and child. Question: Would it have been if the mother stepped into an area where she could make nursing a time of joy for both child and mother, a time to make my child feel secure and loved... The other options may have been to carry a bottle or leave the baby in the care of a loved one. This is one of those hot tamale issues where some people are sensitive, find it offensive and oppose nursing in public and others believe it is perfectly fine.

What has happened to the "morals" and the "principles" of right and wrong behavior?

Ladies, be a lady and men be a gentleman and respect the lady.

Letter to the Editor

A short while ago you had a front-page lead article that a woman's "No Means No," as a response to an avalanche of public [male] figures engaging in sexual abusive behavior, I suggest that our whole culture shares that blame. Having observed our society for the past nine decades, I well-recall the days when most women WERE firmly saying NO!

Our problem, however, is deeper with the addition of other factors. The popular media is now livid with programs and music designed to exploit the sex appetite. Common dress habits of women are deliberately purposed to arouse sexual feelings. Addictive pornography is readily accessible to both minors and adults. Thus, what other response should we expect?

But these situations are feeding on the public's market for them and are only symptoms of a yet deeper plague: we have been willing for God "to be thrown under the bus." When we accept the silly notion that we exist as "an accident," ignoring the clear evidence that we are created by a glorious, all-wise, perfectly holy Creator, we should EXPECT calamities when we neglect the Voice of His Word!

With very clear words in the Bible New Testament, we are invited to the Cross of His dear Son to secure the restoration of the purity of His Life for each of our hearts. By this, moms and dads can lead the children of their families in the joyful blessing of love and good morals and provide sound role models for them!

H. Eugene Eslinger
