Medicare Fraud Watch Program

The Southwest Montana Retired Educators' Association will host a special program Friday, January 5, 2018 at 1:00 pm in the day room at the Bicentennial Apartment complex.

The program will discuss Medicare fraud and ways to identify and avoid fraudulent practices. We especially encourage all interested seniors and disabled people to attend. Come and learn about this growing problem and how you can join the fight to stop Medicare fraud. Refreshments will be served.

BOA Annual Banquet

Dear Beaverhead Outdoors Association Supporter: Here we come again. The BOA is having their annual banquet/auction/fund raiser on Feb. 3rd, at the Dillon Elks Lodge. This is our only fund raiser of each year, and a necessity for our ongoing projects. I know that most of you know already that the BOA has been responsibilities for taking care of the kid's fish pond and sponsoring the Kid's Fish Derby for many years. We have been involved in many other projects over the years, including the never ending battle of keeping our public lands open to multiple use, which includes livestock, mining, access to hunting & fishing, and hopefully the use of our renewable timber resources. We have already seen the devastating fires across the states, and see it as a no win for anybody. Use it or lose it! We are requesting your assistance again by donating new or lightly used items for our live & silent auctions. Also our members will be selling raffle tickets for some nice outdoor items. Your support is greatly appreciated. Call 683-4745 for pick-up of donations.

Thank you for your support.

My War On Shoelaces Marches Into 2018

Tyrades! by Danny Tyree

Will 2018 be the year when I finally stomp out my footwear malfunctions?

Perhaps I can even inspire others. A quick Google search reveals a distressing number of people are vexed and perplexed by shoelaces that suddenly, repeatedly unravel at inopportune times.

I often find myself gazing skyward and pleading for an answer to the question, "Why, oh why can I go six weeks without a slip-up and then have the same shoelaces fall apart twelve times in a single day?"

I have literally walked across a room and experienced freshly re-tied shoestrings coming undone. It's like I have my own "12 Steps" program. ("My name is Danny and I am really sorry I tripped and made you spill your alcohol.")

I'm self-conscious about the subject because my mother thinks unkempt shoestrings are one sign of being "slouchy," and I know that like-minded bystanders have a sixth sense for smugly announcing, "Hey, your shoe is untied!" just as I'm about to tend to it myself.

I feel that these people are judging me. I just know they are making unjustified extrapolations, such as "If you traipse around with untamed shoestrings, you must also lie about flossing, abuse the passing lane, eat endangered species and suffer from a low sperm count." These nosey losers probably also have the mistaken notion that I'm PARANOID.

Uncooperative shoelaces have remained a mystery for 5,500 years; but more recently, mechanical engineers at the University of California (Berkeley) have been using accelerometers and slow-motion video to study the combination of swing and impact that supposedly causes the problem. More power to them; but I'm skeptical, partly because they have arrived at no explanation for the RANDOMNESS of the malfunctions. ("Duh, it's Tuesday, so I'd better suddenly start tying my shoelaces wrong. And forks are supposed to be stored in electrical outlets, aren't they?")

I also balk at research showing that shoelace knots experience more g-force than a rollercoaster. ("Look out! My Air Jordans are gonna hurl!") Although, admittedly, my SHIRT BUTTONS do experience something akin to an intercontinental ballistic missile's reentry after I've hit a Golden Corral buffet.

Surely there must be other explanations for the rebellious shoestrings. According to folklore, a shoestring coming untied means you are in the thoughts of a friend. Hey, friends, don't think of me unless you see a post of me in flip flops on the beach!

I don't want to question the physicists, but maybe it's GREMLINS performing the mischief. I can just imagine William Shatner screaming, "Stewardess, there's something on the tongue of those wingtips!"

Maybe it's a Velcro conspiracy. Then again, one retail clerk confided in me, "I TOLD you to get the extended warranty."

I guess I'm really looking for sympathy/empathy and an all-encompassing explanation rather than a practical workaround. Video tutorials certainly abound, showing how much the squared off "reef knot" surpasses the "granny knot" and how retraining your brain to use the former will solve your knot problems, cure cancer and persuade Pres. Trump to have his pronouncements handled exclusively by monks with quill pens.

I'm trying not to have a meltdown over this. This is not the time for taking names and kicking derrieres. That's mostly because I'm afraid my size 14 would go sailing through the air. ("Uh, could you please return my sneaker...let's see, it's here on the list...Nathan?")

Battlin' Bears Set for Green & Gold Classic

Annual event will be played on Friday and Saturday in the Fortin Center

The Rocky Mountain College men's basketball team returns from the holiday break this weekend as they play host to the Hampton Inn/Wells Fargo Green & Gold Classic. Rocky will face Dickinson State on Friday and then faces San Diego Christian on Saturday. Both of the Rocky games will tip at 7:30 p.m.

Montana Western will play at 1:30 p.m. both days, facing San Diego Christian on Friday and Dickinson State on Saturday.

All games of the Green & Gold Classic will have live video available on the Rocky Athletics You Tube page by following @battlinbears. Live stats can be found at sidearmstats.com/rocky/mbball. Complete coverage of the Green & Gold Classic is available at GoBattlinBears.com/classic.

Rocky returns to action at 7-5 overall this season after going 1-2 during the Cactus Classic in Arizona before the break. The weekend sees the Battlin' Bears return to the Fortin Center for the first time since falling to MSU Billings, 82-72, in an exhibition game on November 1. Rocky is 2-0 in countable home games after wins over Yellowstone Christian and Salish Kootenai in late October.

The Battlin' Bears started the season with six straight wins, but they have struggled of late with only one win in their last six outings. They are 0-2 in Frontier Conference play to sit tied with Montana Tech as the only teams without a conference win through one weekend of play.

Rocky ranks 17th in the NAIA by scoring 91.9 points per game this season and they are shooting 48.4 percent from the floor to rank 32nd nationally. They make 9.5 3-pointers per game and convert on 39.3 percent from deep. The team collects 43.0 rebounds per game and makes 71.3 percent at the foul line.

Defensively, the Battlin' Bears are allowing 73.8 points per game to rank 17th in the NAIA. Rocky limits the opposition to 41.0 percent from the field and they force 17.4 turnovers per game while getting 9.2 steals and 4.1 blocks per game.

Jared Samuelson leads the team and ranks third in the Frontier in scoring at 18.5 points per game. In the last six games, Samuelson has two 30-point scoring games, two 20-point outings and he has raised his season average by nearly seven points per game. He was the Frontier Conference Player of the Week on December 18 after getting 24 points and 17 rebounds against Menlo in the opener of the Cactus Classic.

Latrelle Franklin is second in the team in scoring at 13.8 points per game and he leads the team with 66 assists and 24 steals. Franklin ranks fourth in the NAIA at 5.50 assists per game and eighth in total assists. He is also 26th nationally with an average of 2.00 steals per game while his steal total is 29th in the country.

Chad Kananen averages 10.0 points per game and has a team-best 32 makes from beyond the arc. Kananen is 31st nationally in made 3-pointers and 41st at 2.67 made threes per game. He shoots 45.7 percent from deep to place 42nd in the NAIA.

Next week, Rocky will remain home as they return to Frontier Conference play with a pair of home games against national ranked opponents. The Battlin' Bears will welcome No. 11 Lewis-Clark State on January 4 before facing No. 17 Montana Western on January 6. Both games will tipoff at 7:30 p.m. in the Fortin Center.
