OPEN WITH A SPLASH

The splash pad was opened around 2 pm on Monday. The committee would like to thank Splash Pad USA for staying all night over labor day to get this done. A big thank you goes out to the Lanie Jones and Tom Wagenknecht for working on Labor Day and with the committee to do the state inspection for opening and to Mayor Klakken, Todd Hazelbaker and Nick Gutcheck for coming down on the holiday to be sure we could open. To the head task master and coordinator with the bull whip, RayAnn Sutton, if it wasn't for your insistence we would still be waiting. Thank you all for opening this to the children of all ages. It was so amazing to watch people coming in and enjoying the water and the benches that were full of spectators. The benches were donated by Dillon Rotary.

We are hoping to have the splash pad open until September 14 with the hours of 10 am to 7 pm. It will then need to be winterized for the season. We are excited to be able to enjoy the splash pad this year, even for the short time we have. We will give you updates as they come this week.

Thank you to the donors, volunteers and community members that stopped what they were doing and came to help on the project with short notice when our time frame changed every few hours.

Theresa was very thankful for the medical staff at Barrett Clinic and Hospital. She wanted a special thanks to her doctors, especially Dr. Loge, Dr. Lifson and Dr. Murray and to the Hospice Staff, especially Marie and Gina. She also wanted to thank her special friends and caregivers, Diane and Carl Staley. She hoped to make you all smile at her upbeat attitude, daily joke and zest for living a long life.

Theresa requested that she not have a memorial service and anyone wanting to honor her life do so with a gift to the Beaverhead Senior Citizens Center in her name.

Montana Community of Lima Issues New Book Featuring Its History

Damaris Cherry Hoadley
and
Richard Otto Gosman

A special event to mark the release of a new big book telling the story of Lima, Montana, a small community along Interstate 15 at the southern end of the Red Rock Valley will be held Saturday, Sept. 8, at the town's City Hall with the book's authors available to sign copies of it.

The book - titled "Welcome to Lima" - was written by two of the community's long-time residents, Damaris Cherry Hoadley and the late Richard Otto Gosman with a lot of help from a special committee of the Red Rock Valley History Keepers, a recently formed organization. Fittingly, both Hoadley and Gosman were life-long residents of the community.

"This is a comprehensive history of our town, its stories, its heritage and, most importantly, its people," related Jack Hutchison, the book's editor, a long-time educator and coach in Lima. He noted that a publishing run of 500 copies of the book was made and that its sales will be based on a first come, first served basis. The book retails for $50, plus shipping if necessary.

Issued in special hardcover "Collector's Edition" format, the 8½ by 11-inch book covers the history of Lima from its founding - first under the name of "Allerdice" and then "Spring Hill" - in the late 1800s. It contains some 21 chapters and an historic photo section, plus numerous photographs throughout the book featuring its long and varied history.

Lima is located along Interstate 15 some 15 miles north of the Idaho-Montana border and 48 miles south of Dillon, and while today it is known as a warm-hearted, small agriculturally-based community that welcomes travelers into Montana at an extravagant rest stop, the book notes that the town's history is both robust and directly related to several aspects of Montana's early history – particularly in relationship to transporting ore by means of the railroad from the mines in Butte's "Richest Hill on Earth" to a terminal in Corrine, Utah, that connected the fledgling mining camp with the eastern states.

Among the book's 21 chapters, for example, are The Coming of the White Man, the Native American Presence, Freight Drivers and Wagon Master, Railroads Foster Lima's Growth, Lima Becomes a Town, and other themes on education, religion, mining, social and community organizations, hunting, fishing and trapping, as well as such themes as water, power and electricity and the development of roads and highways in the area. Dozens of photographs illustrate the various chapters.

Publication of the book was initiated and sponsored by the newly organized "Red Rock Valley History Keepers" with its initial officers, Russell Kluesner, Jackie Sutton and Jack Hutchison. Hutchison, who served as editor for the book, said the group owed special thanks to Bill Briggs for creation of the redrockvalleyhistorykeepers.org website to introduce the book online and foster support for its sale.

"We also extend our very special love for the support our lead author, Damaris Cherry Hoadley, has received from her life-long partner and husband, Lewis Hoadley," Hutchison said. He noted that the Hoadleys celebrated their 72nd wedding anniversary on Sept. 1.

The History Keepers worked with the publishing firm of Stoneydale Press in Stevensville, Montana, over the past several months to get the book into print. Stoneydale Press earlier had published a major history book titled "Montana's Centennial Valley: A Journey Through Time" – in which Lima was part of the story – plus a huge two-volume history of schools in Lake County. The firm currently working with a group in Montana's Big Hole Valley – the "Land of 10,000 Haystacks" – to publish a book on that community's history.

Last stretch! Please help!

We are in the last 2 weeks of efforts to take care of the watering at Selway Park!!! I need people for the next 2 weeks! AND/OR you can help us fighting the weeds so that the seed mix gets an advantage!

We will have a day of planting bushes on September 22nd and I don't have anybody on my list so far, so who's up for some hands-in-the-dirt volunteering?

We got 5 rabbitbrush, 4 chokecherry, 3 wild rose, 5 golden currant, 3 silverberry, 4 buffalo berry and 5 red Twig Dogwood from Southwest Montana Native Landscape to make the park a gorgeous and enjoyable for all!

Let me know when you can help!
