Recreation Site Fees Change at Georgetown Lake

The Pintler Ranger District made changes to the concessionaire campground and day use site management permit issued to Big Sky Recreation Company, LLC (BSRC) in 2017 for the Beaverhead-Deerlodge National Forest at and near Georgetown Lake vicinity.

Starting Memorial Day Weekend day use fees will be implemented by BSRC at Red Bridge, Grassy, Philipsburg Bay, and Piney Boat Launches in order to provide continued maintenance and improvements to the site which includes general cleaning, maintenance, purchasing of supplies and for staff. "Through the fee implementation we and Big Sky Recreation will be able to make improvements to the site, said Cameron Rasor, District Ranger. Improvements to boat launches in 2017 included repairs to the boat ramps and shoreline protection. Future work includes picnic areas, shoreline protection, and signing. Implementation of fees at the boat launches, and other recreation sites across the forest, were identified in a 2008 Recreation Facility Analysis that made recommendations to address deteriorating facilities, increased user demand, and program costs.

Beginning May 26 and continuing through September fees at the Boat Launches will be $5/day per vehicle. A season pass will available for $50 from BSRC Campground Hosts at Piney, Lodgepole and Philipsburg Bay Campgrounds. Senior and Golden Age passes will be honored for day use fees. Fees will not be charged fall through spring when the concessionaire does not manage recreation sites around Georgetown Lake.

Additional vehicle fees of $3.00 will also be charged at Lodgepole, Piney, Philipsburg Bay, Spring Hill and Cable Mountain beginning Memorial Day weekend.

For additional information, contact Big Sky Recreation at (406) 210-8199, or the Pintler Ranger District at (406) 859-3211.

ALERT: FWP URGES CAUTION NEAR HIGH WATER

The Official U.S. Language

by: Joe Barnhart

I need my faithful readers, all 3 of you, to rally around a cause that will once again make America great. No, it's not a U.S. standardized pay scale for porn stars. It's an official U.S. language.

In the news, Albertsons' San Diego supervisors asked subordinates to speak English when addressing them. So, the U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (whose staff smell of elderberry wine) is suing them. Obviously, anarchy prevails when the boss is called a, "estúpido lechón de col" (stupid cabbage sucker) to her face. But those supervisors were loco because they required the wrong language. It should have been Norwegian.

Why Norwegian? Well, you silly prairie dog, it's proven to cultivate characters of posthumous greatness -- Lars and Ole immediately come to mind. Americans would strut like roosters using a language with roots deeper than Pig Latin. Face it – Noah's first words off the boat were, "Der hvor er ren toilet?" meaning, "Where is a clean toilet?" Need I say more?

With one language, Americans would become a single conglomerate of voices, raised in the wildly suggestive song by the The BlackSheeps titled, Oro jaska beana (A frolicking lullaby about a boy named Jaska and beanas (cousin to artichokes) he bought from a crooked Ora salesman (Aren't they all (It was a pyramid scheme (Nobody complained (And who would with the biodegradable soap so cheap – weird!)?)!)?).

Just Norwegian means no more flipping toaster directions five ways. Nope, right up front would be, "Ne til Lutefisk" or, "Dried fish in toaster will stink." Even IRS forms would offer recognizable, friendly warnings such as, "Fare, vei arbeid med gummi endene." simply, "Danger: road work with rubber ducks."

There's been too much whining about "bilingual this" and "male-enhancement that." My grandparents emigrated from Norway in the early 1900s without a whimper exemplifying how Norwegian speakers have strong character. Cramming Norwegian down the throats of Americans will create a common voice that sends a loud, clear message of solidarity to foreign countries. It's even mightier than bold trade tariffs that later get repealed.

I get a cozy, "where did I put my wife," feeling about Albertsons (company motto: Wash hands before returning to work.) leading the charge of language uniformity. In the Norwegian-only future, when my wife says to me, "Your fat elephant ears make me laugh." I'll boldly reply, "Du blir sparken." (Basically, "You're fired.") She'll quickly learn it's Norwegian or the highway. Let's see her find a better job.

Ninth Circuit Upholds Montana's DISCLOSE Act

Attorney General Fox Successfully Defends Campaign Regulations

For the third time in the last seven months, Attorney General Tim Fox's office has successfully defended Montana's campaign laws before the Ninth Circuit U.S. Court of Appeals. On Tuesday, the Court upheld the constitutionality of Montana's campaign disclosure laws, known as the DISCLOSE Act, passed by the state legislature in 2015.

Speaking to the ruling, Attorney General Tim Fox said, "The people of Montana clearly want transparency in our elections. I'm proud of my team for defending Montana's choice to shine a light on all who choose to participate in our electoral process."

The challenge to Montana's campaign laws was brought by the political committee Montanans for Community Development (MCD), represented by the Bopp Law Firm. MCD argued that Montana's campaign reporting laws were 1) vague; 2) overbroad; and 3) unconstitutional as applied to MCD. The Court rejected all three claims.
