Although not strictly civil, this office continues to actively pursue and assert claims for restitution on behalf of the city for actual loss and forensic accounting fees. A preliminary audit report has been reviewed this past week by City Attorney Dolan and Mayor Klakken. The criminal matter is pending, and Mr. Dolan preferred to refrain from further comments at this time.

Attorney General Fox asks Court to Stop Purdue's Opioid Marketing Campaign

Montana is the first state in the nation to make this request

The deceptive promotion and widespread use of prescription opioids continues to exact a heavy toll on the State of Montana and its residents. Recognizing this, Attorney General Tim Fox filed a motion for a preliminary injunction in Montana District Court Tuesday, requesting the court halt Purdue Pharmaceuticals' deceptive and unlawful product marketing campaign in the state.

The attorney general's motion is the latest step taken by his office in a consumer protection lawsuit originally filed against Purdue in December. Purdue is the manufacturer of the prescription opioid, OxyContin.

"As too many Montana families who have lost loved ones to prescription opioids or heroin know, this cannot be business, or litigation, as usual. We have to take urgent action. We have asked the Court to put in place common-sense measures to rein in Purdue's ongoing marketing, to protect public health and safety while the State's complaint moves through the courts," Fox said.

In addition to allegations that Purdue misrepresented the risks of its product, the State's amended complaint, filed January 30, reveals disturbing new information that Purdue engaged in a pattern and practice of "chart-flagging." Purdue's sales representatives encouraged doctors to flag the charts of patients who might be candidates for opioids and asked to review those private patient files with the doctors to discuss putting those patients on Purdue's narcotic drugs. The State alleges this practice, demonstrated by confidential documents and confirmed by a former Purdue sales representative, was directed and sanctioned by Purdue, in violation of Montana law and patients' privacy.

In addition to the declaration from a former Purdue sales representative in Montana, the Attorney General's Office filed declarations from an expert on the impact of pharmaceutical promotion, the director of Montana's Department of Health and Human Services, and a Montana doctor and treatment provider, which attest to the nature, extent, and impact of Purdue's marketing in Montana. Other documents provided to the Court are filed under seal.

The State's motion requests the court direct Purdue to:

1) Immediately cease all sales representative promotions of opioid drugs to prescribers in Montana, committing to the announcement Purdue already made stating it would halt such efforts.

2) Cease making false or misleading claims in all other promotional or educational activity that could reach Montana prescribers or consumers.

3) Immediately implement a program to monitor suspicious orders from pharmacies, based on data available from Purdue's distributors and suspicious prescribing patterns. Purdue must timely report such suspicious orders or prescribing patterns to the Montana Board of Pharmacy or the Montana Board of Medical Examiners.

4) Submit a quarterly compliance monitoring disclosure statement to the Montana Attorney General, including measures taken to implement the monitoring program required above.

FIRE CALL

The Dillon Volunteer Fire Dept. was called to a fire under a trailer at 1498 Hwy 91 North at 8:25 am on Monday. They were thawing pipes with a gas fired heater when it started a fire. They used a fire extinguisher to contain the fire. The DVFD removed skirting around the trailer to finish extinguishing the fire.

Thank You

The continued support and generosity is very much appreciated. Consequently over $600 will be contributed to Heart Fund and Cancer Research. Dillon is Character Rich! Today's characters are teaming up to bring more public art to our town.

Debbie Sporich, Steve Cook and Clare Bailey put their heads together to come up with a book-inspired sculpture that would enhance the newly renovated facade at The Bookstore. Recent meetings held by the Beaverhead Development Corporation and their director, Katie Barba (where they shared their plans for outdoor art in Dillon) motivated the threesome. They wanted to be part of this amazing project! With the Artist, Sponsor Business and Patron of The arts in place they set about making their plan a reality.

Drawing from previous experience in Public Art installations, they had several objectives in mind.

1. Durability: Use durable materials so sculpture is a long term addition to the community with little or no maintenance.
2. Interactive: Create a way to engage the viewers
3. Thematic: The artwork was created to support the sponsor business and Debbie helped with concept.
4. Navigation: Do not impact pedestrian navigation or impede access to business.
5. Compensation: To ensure No Artists Was Harmed in the process Steve was not asked to donate his sculpture and an agreed upon price was set and paid.

The Sculpture entitled "Bovine Bibliophile" was created by metal assemblage artist Steve Cook and showcases a bull sitting on a bench reading a book. There is plenty of room for others to sit next to the sculpture. This encourages the interactive nature in the viewer and provides a great photo opportunity!
