ASSOCIATED STUDENTS OF THE UNIVERSITY OF MONTANA WESTERN HONOR STUDENT CLUBS.

The Associated Students of the University of Montana Western (ASUMW) recently celebrated the 2017-18 school year with a banquet honoring UMW clubs and student led organizations.

ASUMW also honored Vice-Chancellor Susan Briggs and Rodeo Coach/Club Advisor Iola "Olie" Else for their dedicated service to UMW, ASUMW, and various campus clubs. Briggs will retire from UMW at the end of June 2018 after 20 years of dedicated and excellent service to the University of Montana Western, and before that, served in Missoula for 13 years at the University of Montana. Else will retire from her position as Rodeo Coach and Rodeo Club advisor in June. She has been involved with the Montana Western Rodeo Team and Club for the past 50 years.

Safe Ride, an ASUMW program that provides free rides home from the downtown area to UMW students, was honored for their advocacy efforts this past year to curb drinking and driving. Terra Verde and Education Club shared honors for the Community Service Club Award for their volunteer efforts in the Dillon community. Notably, Terra Verde sponsors the community Earth Day Celebration annually while members of the Education Club volunteered throughout the year at the Parkview Elementary and Dillon Middle School Homework Lab. Young Life received the Campus Service Club Award for their efforts this past year to promote fun and rewarding activities on campus. The Most Improved Club Award went to the Vet Science Club. Over the past year, members of the Vet Science Club have toured Veterinary Medicine programs at Washington State University and Montana State University. Rodeo Club received the 2017-18 Best Club Award for their work this past school year. Aside from competing at rodeos, members of the club organized over ten charitable giving projects in the community. Kelsie Field was honored for being a four-year member of ASUMW Student Senate while Chad Funk was honored for being a three-year member. Chad Funk and Jes Tews were introduced as the recipients of 2018 Student Senate Scholarships.

Throughout the Luau-themed banquet, UMW Clubs were commended for their campus and community work over the past year. UMW currently has 32 active clubs on campus. ASUMW Clubs strive to enhance students' educational, social, and cultural experiences at UMW by providing campus and community-based activities relating to each clubs' mission.

Montana Western Announces 121St Commencement

University of Montana Western Chancellor Beth Weatherby announced that the University's 121st Annual Commencement will take place Saturday, May 5, 2018.

The ceremony will begin at 11 a.m. in the Straugh Gymnasium on the Montana Western campus.

368 Montana Western graduates will be awarded at least 443 degrees by the end of the 2017-18 academic year. Of the 368 students, 60 have completed two or more degrees, and over 50% of the graduates are receiving honors by achieving a GPA of 3.33 or higher.

Weatherby said this year's program will include commencement speaker Steve Davis and will honor Norman Jacobson with the University's Alumni Distinguished Service Award.

Steve Davis is currently President and CEO of PATH, an international nonprofit organization that focuses on saving lives and improving health, especially among women and children. A worldwide expert on the subject of innovation, he combines extensive experience as a technology business leader, global health advocate, and social innovator. Davis is a native of Dillon.

Norman Jacobson obtained his Elementary Education degree from Montana Western in 1952. He went on to receive two Master's degrees; the first from the University of Montana, and the second from Washington State University. Jacobson taught in Three Forks, Havre, Deer Lodge, and Missoula, Mont., during the course of his 32 year career. In 2016, he established the Norman and Maurine Jacobson Education Scholarship to impact student lives as his was by a scholarship at Montana Western that allowed him to receive his first degree.

Students at Montana Western benefit from an innovative scheduling program, called Experience One, where students take a single course at a time, three hours each day for 18 days, then move on to the next. The University emphasizes immersive learning to prepare students to be successful as they pursue their career choice or move on to acquire advanced degrees.

For more information about Commencement, please contact the Montana Western Registrar's Office by calling 406-683-7371.

Beaverhead-Deerlodge NF Selects Jeff Tomac as New Deputy Forest Supervisor

The Beaverhead-Deerlodge National Forest announce that Jeff Tomac has been selected as their new Deputy Forest Supervisor. Tomac currently serves as the District Ranger for the Whitman Ranger District of the Wallowa Whitman National Forest in Northeast Oregon. He recently completed an Acting Forest Supervisor detail on the Umatilla NF. He has 25 years' experience working for the Forest Service including seven years as a District Ranger. Prior to that Tomac was a Rangeland Management Specialist working for the Custer, Medicine Bow Route, and Black Hills National Forests as well as the Dakota Prairie and Thunder Basin National Grasslands. Tomac has a bachelor's degree from South Dakota State University in which he majored in rangeland management and minored in soil science and botany.

"I am excited for the opportunity to return to Montana and work with the communities and employees of the Beaverhead-Deerlodge NF, and gain an understanding of the local customs and cultures. This understanding is important when working with local communities to provide sustainable economic opportunities."

Jeff and his wife Jody have two sons, Zach and Mason. Zach is a junior at Montana State University in Bozeman, and Mason is a senior at Baker High School in Oregon. Jeff enjoys running for exercise and stress relief. He runs 5K and 10k races with his boys, and has completed half and full marathons. Jeff and Jody enjoy following the activities of their boys along with camping and hiking. Jeff enjoys wood working, particularly furniture making or whatever Jody designs.

Tomac will begin his new position on May 14 in Dillon, and fills in behind Scott Snelson who is now the Spotted Bear District Ranger on the Flathead National Forest.

CLEAN ENERGY TAX

How do we replace Montana's Coal Severance tax when we move to 80% renewable clean energy?

Proposed ballot initiative I-184 has the answer. It levies a fair tax on all electricity production. Renewables like wind and solar and non-renewable fossil fuels will be taxed the same. This tax will cost the average consumer about $2.40 a year for 5 years. $2.40 a year will not break the bank. That's the cost of a cup of good coffee. Twelve dollars total buys 5 years of cleaner air and water.

We have a choice this election year. We can reduce dangerous atmospheric CO2 levels, the overwhelming majority of climate scientists say is necessary to limit anthropogenic climate change… or, we can continue to embrace Donald Trumps "beautiful, clean coal," probably the biggest "hoax" since our "weapons of mass destruction" fiasco fifteen years ago.

If someone has a better replacement plan, please contact me at www.MTCARES.org. In the meantime, please sign the petition to place I-184 on the 2018 general ballot. Go to the same web site to sign. Help get this plan on the ballot. Let the people vote yes or no on 80% renewable energy. That's the way democracy is supposed to work.

People who want to sign can call me @ 683-2928. I will bring a petition to you to sign.

Gone today – back tomorrow

By: Joe Barnhart

Startling news! A study by the Pew Research Center (who coined, "Put your shoes back on!"), finds nearly 33% of 25-29 year olds lived with their parents or grandparents in 2016. The Pews believe this large 'boomerang' population is afflicted with nostalgic feelings to be nagged to "clean up your room" and "breathe into the breathalyzer."

By definition, a boomerang is a bent wooden projectile that, when thrown properly, returns. Concerned parents are now asking the question, "If a boomerang kid returns, what the heck did I do wrong? Do I need to flick my wrist more? Maybe eat raw fish for a snack?" Oh, if only it were that easy.

When my three sons lived at home they ate everything is sight, wiped the computer's hard drive, came in at ridiculous hours, crashed cars, and took 3 hour showers. Then they were gone. I was overcome with a of spooky, "I'm sitting in wet underwear" feeling. My wife and I tried to carry on normal, intelligent evening meal conversations:

Wife: Don't lay your bread on the placemat.

Me: I heard the Pope blessed the entire Chad nation.

Wife: Do you think I don't see you licking the spoon and putting it back in the jam jar?

Me: I'm getting concerned about how oil futures will affect our stock portfolio.

Wife: Somebody missed the toilet again. Was that you?!

Me: Cole slaw!! I love Cole slaw!

It was great having the boys around because I could easily blame them. Milk jug left on counter – boys. Microscopic dirt particle on the rug – boys. Plugged toilet – boys. Global warming – boys. Life was grand.

Kids make perfect scapegoats as clearly seen in countries where multiple generations live together -- like New Jersey. But it isn't all fun and games. Order must be kept or anarchy (a term born out of Capitol Hill slumber parties) runs rampant. As boomerangers enter their second tour of home duty with adult freedom experience, house rules and KP detail are a brutal reality. This easily leads to "tough love" where parents are forced to tell a grown son, "We need to talk about something we found in your pant's pocket."

I would never attempt enforcing rules on my sons. They now offer me advice as if I were from the planet Poopoophead. "Dad, remember what happened the last time you forgot Mom in Butte." is the kind of tip they often fling at me.

Hopefully boomerang kids will eventually leave home. After all, everyone yearns for the sweet joy of freedom, escaping the scapegoat's life.... "No dear. Those aren't my dirty socks on the dining room table."

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor,

Senator Tester has made me proud to be a Montana citizen and retired Navy veteran. He has insisted on:

1. Vetting the VA nominee. His work resulted in an unqualified candidate withdrawing his name from consideration.
2. Veterans Administration director candidates be qualified to operate an organization of 360,000 employees serving 10,000,000 veterans and their families.
3. VA changing criteria to approve funding for the Southwest Montana Veterans Home after 9 years of work by Montana veterans, and the Montana Department of Health and Humans Services.
4. VA changing the Choice program that removed a third party administrator (saves money) and smoothing the process to allow veterans to obtain medical care in their communities. We can now receive care closer to home and the providers are able to be paid in a timely manner.

I am sure you are aware that Senator Tester has been threatened by the President for doing his job. I for one state again that I am proud to call Jon Tester our senior Senator. He not only works for Montana and other state veterans but when it came time to vote for the budget, he voted to obtain the funding we need to construct the Southwest Montana Veterans Home!

Sincerely.

Thomas W. Straugh, Ph.D.
