The Growling Old Men in Concert at The Old Depot Theatre

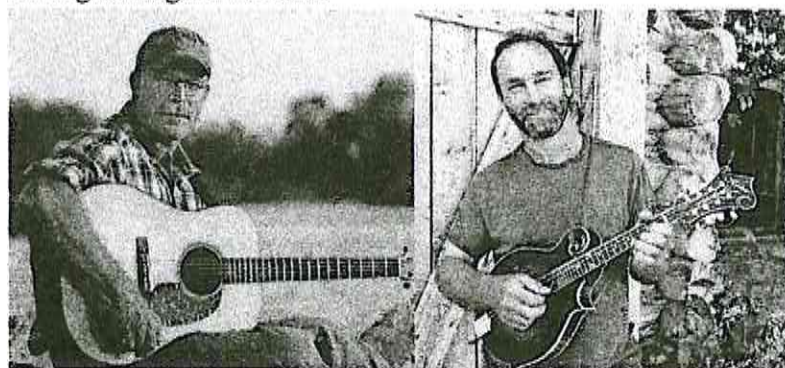

Acoustic Americana/bluegrass mandolin and guitar duo Growling Old Men will be performing at the historic Depot Museum on Thursday, June 21st at 7:00 PM. This is the final performance in the "Roots of American Music" concert series sponsored by Best of the West Properties in Dillon, MT. Tickets are available at $12 per person at The Beaverhead County Museum, Best of the West Properties and at the door. Call 406-683-5027 for reservations.

Ben Winship (mandolin, octave mandolin and vocals) and John Lowell (guitar and vocals) present a relaxed set of original, traditional and obscure music that changes each night. The Growling Old Men are featured at festivals and concerts all over the western world, having played at the Shetland Folk Festival, the Didmarton and Shrewsbury festivals in England, plus many festivals in the US and Canada. They were a favorite on Garrison Keillor's A Prairie Home Companion, and are in demand as instructors at music schools in the UK, Europe, Canada and the US. Bluegrass Unlimited Magazine said, "A huge strength of this act is that their playing and singing are totally complimentary, both in vitality and elegance. And while it's risky to declare that any act has a distinctive sound, I'll venture that the Growling Old Men has one, inspired by the hills of Appalachia, but informed by the plains and mountains of the West."

"I really enjoy playing with Ben. We challenge each other every evening," said John Lowell in an interview from his home in Livingston, MT. "We never know how any individual song is going to turn out, and we try to add a couple of new songs every show."

"The Growling Old Men is a musical framework which allows both John and I an ideal combination of comfort and freedom," added Ben Winship from his home in Victor, Idaho. "Given our long history of playing together, we have built up a large repertoire from which to draw; but more importantly, we have built a mutual trust which allows us to stretch out and explore new ground - both vocally and instrumentally."

"We're really looking to being back in Dillon - and we're going to have our bass player and good friend David Thompson along with us for the show," said Lowell. "The Growling Old Men are on a mini-Montana tour with additional stops in Billings, Bozeman, Helena, and Virginia City." For more information on the band, please visit www.growlingoldmen.com.

BOOK SIGNING

The Bookstore in Dillon will host Beth Judy, author of Bold Women in Montana History

for a talk and book signing.

Saturday June 16, 1:00 to 3:00 P.M.

Talk scheduled for 1:30 PM

26 N. Idaho, Dillon

Bold Women in Montana History chronicles women of Montana whose stories have gone largely unsung. A few of the fascinating profiles include heroic Blackfeet warrior Running Eagle, rodeo royalty Alice and Marge Greenough, Crow Culture-keeper Pretty Shield, The Butte Women's Protective Union, and Elouise Cobell, who spear-headed the largest successful class-action suit in history against the United States government.

Accessibly written, yet offering some new historical findings, "Bold Women in Montana History" is an enjoyable and instructive read for anyone who loves the state's history, especially tales of its strong and inspiring women.

Beaverhead County Public Health is tasked with establishing a standing meeting among our Access and Functional Needs Population (A & FN) partner organizations. The intent of this meeting is to develop strategies to improve community resilience.

"Resilient communities minimize any disaster's disruption to everyday life and their local economies. Resilient communities are not only prepared to help prevent or minimize the loss or damage to life, property, and the environment, but they also have the ability to quickly return people to work, reopen businesses, and restore other essential services needed for a full and timely economic recovery." Community & Regional Resilience Institute

Access and Functional Needs Population is defined as people having access, functional health, or physical needs beyond their capability to maintain during an emergency. These populations include:

- Economic Disadvantage,
- Language and Literacy
- Medical Issues and disability
- Isolation
- Older adults
- Infants
- Children 18 years or younger

Public Health and Disaster and Emergency Services (DES) have been working together for many years towards helping our community become resilient. Its time to begin focusing on those populations that would require extra help in the time of an emergency or disaster.

Everyone who can benefit from this planning is welcome. All agencies or organizations that work with Access and Functional Needs people are strongly encouraged to attend. Discussion will be about what special needs our community would require so we can plan and develop strategies to prepare for, respond to, and fully bounce back from crises. Please call Sue Hansen at 683-3179 for more information.

Montana Department of Justice Hosts Human Trafficking Awareness Training

As part of its ongoing efforts to rescue human trafficking victims and hold traffickers accountable, the Montana Department of Justice (DOJ) hosted a training in Billings. Attendees included trucking and busing industry representatives, convenience store managers, prosecutors, and law enforcement officers from across the state. They learned how to spot human trafficking and how to respond when it is suspected. Attendees also heard about sex trafficking case scenarios from law enforcement, prosecutors, and a survivor.

"Over the last five years, my office has made it a priority to end human trafficking in Montana," said Attorney General Tim Fox. "Today's training offers a unique opportunity for individuals poised to play a key role in spotting and reporting this crime to connect with our law enforcement officers and prosecutors. The more we do to strengthen these relationships, the closer we are to ensuring no child will ever be for sale again along Montana's roadways."

The training was possible thanks to DOJ's partnerships with the non-profit organization Truckers Against Trafficking as well as Motor Carriers of Montana (MCM). "Truckers Against Trafficking is pleased to join with the Montana Department of Justice and Motor Carriers of Montana to collaboratively close loopholes to traffickers in Montana," said Esther Goetsch, Truckers Against Trafficking Coalition Build Specialist. "As the eyes and ears along our nation's roadways, trucking industry and convenience store personnel are in a unique position to report these crimes as they take place, making them critical partners in law enforcement's fight against human trafficking."

More than 50 people attended the training. They were asked to share what they learned with their colleagues and staff to maximize efforts to rescue victims and bring criminals to justice. "Motor Carriers of Montana believes human trafficking is a problem in Montana, more than most people realize," said Spook Stang, Motor Carriers of Montana Executive Director. "The trucking industry is proud to work hand in hand with Truckers Against Trafficking and the Montana Department of Justice to put a stop to this heinous crime. MCM stands ready to help our members train their drivers in identifying and reporting human trafficking to law enforcement."

To learn more about the signs of human trafficking, visit www.dojmt.gov/stopt. Victims can get help by calling the National Human Trafficking Hotline at 1-888-373-7888 or text HELP to 233733.

Letter to the Editor

Recently this paper had an extensive article about a local effort in response to area victims of mental health and suicide attempts. There is no question that this attention is quite timely, especially in view of 2017 statistics that Montana leads the nation in suicides. One focus of the article pointed to discoveries that indicate that severe adversity in childhood has the potential of damage to the chemical structure of the brain, leading to distinct life-challenging problems -- with possible suicide.

A further look at statistics indicate the current greatest number of suicides falls in the age bracket of 45-60, and sadly those numbers are accelerating -- not slowing down! Five general categories of adverse childhood experience include stress from: activities of alcoholic parents, effects from divorcing parents, chronic humiliation, emotional neglect, and sexual abuse.

In observing that current 45-60 age category, it is noteworthy that three other factors also have a bearing on this problem. (1) We are MORE than physical creatures. We are also SPIRITUAL beings -- and we are not existing in this world and developing "accidentally"! In accordance with the Bible record of historic man, each of us comes into this world with an independent selfish spirit. When we go back that 45-60 years in our nation, we recall it was a time when psychologists begat a strong anti-discipline (no spankings) movement. This robbed many children of resolving a bad depressive conscience by not getting one's "just-due." Under some circumstances that inner spiritual conflict was multiplied because that no-discipline resulted in greater unresolved misbehavior -- with even greater distinct emotional stress!

(2) Also, in those early 1960's the new youthful "liberty" saw the beginnings of a new mood of rebellion against society. It was marked by many things, including growing long hair, untidy clothes, resistance against learning in school, along with peer pressures on others to follow suit. Encouraging that chaos was the appearance of "beat" musicians with lyric themes, like, "Why should you be bossed around" or "I shall like what I like and go where I like" -- all in contempt for authority to guide one's life. Drugs were popularized to serve as a counterfeit balm to ameliorate the inner pangs of that spiritual rebellion.

(3) Drugs and alcohol just worsens the problem -- as do also some medications. It is now confirmed that the psychological depressive effects from anti-social behavior can be passed along genetically to children in the DNA. Yes, man-contrived devices may give some encouragement, but spiritual problems are best met by SPIRITUAL healing! That one is still faithfully available from our Creator God Himself in Jesus Christ. As a result of His masterful, loving, atoning suffering on the Cross of Calvary, one who humbly and diligently seeks Him can truly know the joy of forgiveness and a cleansed conscience! The healing power of Christ's indwelling New Life motivates a blessed pathway of righteous living -- with the beauty of its sweet PEACE. Again, the ASSURED solution to one's suicidal "adverse childhood experience" -- the Lord Jesus Christ, who said (John 14:27), "Peace I leave with you, my Peace I give unto you: not as the world giveth, give I unto you." By grasping Him and joining regularly in fellowship with others of similar precious faith is like the healthful warmth of "coals of fire."

MHP to Conduct Public Opinion Survey

Beginning on June 15th, 2018, the Montana Highway Patrol will conduct a public opinion survey with the help of consulting company, OrgVitality. The survey will run approximately 6-8 weeks depending on the analysis of the statisticians at OrgVitality. The public can access the survey from the following link: <https://rpt.orgvitality.com/MHPSurvey> This link will also be located on all of MHP's social media sites, as well as the Patrol website. Business cards with information about the survey will be provided by troopers for every contact they have with the public beginning on June 15th until the conclusion of the survey.

The purpose of the survey is to seek proactive input from the public regarding Patrol operations. "Other states such as Colorado have received impactful feedback from surveys such as this. We hope to emulate their success and use the data to help inform our choices moving forward in a way that improves the quality of our services and public interactions," says Colonel Tom Butler, Chief Administrator of the Montana Highway Patrol.

HOWARD GAINES MEMORIAL BEHAVIORAL HEALTH COMMUNITY SERVICE AWARD 2018

Thank you to the Beaverhead County Commissioners and the Beaverhead County Mental Health Local Advisory Council for the commitment to honor Howard with the creation of the annual Howard Gaines Behavioral Health Community Service Award and a proclamation honoring Howard Kay Gaines and his life of service.

On the State level, Howard was a champion for those with disabilities. He was a member of the advisory council for Disability Rights Montana, the protection and advocacy organization for people living with disabilities, from 2006 until he passed in May of 2016. Howard attended quarterly meetings and was dedicated to advocating for those who suffer mental illness and other disabling challenges. The work of the committee is to advise regarding priorities, policies and efforts. As part of his commitment to this organization Howard attended the Montana Mental Health Conference annually.

Locally Howard spent time at the mental health center day program where he brightened the lives of many. He was beloved by the day program participants and staff. He always brought cheer to the center especially during Holiday parties. Even today saying Howard's name can bring a smile to the face of many we met at the center. We enjoyed coming up with creative Halloween costumes. There was guaranteed laughter when we showed up at the party!

Howard also served on the Beaverhead County Mental Health Local Advisory Council for 20 years as a member. On behalf of the Council, he attended the Western Service Area Authority meetings even after his failing health made travel difficult.

The current membership of the Local Advisory Council and the Howard Gaines Behavioral Health Community Service Award committee will be recognizing Beaverhead County residents whose efforts have served to advance the cause of improved behavioral health in our communities. All nominees will be honored, and one nominee will receive this award in Howard's honor. 2018 marks the second year for this award.

Howard was a husband for 41 years, a father of 4 and grandfather of 11. He was involved in all the activities his children enjoyed and was always there for me when I needed him most.

Please join me in honoring Howard's memory by recognizing the contribution of a mental health advocate of your choice. Please find the nomination form and instructions on the other side of this paper.

Thank you.

BOLD WOMEN IN MONTANA HISTORY chronicles women of Montana whose stories have gone largely unsung. A few of the fascinating profiles include heroic Blackfeet warrior Running Eagle, rodeo royalty Alice and Marge Greenough, Crow Culture-keeper Pretty Shield, The Butte Women's Protective Union, and Elouise Cobell, who spear-headed the largest successful class-action suit in history against the United States government.

Accessibly written, yet offering some new historical findings, "Bold Women in Montana History" is an enjoyable and instructive read for anyone who loves the state's history, especially tales of its strong and inspiring women.
