Lewis & Clark talk

From Three Forks to Divide: Lewis & Clark in Southwest
Montana will be the subject of a 2 p.m. historical presentation on Saturday, June 9, for the second installment of Bannack States Park's 2018 Saturday Education and Entertainment Series. For more information, go to www.bannack.org/ or call 406-834-3413.

Trail Work Day scheduled for June 9th from 9-12

We will be working on an exciting new trail that will have an easier grade to the top of Tim's Ridge and will also be installing a couple of gates to make the access easier, so you won't have to crawl over, around or through the barbed wire fence.

"Let's meet at the Dillon Town Overlook Trailhead on Ten Mile Road at 9 am. If you arrive after 9, you'll find us on Tim's Ridge trail: the parking lot, head North-West through the fence and turn left at the snake junction." map at <https://www.beaverheadtrails.org/events/>

Bring tools, especially shovels, if you can. We have some Montana Youth Challenge cadets coming and also some people with trail building skills for guidance. We'll have water and snacks for everyone and we have our fingers crossed that the weather will cooperate.

Beaverhead Trails Coalition

Auto fest

The annual Auto Festival and Cruise on Saturday, June 9, features a group drive through the Big Hole Valley, leaving at 9 a.m. from downtown Dillon, and a noon to 4 p.m. Vintage Car Show in Depot Park, adjacent to South Montana Street in downtown Dillon.
For more information email skypainter17@yahoo.com.

BLOOD DRIVE

A Dillon community blood drive will be held on Tuesday, June 12, 2018 from 12:00 to 6:15 PM at the Elks Lodge. This drive is facilitated by United Blood Services and sponsored by First Presbyterian Church. Appointments can be made by calling (406) 683-3696 or 800-365-4450, or log on to www.bloodhero.com and use the sponsor code "Dillon". Walk-ins are welcome, but those having appointments receive priority.

There is no substitute for blood. It cannot be manufactured. It is the "gift of life" that only human beings can give to one another.

To donate blood, volunteers must be at least 16 years old (16-17 with parent/guardian approval), follow minimum weight restrictions, and be in good health. A donor must not have donated within the last eight weeks. Your blood donation is very important, so if you can donate, won't you call or go online?

Please bring your United Blood Services Donor card or photo ID.

Documentary Sneak Preview

IN GOOD FAITH is a documentary that centers around the work of Dr. Orlan Svingen, professor of history at Washington State University (WSU), and his ongoing work with the Mixed Bands of Shoshone, Bannock and Sheepeater Indians at the Fort Hall reservation in Pocatello, Idaho. Through his decades of work with Indian tribes across the U.S., Dr. Svingen has developed strong relationships at Fort Hall and forged the creation of Indian history field schools that are conducted in Central Idaho and Southwestern Montana.

Since 2010, Dr. Svingen and his students have researched The Virginia City Treaty of 1868, negotiated and signed almost 150 years ago by Chief Tendoy. It was signed, in good faith, by the US government and tribal members, but never ratified.

Though never ratified, the US took all that was promised to them and, in return, granted the tribe an Executive Order reservation, a far cry from the terms of the treaty. Dr. Svingen, researching National Archives microfilm, found the "Holy Grail." It was the signed and sealed Cession Document that clearly laid out the parameters of the treaty and the boundaries of the lands the tribe gave up - over 12,000 square miles of territory in Wyoming and Montana.

With these findings, the Mixed Bands have started the legal process to right the wrong and proceed

Garnet Day celebrates mining heritage of Montana's most intact ghost town

The sights, sounds and smells of a 19th-century mining town will come back to life during this year's family-friendly Garnet Day June 16 from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The annual event, hosted by the Bureau of Land Management and the Garnet Preservation Association, brings a bustle of activity to the now-dormant ghost town of Garnet.

Montana pioneer impersonator Jennie Pak will give a presentation about Lucia Darling, a school teacher in Bannack's early days. Music throughout the day will be provided by The Narrow Road Band and Old Time Montana Fiddlers Band.

Other activities throughout the day include a wool-spinning demonstration, a quilt display, various old-fashioned games for children, and a pie auction.

Another highlight of the day's festivities is the ice cream social which was an annual event 100 years ago in Garnet. Lunch will also be available for purchase on site.

The day's events are designed to give families a fun, wild-west experience in one of Montana's most intact ghost towns, located 35 miles east of Missoula.

Visitors will be charged the standard usage fee of $3; no admission is charged for those 15 and younger. For those needing assistance, a shuttle service will be provided from the main parking lot to the town's main street.

More than 100 years ago, Garnet was an active gold-mining town, but after a fire destroyed many of the buildings and as the gold became more difficult to mine, the once prosperous town slowly went into a deep sleep until its last full-time resident passed away in 1947. The ghost town is now publicly owned and managed by the Bureau of Land Management's Missoula Field Office.

To reach Garnet from Highway 200, turn south on the Garnet Range Road between mile markers 22 and 23 and travel about 11 miles to Garnet Ghost Town.

Visitors using I-90 should take the Bearmouth or Drummond exit, then take the Frontage Road to Bear Gulch. Garnet is 10 miles north on Bear Gulch Road. The Bear Gulch Route is steeper and not suitable for towing units.

For more information on the event, contact the BLM's Missoula Field Office at (406) 329-3914.

'Grease' Turns 40! Peachy Keen, Jellybean!

Tyrades! by Danny Tyree

For your least-favorite local eatery, the headline "Grease Turns 40" might elicit chuckles of "I TOLD you those bribes to the health inspector would pay off. But for cinema fans, it means the top-grossing movie of 1978 is back in the spotlight.

June 16 marks the 40th anniversary of the nostalgic musical about girl-next-door Sandy Olsson (Olivia Newton-John), greaser Danny Zuko (John Travolta, still riding the "Welcome Back, Kotter" and "Saturday Night Fever" popularity wave), Kenickie, Rizzo and the rest of the T-Birds and Pink Ladies of Rydell High.

I've loved the film since shortly after its debut (I had already been blown away a few months earlier by a college production of the 1971 stage musical), even though I'd had no personal experience with drag racing, cigarettes, gang membership, summer romances, hickies, pregnancy scares, joining the track team, mooning or televised dance contests. Or being distinguishable from the wallpaper unless I yawned.

Yes, the film has been a pleasure; but it has always been a GUILTY pleasure, even more so with an impressionable teenage son around. I felt a little less solitarily prudish recently when I read a blog saying that a significant number of OTHER fans are troubled that (SPOILER ALERT!) Sandy finds true love only by ultimately transforming into an aggressive sexpot. (Marie Osmond had turned down the role when the script had called for Sandy to be even edgier.)

I mean, our musical heroines had usually been more chaste than that, hadn't they? Can you imagine the Mother Abbess advising Maria, "Climb every mountain, experience every STD"? Or Nellie Forbush insisting, "I'm gonna wash that DNA evidence right out'a my hair"?

Travolta (who received the inaugural "Variety" Cinema Icon Award at the 71st annual Cannes Film Festival in May) has been playfully noncommittal about the viral internet rumor that Sandy actually drowned at the beginning of the movie and everything else was just her coma dream.

I am hopelessly devoted to treating the theory as heresy. It would open the door to too many other uncertainties about the "settled science" of our cherished films. Was Hannibal Lecter just a whimsical vegan? Are the Apollo 13 astronauts still up there somewhere? Did Prissy in "Gone With The Wind," despite her protestations of ignorance about birthing babies, actually operate Midwives R Us? Did Forrest Gump's friend Jenny actually shout, "Saunter, Forrest, saunter"?

I know the Fifties weren't perfect, but "Grease" offers a sort of comfort food for the soul. I would hate to see the movie being rewritten to reflect the world of 2018.

Danny would brag of the hot rod Greased Lightning, "This car is automatic. It's systematic. It's hyyyyydromatic. It's...still about an hour from being fully charged."

The drive-in scene? Sandy would storm off after Danny let the Uber driver grope her. Instead of declaring, "You can't just walk out of a drive-in," Danny would whine, "You can't just walk out of the Church of Scientology!"

According to USA TODAY, Travolta thinks the characters Danny and Sandy are "the real deal" and are still out there together somewhere in movie land.

Of course, the passing years will have made a difference in their love songs. When Danny sings, "I've got chills, they're multipliyin'/And I'm losin' control," instead of passionate necking, there would be an urgent search for adult undergarments and a doctor accepting new Medicare patients.
