DEATH NOTICE

Notice has been received of the passing of Grandpa Harold Fredrick Grogan. A full obituary will follow.

Voice your support for the parks!

As you are likely aware, the City has proposed a new Parks District as a way to provide a stable, dedicated, source of funding for Dillon's parks. Establishment of the district will allow the City to assess property owners within the city limits at a rate established by the City Council for maintenance Dillon's parks.

The reason for the proposal to establish the district is that constraints on the City of Dillon's General Fund budget have forced reductions in funding for parks for years. Minimum maintenance, virtually no improvements and, more recently, a reluctance by the City to accept new parks have resulted.

The proposal has passed the first hurdle - it was NOT rejected by a majority of the property owners. It is now up to the City Council to decide whether to go forward and, if they do, there will be a referendum in which residents of the City will vote on the proposal. The Council could choose to pursue a different funding mechanism or reject the proposal outright, leaving funding for parks at the current inadequate level.

The Council's Parks & Playgrounds Committee may have this issue on the agenda at their next meeting with a vote by the full Council following soon after the Committee's recommendation is made. The window for residents to weigh in may be quite short since the council normally meets every two weeks and the Parks & Playgrounds Committee will meet as soon as next Wednesday, 6/27.

As a resident, you can do two things to register your opinion with the Council:

Drop a letter off at City Hall (125 N Idaho St) or email it to Cityclerk@dillonmt.org expressing your support for the district ASAP. Letters and input from the hearing will be considered by the Parks & Playgrounds Committee when making their recommendation to the full Council and will affect the Council's decision. An example letter is attached.

Contact your Council Persons (everyone has two) and let them know your position before their next meeting;
they do listen and keep score.

Your council persons' contact information is available here: <http://www.dillonmt.org/CityDirectory.aspx>

Animated City Meeting

By: M.J

I attended a city meeting that I found to be disgusting, condescending, verbal abusive... Names are omitted from this article as they are not important nor the issue. The mayor was not in attendance, however there were committee members and city personal seated at the table.

A member of the public rose and spoke in a "political correct" way. NOTE: "Political Correct" is when you say to the person you are speaking to or about, that "you respect their opinions and appreciate all the work they have done" just before you personally criticize and attack them. There were no ripples in the water (raised voices, finger pointing), just continual attacks made in a calm voice by the public speaker. The speaker did have important points however, when the personal attacking started those points were buried and lost.

The offensive attacks made may have been an extension of a previous meeting where there was disagreement, but those attacks do not belong at nor should they be continued at a public meeting. When personal attacks, personal feelings, and egos enter discussions it is rare from that point on that anything productive will materialize within the meeting time. This was demonstrated at this meeting.

People gathered their belongings and left the room as the speaker continued over an extended amount of time making the derogatory remarks. The meeting was adjourned when people started leaving.

It is difficult to see people treated with such aversion. Humans are not perfect and that includes every one of us.

122 N. Montana St Dillon, MT 59725July 4 Outdoor Adventure Reminders

As the July 4th holiday approaches, the Forest Service would like to remind those who are planning for the holiday weekend that there are great places throughout the Beaverhead-Deerlodge National Forest to visit. The forest has over 3,200 miles of trails, 76 campgrounds, picnic and recreation areas, as well as being home to the Anaconda Pintler Wilderness and the Lee Metcalf Wilderness.

Among the traditional camping, hiking and fishing activities, visitors are known to also enjoy wildflower viewing, photography, exploring the back country and a multitude of family activities. Additionally, there are 24 rustic cabins available throughout the forest for rent during the summer and fall hunting season. Go to www.recreation.gov to find out more and to reserve a cabin or a campsite.

Before you plan your trip, check for current road, trail and campground conditions by contacting the Forest Service, or go online to www.fs.usda.gov/bdnf. Always check to see what the current weather conditions are and go prepared for changing conditions. Visitors are cautioned to stay on roads to avoid getting stuck or starting wildland fires and to pay attention to road closed signs.

Many trails may not be open at higher elevations due to snow, high water or trees that have fallen across trails. Stay on trails and do not create new trails to get around hazards. Users should expect many trails to be impassable from fallen trees.

Falling trees present a serious hazard to visitors. Here are a few handy tips:

Be aware of your surroundings and avoid dense patches of dead trees. Trees can fall without warning; place tents and park vehicles in areas where they will not be hit if a tree falls;

- Stay out of the forest when there are strong winds that could blow down trees, especially in areas where there have been fires or there are stands of trees that have been killed by bugs.
 - If you are in the forest when winds kick up, head to a clearing out of reach of any potential falling trees.
 - Carry an ax or saw with you to remove trees that may fall across roads and prevent you from either continuing on your travels or preventing you from returning to your camp or home.
 - Report downed trees that block roads or trails to the Forest Service.
- Bears, both black bears and grizzlies, are out and about. Keep your camp clean and store food out of reach of all animals. The Beaverhead-Deerlodge NF requires all food and other items that might attract bears to be stored where bears can't access them at night and during the daytime when food and attractants are not attended. 'Attended' means that a person is physically present within 100 feet and in direct sight of the food. While attended, food and attractants do not have to be stored. To find out more about bear safety and links to certified bear resistant products go online to the Beaverhead-Deerlodge NF web page at www.fs.usda.gov/bdnf.

The Forest has a bear-resistant container loaner program to help forest visitors comply with food storage regulations. Forest visitors can check out a variety of bear-resistant containers such as horse panniers, backpacking "bear barrels" and bear-resistant coolers for their planned outings. There is a limited supply of these containers, so contact your local Beaverhead-Deerlodge NF office for details.

Target shooting is allowed on National Forest land, however, shooting is not allowed in developed sites such as campgrounds/day use areas and trailheads, including Thompson Park as well as shooting across streams, lakes and roads. Target shooters need to be at least 150 feet away from occupied areas and facilities. Additionally, possession and use of exploding targets is prohibited on National Forest land. Target shooters are advised to be cautious and aware of their surroundings as well as pick up their shooting trash when done.

Visitors are cautioned to be extremely careful with fire as, fuels such as grass, shrubs and trees are beginning to dry out.

Fireworks are prohibited in National Forests. Fireworks, dry grass and trees are a bad combination. Never leave a campfire unattended. Make sure your campfire is extinguished completely and the coals are cool to the touch before you leave. Bring a bucket, and shovel with you to help put out your campfire.

Human caused fires are one of the factors fire officials use to determine if fire restrictions are necessary. Currently, there are no fire restrictions in effect in SW Montana. However, weather and fuel conditions can change quickly. To stay up to date with fire restrictions go on-line to <http://firerestrictions.us>.

For more information, call the Forest Service office nearest to the area you wish to visit.

THE SPIRIT RIDE IS ROLLING THROUGH DILLON

The very professionals who earn a living from highway accidents are now taking to the streets to promote highway safety and help safeguard the lives of fellow first responders. The American Towman Spirit Ride is continuing on its journey, relaying a colorful, ceremonial casket from tow truck to tow truck across the nation. The casket honors first responders who have been killed on the roadside and carries the message: Slow Down, Move Over.

About 300 towing companies across the country are relaying the casket to promote their state's Move Over law with processions involving 10,000 tow trucks and emergency service vehicles.

The Ride, which began in June of 2017, will pass through Dillon, MT with the Spirit casket being relayed to Turney Repair & Towing, llc. A ceremony will take place at 10:00 am 07/20/18, followed by a procession of tow trucks and emergency service vehicles through Dillon.

The Move Over law is unknown to many motorists. According to the National Safety Commission, 70% of American motorists do not know the law exists. The law is on the books in all states of the Union and requires passing vehicles to move over one lane when approaching an incident where emergency lights are flashing and tow operators, police, fire fighters and emergency-medical technicians are working.

The ceremonial casket, named Spirit, was custom painted by artist Cecil Burrowes, who specializes in painting intricate designs on trucks and wreckers. Painted on Spirit are a dozen scenarios depicting first-responders at the scenes of highways incidents.

The casket was built by a lifelong singer-songwriter, Mike Corbin, who composed the Spirit Ride's anthem, Bless the Spirit Riders, which he performs at the ceremony to honor fallen first responders. The ceremony precedes the procession of emergency service vehicles.

Hundreds of roadside professionals are casualties each year of roadside incidents; about 100 of them are fatalities. Among first responders killed, 60% of them are tow operators.

According to American Towman Magazine President Steve Calitri, the Ride is the greatest towing project since the first tow truck was built in 1916. "The Ride," says Calitri, "is generating public awareness of the perils first responders face and galvanizing police resolve for enforcing the Move-Over law."

The Spirit Ride was founded by American Towman Magazine and B/A Products and is a project of American Towman Spirit, Inc., a nonprofit corporation, born to promote highway safety. Scores of sponsors have pitched in with funds to support the coordination of the Ride and its media outreach campaign. All the towing companies participating are contributing their services.
