Campaign Propaganda

Coming up is an election where there will be several candidates running for one position. I am listing the conditions that I will follow when publishing 'Letters to Editor' for a candidate.

Note: Letters to the Editor addressing a candidate running for public office will be printed only if:

1. Letter provides verifiable factual data about a candidate. Provide where facts and figures were taken from for verification purposes.
2. Letter must include a phone number and address where the writer may be reached if there are questions?
3. No letter will be published that has negative, offensive opinions or belligerent statements.
4. I will publish letters when I have room available.

I am happy to provide a way you may support a candidate running for public office. Thank you for honoring my position. If that is not what you wish to do please use social media. All political ads must have a disclaimer on them that lists the name of secretary, address and who is paying for the ad.

As editor of the Dillonite, I feel that in our small town, negative smear campaign ads are not needed. We continue to live, work and belong to organization with these people and we don't need the hurt and anger it causes. If I put a letter to the editor that is against someone - my business and I get blamed by the other side by many with calls and threats. I will not take a public stand for or against a candidate.

"RESILIENCE: RAISING POSITIVE CHILDREN IN A CHALLENGING WORLD"

The Beaverhead County Adverse Childhood Experiences Task Force is co-sponsoring a special community presentation on Tuesday, August 28th at 7 p.m. on the Western Campus titled: "Resilience: Raising Positive Children in a Challenging World."

Montana's Suicide Prevention Coordinator Karl Rosston will focus on how effective communication and relationship building is a big part of raising kids with positive self-esteem and the ability to face life's minor and major challenges. Resilience is the ability to recover from difficulties. Someone who is resilient adapts well when faced with adversity, tragedy, trauma, or other significant sources of stress.

Rosston speaks to the power of each child having a "connection" to at least one caring, competent adult to offset the challenges associated with growing up, having a mental illness, or finding it difficult to get along with others. He's a strong advocate for parents and guardians to invite their children to talk with them about their feelings as a proven way to reduce the risk of suicide among adolescents. "These are conversations that can save lives," Rosston said.

Montana's suicide rate among youth, ages 11-17, is nearly triple the national rate! Isolation, depression, and troubled social relationships are among the top reasons why youth turn to suicide as a permanent solution to a temporary problem. Montana's rate is so deadly since nearly 70% of the youth suicides are completed by firearms. There is relatively easy access to firearms in our state and they are so much more deadly than other means used in suicides, e.g. overdose, suffocation, or motor vehicles accidents.

The community presentation on Tuesday, August 28th at 7 p.m. in the Model Classroom, near the Beier Auditorium, on Western's campus is free and open to the public. Light refreshments will be served and two $50 grocery gift certificates are door prizes. Rosston's presentation is also sponsored by the UMW Education Department, Yellowstone Boys and Girls Ranch, Southwest Chemical Dependency Program/Be the Change 406, and the Beaverhead County Mental Health Local Advisory Council.

Children's Floral Design

The Dillon Garden Club is hosting the 4th Annual Children's Floral Design Workshop on Monday, August 27 in the meeting room at the Legacy.

There will be two workshops: one at 4:00 pm and one at 7:00 pm. Participants may choose which workshop to attend. They will learn how to create floral designs and be encouraged to enter them in the Beaverhead County Fair.

Flowers, foam and containers will be provided, but participants are welcome to bring their own favorite containers. Please register for the workshops by calling Adele at 683-5686 or Arlis at 925-2209.

Local author, Robert (Bob) Wooley, will be talking about writing and his approach to writing at The Bookstore on Thursday, August 23. He grew up in the eastern hardwood forest where he learned woodsmanship. In the 1960's he served as a US Naval officer. It was after becoming a botanist and forester that he migrated to the west. It was here that he worked as a forest ecologist and entomologist. He lived and worked in several locations in the west, including the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem. Now retired he calls Dillon home. He has spent his life exploring the natural landscapes, the towns and the cities both east and west of the Mississippi observing how they enmesh in the lives of the people inhabiting those spaces.

Wooley was adopted when he was six months old. At the age of 55 he felt the need to search for his birth family. It took ten years but he managed to discover who his birth mother was and the difficult decision she made in putting him up for adoption. He also came to understand how vastly different his life would have been had she not done so.

Bob will be signing copies of his books from 5:00-7:00 with a reading and brief presentation starting at 5:30. Titles available are: Dawn of the Northern Plains (a novel exploring origins), Chasing the Western Moon (a novel that seeks the truth), Blue Camas (a novel that pushes the boundaries of love and the law), Letting of Eltanzer (a novel about imagination, healing, letting go, accepting change and accepting that which we cannot see). Call 683-6807 if you have any questions or would like to reserve copies of the books.

Structures Damaged or Destroyed - none

The Monument and Wigwam Fires are smoldering in timber and exhibiting minimal fire behavior as a result of cloudy and cool conditions. Acreage remains the same with no growth on the fires in the past 3 days.

Fire fighters continue to use a combination of direct and indirect tactics as they work toward full containment on both fires. The structure protection group is working east of Monument Fire. Firefighters are preparing the Johnny Ridge Road for burnout operations when weather permits, on the north end of Monument Fire. Crews will begin suppression repair on firelines for both fires.

Goldstone Fire Operations: The Goldstone Fire has burned 1,463 acres on the Salmon-Challis National Forest and 7,801 acres on the Beaverhead-Deerlodge National Forest.

Beaver Creek Fire Operations: Recent rainfall has dramatically reduced fire behavior on the Beaver Creek Fire. One crew and ten local firefighters will remain on the fire today and continue to improve the Howell Creek Road as a contingency plan to stop the fire's spread toward private lands. With most of the resources redirected to the Goldstone Fire, the spike camp in Fish Trap will be dismantled

Elk shoulder seasons began Aug. 15 in several hunting districts around Montana

Elk shoulder seasons are firearms seasons that can occur as early as Aug. 15 and run as late as Feb 15 depending on the hunting district. While most shoulder seasons focus on antlerless elk harvest on private land and are not intended to replace or reduce harvest during the existing general archery or five-week firearms seasons, a few are meant to address problematic distribution of elk.

First approved by the Montana Fish and Wildlife Commission in October 2015, shoulder seasons are an opportunity for hunters in hunting districts where elk populations are over objective. For the 2018 season, the commission approved shoulder seasons in more than 50 hunting districts, in six of FWP's seven regions.

Shoulder seasons have specific objectives and as such, the commission and department are monitoring the success of shoulder seasons in each hunting district to ensure they are meeting the fundamental objectives. The success of shoulder seasons in Montana will require the participation and cooperation of everyone – hunters, landowners and the department.

As always, permission is required to hunt on private land.

For more information on shoulder seasons, including an interactive map of hunting districts with shoulder seasons, look on the FWP's website under Shoulder Seasons, a link to which is on the FWP homepage and the hunting home page.

Additionally, each region will have specific information about shoulder seasons in their areas that can be found on the web page. Some regions will employ elk hunt information coordinators. The contact information for those people will also be on the web page.

Shoulder season regulations can vary from district to district. So, no matter where you're hunting – as always – know the regulations.

Advertising and Sponsorship for the Dillon Amateur Hockey Association Ice Rink

DAHA (a local 501(c)(3) non-profit organization) is getting ready for our first year of ice at Chris Kraft Park! This ice facility will provide the Dillon/Beaverhead County communities with a large local ice sheet for enjoying ice skating and playing ice hockey and other ice sports. We currently have the materials and funds to place the ice surface with boards around the entire regulation sized rink, as well as the purchase of skates and other equipment for free community use. We are still in need for funding to build a simple heated garage structure to house our already purchased Zamboni ice resurfacing machine. Being able to use this machine this year will greatly improve the quality of the ice that we maintain. The DAHA membership has developed the following pricing list for rink advertising during the 2018-2019 winter season (we anticipate ice from December through February, but will be relying on Mother Nature). The rink and adjacent facilities will become increasingly modernized and popular over the years, so take advantage of these inaugural prices before they go up in future seasons:

*Full Side Board (4' x 8' Space):
$450 per season*

*Half Side Board (2' x 8' Space or 4' X 4' space):
$325 per season*

*End Netting Banner (approximately 4' x 8'):
$750 per season*

*Exclusive Zamboni Sponsorship (available only if garage construction is completed this year):
minimum $5000 (Or Highest Offer) per season*

*Naming Sponsorship of Equipment Garage (available only if garage construction is completed this year):
$5000 per season*

*Naming Rights to the Ice Rink:
minimum $10,000 (Or Highest Offer) per season*

- NOTE: SMALLER ZAMBONI ADVERTISEMENTS WILL BE AVAILABLE IF EXCLUSIVE SPONSORSHIP RIGHTS GO UNCLAIMED
 - SMALL ZAMBONI AD PRICE SUBJECT TO AVAILABLE SPACE

Other donations or advertisement opportunities will be accepted.

Payment details, specific advertising questions, and other inquiries regarding sponsorship opportunities can be made at info.dillon.hockey@gmail.com or through our Facebook page. You can also contact Mike Morrow at 683-6648. Contact us for more information and to reserve your sponsorship space! Thank you for your support of this new community resource!
