Ella Laden

April 7, 1923 – January 4, 2018

The Early Years

I was born Ella Frieda in Black Coulee, which lies nestled at the foot of the Bear Paw Mountains, near the place where Chief Joseph had his "Last Stand". My father and mother, August and Louise Mueller, both came from Germany through Ellis Island, in the early 1900's. They farmed 10 miles south of Chinook on about 2000 acres. We raised wheat, lots of it, and oats, barley, and flax. Our cattle ranged on Tiger Ridge. I was the middle one, the 5th in a family of 9 children. We had pigs, chickens, geese, turkeys, and lots of chores—cows to milk, garden to hoe, and always the shelter belt to weed. We played games like "kick the can", "last couple out", "pump-pump pull-away", marbles, hop scotch, checkers, and tag. Life was good! Several memorable highlights include when I was about 10, I took a trip. I went with our neighbor, Anna, to Chinook, in the team and spring wagon. Wagons and buggies were not the same. It was an all-day trip. It was July 3rd. Anna got some thread and notions. Then we went to the ice house where a man dropped a big chunk of ice into a tub, which was covered. Then on July 4th, we had homemade ice cream. My it was good! Then one 4th of July, we were in Chinook for the Big Parade. We each had an ice cream cone and a bottle of orange Crush. Life was good. You see, Papa had a trade, he was a builder and stone mason. So he was able to build chimneys, plaster, etc. He took jobs, so we were never as poor as some people. We never took welfare. So much for the 30's.

School Days

Then there was school. In the mornings, we stood-up, faced the flag, said the Pledge of Allegiance, said a prayer to God to bless our nation, our leaders, our school, parents, teachers, and students, then we sat down and classes began. My first 3 years we rented a small house in Chinook. The next year we rode a cracker-box-like school bus. My feet still have chilblains from when they were frosted in the bus. Girls wore long brown stockings, and dresses, and the boys wore pants. We had lots of sweaters. One day we got to school and it was -52 below zero. We were sent home. Then we were home-bound for 3 weeks due to the snow. I achieved in school. I did well and graduated in 1941, as class valedictorian. I was ready to take my place in the world and make a difference. You remember the days when you knew everything. Life was an oyster and you were the pearl. Life was great! Ah, the enthusiasm of youth!

The Middle and the Long Haul

December 7th, the war came. It changed the world, our land, and everything. After graduation I had $50.00 from my parents. I set out for Dillon Normal College in Dillon, Mt. Another sister had settled there. I had a scholarship and I was the valedictorian, wasn't I? So to school. I did a year. Romance bloomed. Was hysteria love. My schooling was to be put on hold until later. I met and married a tall, lean Irishman, John Laden. We farmed South of Dillon on an irrigated hay and cow set-up. Life was good. We were blessed with 3 children-Jack, Donnette, and Timothy. We did all the things involved in growing up—sports, clubs, projects—everything. We weathered the Mountain peaks and valleys. We serve a mighty God. I went back to school and got my Master's degree. I taught in the Dillon Elementary schools for 30 years. Life was great! We did everything—winter skiing, swimming etc. Then in 1980, John had cancer and died. Timothy interrupted his dreams to take care of his dad. Tim was going to Bozeman to become a veterinarian. Somehow he slid into the role of taking care of the farm and me. The others grew up and left. Life was again good.

Loving the Beaches

Romance again, this time I married an engineer, Les Fultz of Lincoln City. We lived right on the ocean in Neskowin, Oregon. It was beautiful. We explored the West coast from Canada to Calif. I loved the beaches and spent many hours there collecting sand dollars. The good years passed. We got old. After, Les passed away, I returned to Dillon, MT.

The Last Chapter

Eventually I ended up in Scranton, N.D. Here I found wonderful people who made life again good. You all have been so good to me. Thanks. I would say, embrace life-live each day fully and gratefully. Life is a precious gift. Love God. Love People.

April.

Visitation is scheduled for Sunday, January 14th from 7 - 9 PM and again January 15th from 8 - 9:30 at Brundage Funeral Home. Funeral Services are scheduled for January 15th at 10 AM at Brundage, there is a guestbook available online at www.brundagefuneralhome.com.

Patrick and Anna Armstrong presented at Montana Western's Senior Seminar Class in December. Anna explained why it is so important to find ways to teach children to value who they are as a people.

GRANT SUPPORTS PARTNERSHIP IN MONTANA TO INCREASE INDIGENOUS EDUCATORS ON THE BLACKFEET RESERVATION

A $1M federal Office of Indian Education grant supports a partnership between Blackfeet Community College (BCC), the Browning Public Schools and the University of Montana Western. Over 40 Indigenous teacher candidates seeking a K8 (Kindergarten through eighth grade) or P3 (Preschool through third grade) degree and/or certification are currently enrolled as students at Montana Western. Most are also taking courses at BCC and are teachers, paraprofessionals or long-term substitute teachers in and around Browning, Mont.

Multiple outcomes are targeted by the grant's implementation, but the most important objective is to design and implement a sustainable program that will address the long-existing shortage of teachers serving Indigenous children on the Blackfeet Reservation. A combination of high turnover, difficulty in recruitment and predominance of novice teachers contribute to the challenges of serving the needs of children. Ms. Dee Hoyt is the Director of Education at Blackfeet Community College and the Principle Investigator of the grant. Dr. Jen Gilliard coordinates the P3 program which serves 12 candidates in their online courses. Montana Western Education Professor Dr. Vikki Howard coordinates the K8 program which serves 31 candidates through a unique in-service model.

The dearth of Indigenous educators, those who are best able to connect to children through the lens of the Blackfeet world view, contributes to issues of identity, school drop-out rate, social and behavioral problems and long-term poverty. Many of the Candidates are already teaching with a provisional license; others are full time educators serving as paraprofessionals, and the remainder are apprentices, teaching 5-10 hours per week as a teaching assistant.

Through this grant, Montana Western and BCC have recruited Blackfeet faculty to design and deliver a Blackfeet culturally infused K8-UMW curriculum, for Blackfeet teacher candidates who teach or will teach in the Browning schools. The college curriculum matches pedagogy and curricula used in the Browning Schools, so candidates can move seamlessly from Montana Western classrooms to their classrooms.

One of the Montana Western faculty, Lona Running Wolf, brought two of her students to Montana Western's campus on Friday, December 1, 2017 to speak to returning student teachers at Senior Seminar. Lona Running Wolf was a 6th grade teacher, who was recently moved to "coach" at Napi Elementary School in Browning. She holds a Master's Degree in Literacy and is a Nationally Certified PAX trainer (a program designed to support children's resiliency). In her presentation, Lona described the differences between the Western (Euro) World View and the Blackfeet World View. She explained that generations of trauma have significantly disrupted Blackfeet Ways, leading to the outcomes described above. Through a Blackfeet-grounded education—one that also includes the foundation for success in the Western world, Ms. Running Wolf explained, it will be possible to rebuild ancient values, restore harmony and eventually erase the roots of poverty.

Mr. Patrick Armstrong, one of Lona's students, described ways that he is applying both Indigenous and Western pedagogy with his own students. He has been teaching for 8 years in Browning Public Schools (BPS) as a language educator with a Class 7 license (Native language). He uses a traditional flute to gain his children's attention, and tells traditional stories in the traditional way to help children value their Blackfeet identity. His story about parenting and hunting, revealed traditional practices and values—while weaving an illustration of a basic teaching method: gradual release.

Ms. Anna Armstrong, also one of Lona's students who teaches in BPS, just began teaching in August with a provisional license (Class 5), after working for many years in the private sector as a business woman. She earned her Bachelor's Degree in Finance from MSU-N, and is now applying her considerable talent teaching young children. While it is difficult to find time among the demands of the standard curriculum, Anna explained why it is so important to find ways to teach children to value who they are as a people, as well as the use of ceremonies, language, and stories that children can use to embrace their history and their future.

ROTARY SPEAKER

University of Montana Western Professor, Vikki Howard, will be the featured presenter at the noon Rotary meeting scheduled for Wednesday, January 10, 2018. Professor Howard will discuss the work she is doing in collaboration with the Blackfeet Community College and Browning Public Schools to increase Indigenous Educators on the Blackfeet Reservation. A $1M federal grant from the Office of Indian Education supports the partnership and objective to design and implement a sustainable program that will address the long-existing shortage of teachers serving Indigenous children on the Blackfeet Reservation.

The Rotary Club will meet at the Guild Hall of St. James Episcopal Church located at 203 East Glendale St. in Dillon. Visitors are welcome to join Rotarians for lunch. The presentation is scheduled to begin at 12:30 p.m. For more information, email Deb Hedeem at deborahhedeem@gmail.com or Roxanne Engellant at engellantn@gmail.com.
