Montana and Partners Announce First Annual International Charity Fraud Awareness Week

Montana Attorney Tim Fox joins with state charities regulators across the country, the National Association of State Charities Officials (NASCO) and the Federal Trade Commission to announce the first annual International Charity Fraud Awareness Week (ICFAW) October 22 -26, 2018. ICFAW is a coordinated international campaign to help charities and consumers avoid charity fraud and promote wise giving.

"When you donate, you want your money to go to an organization that really helps make a difference. Many reputable charities are deserving of our support," said Attorney General Tim Fox. "Unfortunately, there are scammers out there who misuse real pictures and stories to get donations, but the money goes into their own pockets. It's important to do your homework and give wisely. My Office of Consumer Protection stands ready to help Montanans who have questions about ways to ensure your donations will be used as intended."

The Office of Consumer Protection at the Montana Department of Justice offers these charitable giving tips:

Do your research

- Search the charity's name online with words like "complaint" and "scam."
- Check out the charity's ratings with groups like the BBB Wise Giving Alliance, Charity Navigator, Charity Watch, and Guidestar.
- Use the IRS's Tax Exempt Organization Search to see if your donation is tax-deductible.

Ask questions

- What are the charity's website, address, and mission?
- How much of your donation will go directly to services, rather than fundraising?
- How much of your donation will be used for the specific programs you want to support?

Be careful how you pay

- If someone asks you to send them cash, wire money, donate by gift card, or leave money under your front door mat for pick up, don't do it. That's how scammers often ask you to pay. It's safer to pay by credit card or check.
- If you're donating online, check that the webpage where you enter your payment information has "https" in the web address. That means your information is transmitted securely.
- Avoid cash donations, if possible. Pay by credit card, or write a check directly to the charity. Legitimate charities will give you a receipt that shows the amount of your donation. Keep that record and check your credit card statements to make sure you're only charged for the donation you wanted to make.

Watch out for scammers' tricks

- Scammers spoof caller ID to make their fundraising calls look like they're from your local area code, a Washington, D.C. area code, or from an organization you know.
- Scammers pressure you into donating immediately before you have time to do any research. A legitimate charity will welcome your donation at any time.
- Scammers claim that you'll win a sweepstakes or get a prize if you donate, which is against the law.

Charity Fraud Awareness Week features a social media campaign that promotes wise giving tips. Follow @AGTimFox on Twitter or watch for tips at #CharityFraudOut. More charitable giving pointers are available by visiting the Office of Consumer Protection's webpage or calling 1-(800)-481-6896 during business hours. Interested individuals may also watch the FTC's new video, "Make Your Donations Count."

Relocation Celebration at Tendoy Fine Art

The Tendoy Fine Art gallery has relocated to 120 N. Montana, sharing space with the Southwest Montana Arts Council (SMAC) after a year at their home on Idaho Street in Dillon, Montana. The community is invited to a First Year and Relocation Celebration at the new space on October 27th. The gallery will be open from 10:00 am to 7:00 pm and be part of the Fall Art Walk.

The move to Montana Street will enable Tendoy to have more space to represent artists and provide an arts education room that will be utilized by both SMAC and Tendoy. Members of both groups have been busy painting and making improvements to the space.

Plans are underway to develop a broad spectrum of classes for adults and children in visual arts and other creative activities. In addition, the education room will provide space to showcase the art of community members and bring in occasional shows by out-of-area artists. The front area gallery will offer fine art pieces by gallery members.

Tendoy Fine Art would like to thank the Montana Youth Challenge Cadets who helped with painting at the new location. Monetary and materials donations such as used storage shelves would be welcomed to assist with setting up the new space. For information about the Relocation Celebration and future classes email tendoyfineartgallery@gmail.com or call 406-660-3007.

Judiciary Committee 10/18/2018

By: MJ

Question: Why are the people not asking the country government, the commissioners to pass an ordinance instead of the city. Do LGBTQ's only live within the city limits? 50%± of the people speaking at the Judiciary meeting Oct. 18th (both pros and cons) lived out of the city limits. Would a city ordinance affect those living outside the city limits?

Have you ever discriminated against anyone during your life time? Humans are humans and we all say things that hurt, discriminate and are offensive to others feelings even though it was not our intention. In the world today where we are separating and dividing people, causing discriminating states of anger, many innocent people are being hurt. What about the discrimination that goes on with disabled people? Where is the special local ordinance for them? The general run of the mill society appears to feel it is ok to push them to the outskirts. Have you ever complained about handicap parking sign because they impede your parking? Discrimination.

Question: Is it time that we need to look at the CAUSE and EFFECT when considering the passage of an ordinance that will continue to cause division and anger between people, add another layer of what may or may not be legal protection for LGBTQ personnel, up and above the State and Federal laws that are in place to protect people from harassment in the work place, schools, restaurants...

1) When something as serious as an ordinance is being passed by the city government, that will affect the entire community we need to deal with factual data and not emotions and opinions or politics.

2) Will an ordinance such as this truly protect people or destroy people?

3) Wa-la the city finds themselves in a law suit for a select group of people. The oath government personnel take when being sworn into office, is that they will work for the betterment of the whole.

Questions: Would this ordinance stipulate where the discrimination was to happen; workplace, school, streets... Does the ordinance explain discrimination when a LGBTQ person is involved? Can I file a law suit because I feel I have been discriminated against claiming I am LGBT using this ordinance? People may say that won't happen. We all know when humans are involved anything can happen.

Note: When we are talking about discrimination we need to consider how Dillon's City government is structured, the environment, the society and economics of area. It all has an impact. For these reasons it might be wise to take a pragmatic approach and look for cause and effect rather than impose laws on top of laws.

LGBTQ topic for discussion was on the Judiciary Committee meeting agenda. There was a respectable turn out of interested public members attending. Both Pro and Con. I heard from others that would have liked to have attended and testified however with the meeting being held at 3:00 P.M. they could not attend. Those people need to write letters to the mayor or council member. If you would like to text or e-mail call the city clerks and they will give you the information needed. 683-4245 if city office number.
