WALKING MAN

Kim Martinell, MhE

SWCDP Prevention Specialist

"After a Missouri high school loses three students to suicide, Mark Norwine (a mental health advocate), embarks on a 200-mile walk across the state, seeking to educate students and better understand the epidemic for himself. Mark is joined by his son, Eric, but when the road proves difficult, father and son must confront their own mental health struggles, which they've kept secret for so long.

Walking Man is an honest look at one family's journey with mental illness. Following two suicide attempts, Mark was diagnosed with bipolar disorder. In Walking Man, Mark, his wife, and his son tell their story about mental illness and suicide." (Walking Man, 2016)

In recognition of May Mental Health Month, Be the Change 406 Coalition and Beaverhead County Adverse Childhood Experiences (ACEs) Task Force joined forces to bring "Walking Man" to our community. On May 7, Beaverhead County High School and Dillon Middle School students had the opportunity to hear Norwine's message. An evening event that was open to the public was held at the BCHS Auditorium in the evening.

The event was a great success in so many ways. Over 1360 individuals benefited from bringing Norwine to southwest Montana. He presented to students in Madison, Jefferson and Beaverhead Counties. Besides Norwine's presentations in the schools, community presentations were held in the evenings. Attendees viewed the Walking Man film, which was followed by question and discussion sessions with Norwine concerning mental health, substance misuse, and suicide. Norwine highlighted risk factors for Montanans that influence suicide and substance misuse including rural isolation, stigma, and lack of resources. The event was very well received by both students and community.

The interesting thing for me regarding these events were the unexpected surprises. For example, in one of the counties, a high school student remarked during the presentation that she had no idea that mental health resources were available in her school. I was also amazed at the depth of the questions during the community events. For example, someone in the audience confided that they knew of someone who was suicidal but didn't know how to help them. Each question posed to Norwine, resulted in a lot of discussion about what people face in their everyday lives. Another attendee asked questions about the correlation regarding substance use and mental health challenges. In both the schools and the community events, everyone seemed very interested and very engaged. The community events ran a lot longer than I would have expected. After every presentation in each of the counties, there were several students and community members who wanted to speak to Norwine privately. There were tears and a lot of camaraderie, it was a remarkable experience. One event attendee was so impressed that they made an anonymous donation of $5,000 to Jefferson County Mental Health Local Advisory Council to bring Mark Norwine back to Montana. Members of the ACEs Task Force team found it equally impressive:

Melaiyna Ryan, ACEs Chair, stated, "As a licensed counselor and community member, I am so grateful for events like "Walking Man." Too often, we, as a community, choose to remain ignorant to the reality of mental health. We "know" that Montana continues to have one of the highest rates of suicide in the Nation but I don't think we really understand what that means.

It means that 1 in 5 of us will struggle with mental health issues throughout the course of our life and when we do struggle with mental health, less than half of us will access help. There are many reasons we don't access help but the ONE that seems to prevail in Southwest Montana is STIGMA. It seems that we, as a community, still don't understand that mental health issues are largely chemical based. We don't understand that adversity in childhood literally changes the structure of the brain. Instead of understanding these things, we continue to believe that mental health issues are a weakness. This is WRONG. I am so very thankful for events that challenge this mindset, this stigma. If you are struggling with mental health issues, please access resources; you are not weak."

Dillon Middle School Principal, Randy Shipman, said "To meet OPI requirements, schools have integrated suicide prevention already. However, events like these are critically important in raising awareness about the needs of our kids in regards to trauma-informed issues and ACEs awareness. It is vital that we provide this mental health and substance use component to help our kids and their families who might be in crisis or to avoid crisis."

Jana Barnes, PA-C added, "Mental illness is something that affects many of us, yet it is not something that we discuss freely and openly. I was impressed that Mark and Eric Norwine discussed their personal struggles with mental illness to raise awareness of suicide and mental health issues. If more people talk openly about mental illness, we can stop the stigma associated with this disease that affects us all in some way. As a health care provider in our community, I see how difficult it can be for those suffering from mental illness or those family members who support those with mental illness. My wish would be that we embrace all people in our community despite their struggles. The ACE Task Force is helping to educate the community about how adverse childhood experiences may contribute to mental illness, substance abuse, or suicide and how a single supportive caregiver can build resilience. This community is lucky to have such a task force spreading knowledge and providing resources for those in need."

If you are interested in learning more about suicide prevention or ACEs (Adverse Childhood Experiences), please call Melainya Ryan at 406-683-6106. The ACEs Task Force is available to present more information to individuals or groups upon request.

Copies of the movie, Walking Man, were donated to the Twin Bridges, Ennis, and Dillon Public Libraries by Be The Change 406 Coalition and are available to the public. Norwine also published a book that can be found on Amazon.com

"Trail of Trees" Tour Thursday Evening, June 14 at 6:30 PM

On Thursday June 14 the Dillon Tree Board will partner with the Beaverhead Trails Coalition and Bike Walk Montana Inc. on a "Trail of Trees" tour of some of Dillon's most beautiful trees. The tour will start at 6:30 PM at Jaycee Park. People interested in walking or biking the "Trail of Trees" are welcome to participate. There is no charge for the tour, just come and enjoy some light exercise, have fun, and learn about the different species of trees that can be found here in Dillon. The tour will break down into two groups, those wanting to hike the trail and those that want to bike it.

The Tree Board published the "Trail of Trees" in 2017 as an outreach and educational promotion to promote the benefits and importance of trees, and to educate the public on some of the unique tree species that grow in Dillon. There are 13 different species of trees along the trail. Come and learn about their interesting history and characteristics. The tour will take approximately 30 - 45 minutes to complete. The "Trail of Trees" brochure can be found at your local nurseries, City Hall, Chamber of Commerce and on line at www.dillontrees.org. Copies of the brochure will be passed out before the tour begins. Come join us for a fun, and educational evening. If you have questions please contact Jason or Tim at 406-683-6305.

BLM urges caution when floating the Madison River

As high water continues to surge across the region, the Bureau of Land Management's Dillon Field Office urges floaters to use caution along the Madison River.

Current flows on the Madison River are nearly twice the average levels, he added. High water is likely to linger on the lower Madison into the summer season, so floaters should be prepared for higher-than-average flows when they reach for their inner tubes. These high flows present a number of dangerous situations, especially for people who are not prepared or experienced.

The BLM encourages floaters to use California Corner when launching their trips. This site is located a half-mile downstream from the Warm Springs Day Use Area and functions as the overflow parking area.

"Warm Springs generally fills up by 11:30 a.m. so if you are getting a late start, save yourself the hassle of trying to find a parking spot and just stop in at California Corner," Chris McGrath, Outdoor Recreation Planner with the Dillon Field Office advises.

For more information, please contact McGrath at 406-682-4082, or call the Dillon Field Office at 406-683-8000.
