Raymond Earl Patton

A "Celebration of Life Memorial Picnic," will be held for Raymond Earl Patton, formerly of Dillon, on Saturday July 14, 2018, at the Grasshopper Campground near Elkhorn Hot Springs, Polaris at 11:30 a.m. All who knew Ray and know his wife, Ruth Ann Brown Hildreth Patton, are invited to attend the potluck.

Raymond Earl Patton was born in New Boston, Ohio on April 8, 1930 and passed away on January 1, 2018 in Klamath Falls, Oregon. Ray's mother died in childbirth when he was three years old and he and a younger sister were placed in an orphanage, where he lived until he was 14 years old. He worked in Ohio as an adult and came to know his older siblings and their spouses, nieces and nephews.

Ray came west to Beaverhead County and worked in the Big Hole and later for several large sheep ranches in Beaverhead and Madison Counties where he delivered supplies by pack train to sheep camps. Later he met Ruth Ann, whom he married on July 13, 1968 in Burley, Idaho, at which time he became the stepfather to Gail and Justin Hildreth. While in the southwestern Montana area Ray worked for the Pfizer Company at their talc plant until the family moved to Klamath Falls, Oregon in 1970 where he became a well known farm machinery mechanic for John Deere and New Holland Companies, before starting his own machinery repair company.

Ray traveled throughout the US, into Canada, the British Isles and France with Ruth Ann. He enjoyed big game and bird hunting, fishing, reading, and caring for his dogs. Ray canned jams and jellies that he made from fruits and berries that he picked each fall in Oregon. He was active in the Klamath Retired Educator's Kitchen Band with Ruth Ann, and was an exceptional artist excelling in pen and ink drawings as well as, oil painting, and pencil drawings that won many blue and best of show ribbons in California and Oregon fairs for his outstanding work. He had numerous health issues that he overcame over the last 25 years, including a major heart attack in 1996, and lung cancer in 2010.

Ray is survived by his wife of nearly 50 years, Ruth Ann, and stepchildren Gail (Hildreth) and Doug Whitsett, Justin Hildreth of Dillon, and grandchildren, Jesse and Brandon Hildreth, and several nieces and nephews in Ohio and his younger sister, Wanda Wilcutts of Oxnard, CA. He had a special relationship with a nephew Steve (and Sue) Koontz, who often took he and Ruth Ann to Reno and fishing on the Columbia River. He was preceded in death by his granddaughter, Carrie Hildreth, and five older brothers and sisters and his parents.

He broke his hip on July 7, 2017 and then had a series of small strokes and a final heart attack which took his life on New Year's Day. He was always cheerful and a very good family man. He never had an unkind word for anyone and will be remembered by all who knew him as highly intelligent, artistic, well read, a good parent and husband and a genuinely nice person.

Letter to the Editor

To those skeptics who just can't bring themselves to believe in a person with the integrity, drive and honesty that is Mr. Jon Tester, read on....

What are the Republicans afraid of?

The week or so before Father's Day it was announced on the news from The Montana Broadcasters Association, on NPR that Senator Jon Tester and Matt Rosendale would be meeting for a debate in Whitefish, Mt, on Father's Day.

Within a few days of the announcement came a statement from the Rosendale campaign that Mr. Rosendale would not be attending because the debate was going to conflict with Father's Day.

Rosendale's campaign claimed that Matt was not aware of the date. Well, that is interesting because if Matt Rosendale was not aware of the date, how did he know which date to cancel? He knew because he then decided that he had a conflict. NBC Fox reported that Rosendale had planned to attend and wanted a 3rd party candidate to attend. So why did he cancel?

Chris Mars reported that Rosendale just baled at the last minute.

But, true to form, our Senator Jon Tester showed up at the venue in Whitefish and had a town hall meeting. He showed up! And he spoke to the people about the issues which concern them. Jon Tester is there when he says he will be there. It doesn't get any better than that. Even if you don't agree with Tester, he showed up to keep the conversations going. And he listens.

NPR noted that 2 Montana T.V. stations had announced that Rosendale's campaign was hoping to meet with John Tester for five (5) debates before the November election. Well Mr. Rosendale, you better check your calendar and gird your loins.

Benefit Enrollment Event

A benefit enrollment event will be held July 11 to assist people who may need help with supplemental food assistance, health care enrollment or other public programs.

The event kicks off from 1 to 4 p.m. at the Dillon Public Library and then from 5 to 7 p.m. at the Southwest Montana Community Health Center, 41 Barrett St. The Dillon City Bus will extend its hours that day to accommodate anyone wishing to attend. For transportation please call 683-4245.

The event is being sponsored by the Beaverhead County Local Advisory Council, in collaboration with the Southwest Montana Community Health Center, the Women's Resource Center, Action, Inc, and Southwest Montana Aging and Disability Services.

"With the recent state budget cuts, we believe it is important for people to know help is available in their local communities," said Jennifer Malone, CEO of the Southwest Montana Community Health Center. "We are pleased to be part of an effort to ensure people get the assistance they need to stay healthy."

If you have any questions, please feel free to call the Women's Resource Center at (406) 683-6106 or Southwest Montana Community Health Center at (406) 683-4440.

Summertime Dinner Calls Long Overdue

By Tom Purcell

Maybe a new Utah law will revive the lost art of parents calling their children home for dinner.

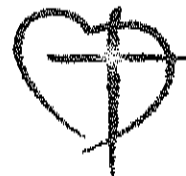

Utah recently passed the nation's first "free-range parenting" law to protect parents from prosecution for allowing their children to play in nearby parks, walk to school, go to the store or rumble through a neighborhood creek - without adult supervision.

It's a shame that it now takes passing laws to allow kids to enjoy childhood activities without adult supervision, but we must.

We must because, according to Parents Magazine, nearly 75 percent of parents fear their children are at risk of being abducted. Some 30 percent of parents fear child abduction more than they do car accidents, sports injuries or drug addiction involving their children. Parental fears have been stoked for decades by sensationalistic news stories on the internet and cable television, 24/7 - fears that, regrettably, are woefully out of sync with reality.

According to The New York Times, among America's roughly 40 million elementary school-age children, approximately 115 are abducted by strangers each year - while 250,000 are in car wrecks.

According to The Washington Post, "children taken by strangers or slight acquaintances represent only one-hundredth of 1 percent of all missing children." Such abductions are also on the decline.

In any event, media-stoked fears have changed childhood forever, prompting "helicopter parents" to "hover" over their children every moment of every day - placing undue burdens and stress on children and parents alike.

Lenore Skenazy says the heck with that.

Skenazy, an American blogger, columnist, author and reality-show host, wrote a newspaper column in 2008 that explained her decision to allow her then-9-year-old son to ride on the New York City subway alone.

The column sparked a flood of outrage among stressed-out parents and won her the label of "America's Worst Mom." It also led to Skenazy penning the book "Free Range Kids: Giving Our Children the Freedom We Had Without Going Nuts with Worry."

Some 10 years later, Skenazy's advocacy culminated in the passing of Utah's new "free-range parenting" law, which hopefully will enable children to enjoy the sort of unsupervised freedoms we baby-boom kids experienced in abundance - and bring back the lost art of parents calling their children home for dinner!

In the '70s, after we spent the day outdoors building shacks, going on bike hikes, swimming in a neighbor's pool or enjoying dozens of other activities without adult supervision, our parents called us home for dinner.

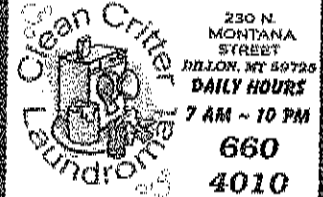

Every parent's dinner call had a unique sound. My father went with a deep, booming "Tom, dinner! Tom, dinner!" I could hear him a mile away or more.

When moms did the calling, they always used full names. They often sang, too, as my Aunt Jane did: "Miiiiikkkeeeelllll, Keeeeevvvviiiiinnn, suuuuuppppppceerrrr!"

The Givens boys, up on the hill across the railroad tracks, were called in by a large bell. The clanging sounded at 6 every night, giving us the sense that a riverboat was making its way up the Mississippi or a chuckwagon was calling in cowboys for some grub.

These mystical summer sounds have been gone a long time now - too long.

Hopefully, the efforts of gutsy moms like Lenore Skenazy will gradually restore the happy, artful sounds of those shouts, chants and bells carrying through the sweet summer air.
