Robert Philip Cottom

Bob passed away suddenly on July 29, 2018 at Barrett Hospital of natural causes. Bob was born February 28, 1942 in Butte Montana to Philip and Ruth Cottom. Ruth passed away shortly after his birth. He was raised by Philip and his step-mother Velma in Dillon.

After graduating from Beaverhead County High School in 1960, Bob met the love of his life, Barbara, in 1961. They were married on March 17, 1962 at the Presbyterian church in Dillon.

Bob and Barb spent the first 3 years of the married life in Great Falls. Bob worked as an orderly at the Deaconess Hospital and the Red Cross Blood Center. They moved back to Dillon in March 1965 for Bob to start work for Irvine-Cottom Seed Potatoes.

In November of 1965, their son, Brad, was born. Their family was complete when Brenda was born in 1967. Bob went to work for the City of Dillon in August 1976. He worked in the Water Department for 34 years, retiring as the Water Commissioner in 2010.

In his career with the city, he was appointed by Governor Stan Stevens to serve on the State Rural Water Certification Board, where he served 3 terms. In 1994 Bob was awarded Water Operator of the Year for the State of Montana by Conrad Burns.

Bob's biggest regret was not being able to serve his country; being denied as 4-F due to his hearing loss. Bob's greatest joy was his family. Nothing was more important to him than his beloved wife, Barb, and his grandchildren. Bob was proceeded in death by his parents and step-brother, Chuck (Marge) Crookshanks.

Bob is survived by his wife of 56 years, Barbara; son, Brad (Sheila); daughter Brenda Greenwell (Merl); grand children Kristen, Kevin, and Karli Cottom and Rachael and Mitchell Greenwell; brother, Bill (Dixie) Cottom; and numerous nieces and nephews.

Our Bob, Dad, and Papa will be so missed. Private family services will take place at a later date. There is a guestbook available online at www.brundagefuneralhome.com.

Forest Service Managing South Meadow Creek Fire in Southern Tobacco Root Mountains
 Lightning ignited the South Meadow Creek Fire the evening of July 25 and was reported at approximately 10:30 p.m. Firefighters from the Madison Ranger District and Madison Rural Valley Fire Department provided the initial response that evening. The fire is located approximately ½ mile southeast of South Meadow Lake in the Tobacco Root Mountains and is burning at an elevation of 9,000 feet in very steep, inaccessible terrain with large amounts of standing dead trees.
 Firefighters have not been able to engage the fire in this location as there is no adequate way to provide timely medical care in case of injuries due to the difficult terrain. A helicopter was used July 26 to drop water on the fire to cool it and minimize spread. Fire personnel are being vigilant and are currently seeking out opportunities to engage the fire in areas with better access along ridgelines and road systems.
 The fire is currently 1/10 acre in size and has shown very little smoke or activity but as conditions dry, it may become visible from both the Madison valley near McAllister and the Ruby valley around Sheridan. There are no road, trail or area closures at this time.
 Visitors to the Beaverhead-Deerlodge National Forest are advised to be cautious with fire by making sure their campfires are completely out and cool to the touch before leaving, and by keeping vehicles on roads as grass and shrubs are dry and easily ignited.
 For more information contact the Madison District office (406) 682-4253, located at 5 Forest Service Road in Ennis.

Will You Survive National Garage Sale Day?

Tyrades! by Danny Tyree

I have browsed umpteen garage and yard sales over the years and used to help my mother display her collectibles in her neighborhood's miles-long event. But I did not realize that Saturday, August 11 is this year's National Garage Sale Day until I read it via "U.S. News & World Report."

Given the current political climate, National Garage Sale Day could be unprecedentedly controversial this year. Just Google "garage sale." In addition to tips for shoppers and sellers, you'll find numerous dueling examples of both "I love garage sales" and "I hate garage sales." The only thing that could make things more incendiary this year is lawn signs such as "With each purchase, an adorable free kitten, named after a distinguished Confederate general."

Still, controversial or not, when we participate in garage sales we are subconsciously paying tribute to our intrepid hunter-gatherer ancestors. As a further homage to their legacy, if you purchase that used electric blender without testing it first, you may also discover FIRE.

People who have never hosted a garage sale don't realize the stress involved. For instance, you have to put a few dents into those stationary bikes and yoga mats, so no one realizes what a slob you are. ("That rowing machine looks like it has been idle since it was used to dump tea into Boston Harbor.")

Savvy shoppers can tell a mediocre garage sale from an outstanding one. Run-of-the-mill garage sale organizers are tickled to see shoppers get into a tug-of-war over a prized item. Organizers who strive for excellence will offer even more entertainment value, perhaps a log-rolling contest or giant slalom to settle such conflicts. ("I would duel you at dawn, sir â€" but that's when I have to be at the 'Absolutely no early birds' garage sale.")

For some reason, many shoppers are ill-prepared for shopping. Driving their subcompact car through congested streets on the garage sale route makes them feel like a true nature's child, like they were born, born to ... buy a kitchen cupboard. ("Relax. If I take the air pressure gauge and the registration out of the glove compartment, I think I can make it fit.")

Garage sales are a good way to get to know your neighbors better. ("Uh, yes, one of my hobbies is selling tools that look ALMOST exactly like the ones I borrowed from you last year...")

People who host garage sales on an annual basis should be more circumspect about storing away their unsold items. Based on circumstantial evidence, someone keeps storing the old VHS tapes near a family Bible that is turned to "Be ye fruitful and multiply." (The social justice motto of VHS tapes seems to be "We're here, we reek of beer and we're not going away.")

Have fun August 11, but be careful about impulse buys. Early in my married life, I went to a garage sale and purchased a big stack of antique hymn magazines. I couldn't stop wondering what sort of idiot would get rid of such a treasure so cheaply.

Now the unread magazines have been taking up space in my shed for 20 years. Understandably, I've sworn off impulse buys.

"Oooo, Stonewall Jackson the tabby put quite a gash in your leg. You'd better get some bandages..."

"Let's not rush into anything about these newfangled 'bandages.' Hey, why are electric blenders dancing around my head?"

BEAVERHEAD
— REAL ESTATE —

~ 606 SOUTH WASHINGTON STREET ~

Meticulously maintained and tastefully decorated, this beautiful Victorian style home has many recent improvements that include a newer roof, furnace, gutters, windows and paint. The hardwood floors were refurbished just a year ago and there is a new floor in the downstairs bathroom. The electrical has been updated and the majority of light fixtures are new. 2-car detached garage, wood stove and a new concrete patio. There are an abundance of windows for natural light. The fenced-in yard has mature trees, shrubs and flowers. All of this on a wonderful corner lot in a desirable east side location. Truly a must see property! $219,900
