FIRE UPDATE

Monument Fire - The lightning caused Monument Fire was detected on August 6, 2018. Infrared mapping last evening more accurately mapped the fires perimeter at 4215 acres. Suppression activities today include identifying indirect line locations and checking the progress with helicopter bucket drops and retardant. The fire is burning in whitebark pine and sub-alpine fir, with approximately 70% mortality, at an elevation of 9,000 feet.

Wigwam Fire - The lightning caused Wigwam Fire was detected on August 11, 2018. Infrared mapping last evening more accurately mapped the fires perimeter at 1,969 acres. It is located in the Wigwam drainage. Fire suppression activities today will continue to check the fires progress towards the Haypress subdivision with bucket drops and retardant. Engine crews will continue structure protection and assist in evacuations if necessary.

A Unified Command of Forest Service and Madison County has been established to manage both fires. Resources currently assigned include 13 engines, 5 water tenders, strike team of heavy equipment and 78 firefighters. A Type 3 light helicopter has been assigned to the fire and a Type 1 (Heavy) is doing bucket work. The Type 3 Incident Management Team currently assigned to the fire will be transitioning later this week with a Type 2 IMT.

Evacuations - Haypress Lakes subdivision was evacuated August 12. The Ennis High School has been established as a Red Cross evacuation center. There is currently an Evacuation Order for the Haypress Lakes road and Boiler springs from the Y (in the road) to the west (BLM). There is also an Evacuation Warning from the Y (in the road) southeast to the Shining Mt. Subdivision.

Closures - The Johnny Ridge and Gravelly Range roads are closed through to Black Butte. A larger area closure has been identified and will be implemented in the near future to protect public safety.

Fire restrictions are not in effect on the Beaverhead-Deerlodge National Forest, however, people are encouraged to keep informed of other area restrictions by going online to <https://firerestrictions.us>.

Fire Activity and Smoke: Currently, there are 57 uncontained large fires in the nation, which are filtering smoke into the valleys of Montana. You can find information about these fires on Inciweb at <https://inciweb.nwcg.gov>. Further information on smoke can be found from the MT Department of Environmental Quality's web page at <http://bit.ly/wildfiresmokereport>.

To find out more about the Beaverhead-Deerlodge National Forest go online to: <https://www.fs.usda.gov/bdnf>, and check out News & Events, 'Like Us' on our Facebook page <https://www.facebook.com/US-Forest-Service-Beaverhead-Deerlodge-National-Forest-1540138089548920>, and 'Follow Us' on our Twitter page at <https://twitter.com/BvrhdDrldgeNF> for further information.

How to Survive Your Summer Vacation
 Raging Moderate by Will Durst
 We look forward to it for months. Calendars have been cleared, reservations made, and the anticipation in the house is so high, it vibrates like a chicken on meth strapped to a thirty year-old dryer set on spin. The Summer Vacation Trip is nigh. It's a time-honored testament to all that is right about America. And often, not less than a little of what is wrong.
 A brief respite from, and reward for, working hard. A time to reconnect and bond with the family unit, creating indelible memories along with building up patience and pain tolerance levels. Beaches. Theme Parks. Barbecues. Water Slides. Campfires. Unseen vistas. Unfamiliar beds. Unusual insects. Fresh scars.
 If your plans entail traveling without using an airport, you should consider yourself luckier than Paul Manafort biting into a Get Out of Jail Free Card in his bologna sandwich. More comfort can be found on an Athens to Sparta diesel bus in the poultry section than on any domestic flight this summer.
 They suck us in with those heavily advertised "Special Getaway Fares." What they neglect to mention is the requirement to leave after 6 p.m. on a Tuesday with two stops and oh yeah, fifty bucks to check a bag, another fifty for window or aisle, ten dollars for every extra inch of legroom and five per bathroom visit.
 And driving isn't much better. I would rather stick a hand full of paper cuts into a vat of Tabasco sauce than hit the road between Memorial Day and Labor Day. Whoever said "getting there is half the fun" never tried finding a parking spot in a National Park or got stuck going up a mountain on a two-lane highway behind a rented RV.
 However you plan to embark on your journey, here's a few hints to minimize the pressure of interacting with families and friends non-stop, 24/7, for days at a time in exotic locales desperately seeking that elusive mythological goal - fun.

HOW TO SURVIVE YOUR SUMMER VACATION

- In order to cram all your activities in, try eating only once a day. That whole "low blood sugar" thing is just an old wives' tale.
- Play a game of "Marco Polo" to steer the kids past the gift shops.
- 100 pushups for every time somebody whines, "I'm bored."
- Mix things up, have a squirt gun fight in a museum. Or do crossword puzzles at the ballgame.
- Devices keep them occupied at home, why not on the road?

- Take photographs of everything: meals, road signs, and anything that could possibly later be referred to as Plaintiff's Exhibit A.
- Planning ahead is for sissies. Just go for it.
- If nobody gets in the spirit of the "Happiest Place on Earth," force them to sing "It's a Small World" over and over.
- Rush, rush, rush everywhere. You don't want to miss a thing.
- Rest is highly overrated. Tell the kids, "we'll sleep when we die."
- Traveling with a professional therapist can help put the fun back in dysfunctional family.
- Stay calm. Map out an itinerary that includes local craft gin distilleries.
- Make sure to schedule at least one day for every two days gone, back at home doing nothing, to recover from your trip.
- Next year, seriously reconsider your spouse's suggestion of separate vacations.

Goldstone Fire, Beaverhead-Deerlodge and Salmon Challis National Forests

The lightning caused Goldstone Fire was detected on August 2. The fire started burning in a high elevation basin near Goldstone Pass, located approximately five miles west of Reservoir Lake or twelve miles south of Jackson MT in the Park Creek drainage in the Bitterroot Mountains, on the Montana and Idaho state border. It is in steep mountainous terrain and is burning in heavy mixed conifer fuels (sub-alpine fir, Engleman Spruce, lodgepole pine) with very heavy concentrations of standing dead trees (snags). There is a Temporary Flight Restriction (TFR) over the fire area. For more information on TFR's go online to <http://tfr.faa.gov>

The fire is currently 3769 acres with approximately 70 resources. The fire continues to be suppressed by creating fuel breaks and handline where possible. The fire is 0% contained. A Type 2 Incident Management Team will be assuming control of the fire August 14, 2018.

Closure Order #2017-D1-010 has been rescinded and a new closure order is pending. A temporary re-route for the Continental Divided Trail is in effect. The Reservoir Lake campground and Bloody Dick cabin are closed. For more information contact the Fire Information (406) 490-1818 or the Dillon Ranger District (406) 683-3900.

Fire Weather:

Idaho: Expect seasonal temperatures with lower relative humidities today as some drier air works its way into central Idaho. Winds will be generally light and terrain driven with light southwest wind on ridges. Tuesday, high pressure will redevelop resulting in trends toward warmer temperatures and lower humidities. Winds will remain light and terrain driven. Expect hazy conditions through the middle of the week. Montana: Dry conditions and seasonal temperatures will occur today with light southwest winds with two exceptions. Areas along the continental divide, including west Glacier NF can expect a light east wind today. The Beaverhead-Deerlodge NF will experience some light to moderate northeast wind this afternoon. High pressure will redevelop over the region Tuesday resulting in warmer temperatures, lower humidities and mainly terrain driven winds.
