She is no longer earth bound in body, mind, or spirit. She has left this place; her eyes, mind, and heart are now fixed on Christ.

Russel on January 27th, 1937. The only daughter of the late Arthur C. and Ruby (Connor) Nett, she spent her childhood keeping up with the boys, riding horses, milking cows, and branding calves on a beautiful cattle ranch beneath Haystack Butte in Augusta Montana. She completed twelve years of school in Augusta, and continued her education at Colorado Women's College, where she was awarded Valedictorian, and Montana State University; graduating with a degree in education/business. Teaching, and later substituting, she impacted the lives of many students who needed someone to stand in their corner and say, "you can do this." While attending college, she met the good looking cowboy who stole her heart, John H. Nelson, and even though they only went on three dates in the first year, they ended up best friends, joined together for life on July 7th, 1960. They continued to complete each other for the next 54 years, until John's passing May 11th, 2014. Next to her family, her greatest joy was the love for crazy barrel horses and the sport of rodeo. She chased cans in high school, college, and well beyond. She was a mentor and inspiration to many barrel racers, and was the Montana Barrel Racing Association champion in 1959. She was also a true rodeo mom, hauling her kids all over the state, celebrating every Mother's Day in the grandstands. Inspirational, beautiful, compassionate, kind and generous, are only a few words used to describe this amazing woman. Through her kindness, she inspired kindness in others. Her kids' friends always wished they had a mother like her, and her nurturing soul allowed her to open her home and heart to every crazy hired man, tourist, hunter, rodeo bum, and stray kid who cast a shadow on her porch. She was a wonderful cook, and no one ever left her house hungry. Housework always took a back seat to the puppies, kittens, piglets, rabbits, chicks, calves, and one rambunctious raccoon that constantly graced her home...and those were just the ones that were inside the house. On those rare occasions where she wasn't outside, she could be found sewing. Her creations ranged from stunning fringed leather dresses, to intricate quilts, to simply mending jeans. She grew the best garden in the Big Hole, harvested, canned, and locally sourced before it was the "it thing" to do. She was also "green" before her time as evidenced by the stacks of aluminum foil and used butter containers in her kitchen. She could kill a chicken, pluck it, fry it for dinner, and make a pillow from the feathers all in one day. She organized and implemented very successful annual Maid In Montana Trail Rides for women only. Telling camp fire stories, singing, and enjoying friends on horseback, were some of her happiest moments. That distinct, contagious laugh of hers, will forever echo off the canyon walls. God created her to be the perfect ranch wife. She bottle fed bum calves, gathered cows, drove a buck rake, kept the books, chopped firewood, tamped posts, vaccinated steers, and was always willing to take the two a.m. calving check no matter how cold it was. Even when she was cooking on a wood stove and didn't have the "luxury" of hot running water or a toilet that flushed, she didn't complain. We're sure it wasn't her dream to make three hot meals a day, 365 days a year, and to wash clothes and dishes by hand with water heated on a wood stove, but she did it because she was devoted to her family. She tackled all jobs with something akin to joy, and didn't quit until it was done. John spent most of his life doing something he absolutely loved; JoAnn loved ranching too, but as we see it, she spent her life devoted to him and his dreams, and that, makes her our hero. Her true treasure and legacy is what she leaves in the hearts of her loved ones. No one came to her without leaving happier. She was proceeded in death by her parents, Arthur and Ruby Nett, and her husband John H. Nelson. She is survived by her brother Russel Nett, her brother Gene (Margorie) Nett, children John (Kimberly), Rohn (Lori), and Shonda (Mike) as well as grand children Timbra (Justin) Arendt, Tahra, Shayle (Shawn), Colton (Sara), Cache, McCoy, and Mikah, and her great grand children, Taite, and Rhaynee. A celebration of life will be held at 11 a.m. with viewing from 9 to 11, at the indoor arena at the Alice Valletta residence, 3401 Steel Creek Road, Wisdom Montana, 59761. In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to the local church or charity of your choice. There is a guestbook available at www.brundagefuneralhome.com

The city must replace the main water line on the west side & cost will be 3± million dollars. They are filing for a TSEP grant from the state of Mt. The application must be submitted around June 15, 2018. The TSEP grant is offered every two (2) years by the state. When the state receives the application, they review and grade it. If the state okays the grant app. Then it is sent onto the legislature for funding. This grant can amount to $500,000.

City is asking for your help: If the city sends signed support letters with the application from people living in the area, and are directly affected by the water line, it improves the possibility of receiving grant.

The city is asking you to stop in at city hall and sign a prepared letter that they will submit. Just ask one of the clerks of anyone else in the office for the letter.

Beaverhead-Deerlodge NF Reminds OHV Riders Helmets are Required for Children

Beaverhead-Deerlodge NF officials are reminding parents and guardians of children riding on off-highway vehicles (OHV's) that helmets are required. The Forest requires children under the age of 18 to wear helmets while riding or operating off highway vehicles (OHV's), motorcycles, Utility Terrain Vehicles (UTV's).

Helmets must meet standards established by the Department of Transportation (DOT) and properly fit the child. More information about DOT approved helmets can be found on-line at www.dot.gov. The order provides consistency with current State of Montana laws regarding the use of approved helmets for minors on roadways and expands that requirement to include roads, trails and lands within the Beaverhead-Deerlodge NF. For more information about State requirements go on-line to www.mt.gov.

Additionally, the ATV Safety Institute recommends that riders younger than 16 be supervised by an adult, and to ride an ATV that is right for their age. For more information about riding ATVs safely go online to: www.atvsafety.org.

Parents and responsible adults of minors may be subject to fines of $100 or more. For more information contact your local Beaverhead-Deerlodge NF office, or go online to www.fs.usda.gov/bdnf.

Fiddle Legend Coming to Dillon

The next concert in "The Roots of American Music" concert series at The Old Depot Theatre in Dillon, Montana will bring Blaine Sprouse and Friends to the stage. On May 31st at 7:00 p.m. bluegrass fans will have the opportunity to hear Blaine Sprouse, a living legend in the music world. As a young man, Sprouse learned fiddle and played with such great musicians as Bill Monroe, Kenny Baker, the Osborne Brothers and Alabama. He was one of the most active and sought after musicians in Nashville. He cut a number of solo record albums and topped the charts playing with Alabama on "If You Want to Play in Texas, you've got to have a Fiddle in the Band". He took time out from music in the 1990's to get an education and obtain a law degree, then came back to play music again around 2011. He delighted audiences last June when he played with the Greg Blake Band at the Old Depot Theatre.

Chad Fadely, who has been dubbed "Montana Mandolin Master", will be joining Sprouse at the Old Depot Theatre. Fadely cites as one of his influences, John Reischman, whose band, The Jaybirds, played the first concert in The Roots of American Music series. Fadely is definitely a presence in Montana music, playing with at least five bands, currently. Isaac Callender, of Sand Coulee, Montana and his wife, Louise Steinway will be playing with Sprouse, as well. Callender is a seasoned musician with numerous fiddle championships and recordings to his name. Callender and Steinway are both much sought after fiddle instructors. Callender has been in the winners' circle of the Dillon Fiddle Contest several times. Rounding out this five piece ensemble will be Miles Zurawll on the bass.

Tickets for this concert are available at the Beaverhead County Museum, Best of the West Properties and at the door. Admission is $12 per person. Reservations can be made by calling 406-683-5027. Sponsors for the concert are Best of the West Properties, The Comfort Inn, Mac's Last Cast and the Beaverhead County Museum.

RED HAT SOCIETY NEWS

The Red Hat Belles met at the Bicentennial Apts. on May 22nd for their May activity. Co-hostesses, Bonnie Baker and Louise Volkening had decorated the tables with four beautiful potted plants; which turned out to be door prizes.

The activity turned out to be an informal get together or "gab" session. The ladies were asked to bring concerns, suggestions or questions to this meeting; which some did.

Alyce Wassall gave her report on the Dillon Backpack Program and took up another collection.

Mary Staples took more pictures with her camera and also modeled her red hat "sombbrero" given to her by a friend. Of course, we had to take her picture also.

Barb Schrader announced that she and Alyce will co-host the June activity on June 12th at her home. Thank you, Barb and Alyce. We will mark our calendars.

Door prizes were awarded to Darlene Rose, Trudy Carlin, Irene Nesgoda and Georgia Thomas. Congratulations!

Thank you to the Bicentennial Apartments for the use of their Day Room. Of course, a special thank you to Bonnie and Louise. All the ladies had a fun time!

Grief, Healing & Faith by Cheryl Hesser

A journey through loss, grief, depression, and healing will be presented by author Cheryl Hesser this Thursday evening at 7:00 pm at Grace United Methodist Church at 131 E. Bannack St.

Her program and book "Walking at the Speed of Light" will reflect her own journey from grief to healing after her son died in an accident. Following her program, there will be opportunity for questions and discussion. She will also be signing copies of her book "Walking at the Speed of Light".
