Irma Leone Vasser

Irma Leone Vasser passed away on January 18, 2018. Born in Saskatchewan, Canada, on July 19, 1928, she was the fourth of seven children, born to Arthur and Leone Frederick. She became a naturalized citizen in 1964.

Irma came to Dillon in the summer of 1969 with her husband Harry, they later divorced. They ran the Andrus hotel and bus stop for several years in the early 70's, she later worked as a LPN in the area and retired from Barrett Hospital. She was an avid gardener and seamstress. She enjoyed quilting, crossword puzzles, and reading. She made several trips to visit family in Canada and Arizona, often with a co-pilot to help pass time and make memories along the way.

She was preceded in death by a daughter, Sheila Larche. She is survived by sister Pansy Fiissel of Regina, Saskatchewan, daughters Lorry Atkins of Missoula, Teresa (Dan) Pilon of Dillon, son-in-law David Larche of Phoenix AZ, grandchildren Tadd Pilon, Brian (Shanna) Pilon, Rory (Shantel) Pilon, Kristen Larche, Tyler Larche, and nine great-grandchildren.

At her request there are no services planned.

Eugene "Shaker" Thomson

While receiving the Last Rights from Dillon's own Father Pascal, Eugene "Shaker" Thomson passed peacefully from this life at his home on December 31. He was surrounded by family—all three children and two grandchildren. While his spirit remained strong, his body grew weak and ultimately failed in his 97th year of life.

Shaker was born February 14, 1921 in Anaconda, the first of four children, to Alexander "Scotty" and Ann (Laslovich) Thomson. He graduated from St. Peter's Catholic High School (class of 1938) and attended Montana State Normal School, currently known as UM-Western. He entered the Coast Guard in 1942 and honorably completed a 4-year enlistment. His 56-year marriage to Jean Todorovich, also of Anaconda, began in 1961 and lasted until her peaceful passing this past March. Their union produced three children, six grandchildren, and six great grandchildren. Shaker worked for the Anaconda Company for many years before pursuing what would become the first of three successful runs for Deer Lodge County Sheriff in 1966. He served as Sheriff until 1978 when the city and county governments consolidated and the position was no longer an elected office. During his tenure, the Anaconda jail had a reputation for the "best food in the area"—where he often cooked well received meals for his jailhouse guests.

Family, friends, co-workers and inmates will all remember him for uncommon compassion, offering "opportunity" or encouragement when it mattered most, and for his unique ability for extended conversation—even with complete strangers—and particularly while shopping in the local groceries. In so many ways, he really was larger-than-life, and those indelible memories will live forever in the hearts and minds of current and future generations.

Shaker was an accomplished bowler and golfer, reveling in his Men's League nights at Cedar Park Lanes, Copper City Bowl and Anaconda Country Club. He enjoyed fly fishing (his favorite stream being Rock Creek), reading (many hours spent at the Hearst Free and UM-Western libraries), gardening (especially planting and growing lettuce) cooking and spending time with family. Shaker was a devout Catholic. He and Jean sponsored students who attended Anaconda Central High School before its closure in 1973. He was also a member of the Knights of Columbus Fourth Degree and served in the

Attorney General Fox Applauds Supreme Court Ruling on WOTUS Challenge

Fox vows to continue legal battle against Obama-era overreach

Attorney General Tim Fox praised a decision issued Monday by The Supreme Court of the United States, allowing continuation of legal challenges to the Obama Administration's Waters of the U.S. (WOTUS) rule.

In 2015, a coalition of 13 states, including Montana, filed a lawsuit in federal district court challenging the legality of the EPA and U.S. Army Corps of Engineers' newly adopted WOTUS rule. Other states and private parties also filed lawsuits challenging WOTUS, but did so in various Federal Circuit Courts of Appeals. The jurisdictional discrepancy ultimately lead to the U.S. Supreme Court having to determine the proper venue to hear challenges to the WOTUS rule.

While the courts have enjoined the EPA from implementing the rule, the various cases in district and circuit courts have been on hold while the U.S. Supreme Court determined the proper venue to hear challenges to the rule. The Supreme Court's decision today resolved the jurisdictional questions, allowing Montana's case to move forward before a Federal District Court Judge in North Dakota.

The Supreme Court ruled that continuation of challenges to WOTUS must begin in Federal District Court, the position advocated by the State of Montana. This ruling ensures that trial courts (Federal District Courts) will hear challenges to the merits of the WOTUS rule, rather than courts of appeals.

Applauding the Supreme Court's decision, Attorney General Fox said, "Today's decision is a victory for Montana as it allows continuation of the lawsuit against the Obama Administration's unlawful Waters of the U.S. rule. By moving forward with the lawsuit, the coalition of states hope to prevent any future presidential administration from violating federal law through the issuance of regulations in an attempt to circumvent Congress."

In February of last year, President Trump issued an executive order directing the EPA and Army Corps of Engineers to begin a new rulemaking process for Clean Water Act enforcement, effectively repealing the WOTUS rule. However, the states challenging the WOTUS rule want to continue the legal case in order to establish judicial precedent that precludes future administrations from promulgating unlawful rules similar to what the Obama Administration adopted.

Missoula BLM meeting postponed

Due to the government shutdown, a meeting to discuss the Missoula Bureau of Land Management's proposed Resource Management Plan has been postponed until further notice.

The open house to discuss preliminary alternatives for the revision of the RMP had been scheduled for Jan. 24 from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. at the Lubrecht Forest-Castles Forestry Center in Greenough, Mont.

While the meeting has been postponed, the public can still review documents and maps discussing the preliminary alternatives at the BLM's ePlanning website: <http://1.usa.gov/21RNCPPG>

The Missoula Field Office is undertaking one of its biggest projects in recent years: overhauling its RMP—the document that guides its management of 162,000 acres of public lands and 268,000 acres of federal mineral interests. Since early 2017, the BLM has held several open houses in the Missoula area in order to identify issues and concerns within the planning area, which includes BLM-administered public lands and federal mineral estate in Flathead, Granite, Lake, Lincoln, Mineral, Missoula, Powell, Ravalli, and Sanders counties.
