Mary Ellen Schulenberg

Mary Ellen Schulenberg passed away October 30, 2018 at Pioneer Care Center in Dillon. She was born March 23, 1942 in Dillon, Montana to Joe and Margret "Muggs " (Dumke) Lakner. She started school in Dillon then her family moved to Butte in 1951. There she attended school at Jefferson, Grant and Graduated from Butte High School.

She married Joe Lovshin in 1963. They later divorced. In 1976 she married Bill Schulenberg. Together they enjoyed life living in the many places his job took him. She made lifelong friends wherever she went. They both loved to play cards, getting together with friends and bowling. She often worked in the offices of the trucking company (Trans Systems) that Bill worked for. She loved to travel in the truck with Bill, and she truly enjoyed seeing all the things that each state had to offer. Bill passed away in 2000. Mary Ellen stayed in Riverton, Wyoming for another year and then moved to Dillon to be closer to family. While in Dillon, she worked at WMC in the culinary department enjoying new friends and reacquainting herself with old ones.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Bill, her parent, Joe and Muggs, her brother, Butch (Art), her in-laws, Bill and Freida Schulenberg, and sister in-law Annie Mc Daniels.

She is survived by her brother Bill (Kathy) Lakner of Great Falls, sister Kathy(Mike) Shafer of Dillon, sister-in-law Gina Lakner of Butte, nephew Dustin Shafer and family, Dawn Jensen(Travis) and family, Drea (Taig) O'Donnell and family.

The staff of Pioneer Care Center was wonderful to her, always stopping by to visit. She loved bantering with them and they in turn teased her back. They will always be treasured by her family for the care they gave her and the enjoyment they brought into the last year of her life. THANK YOU!

Interment will be held in Forsyth in the Schulenberg family plot at a later date.

There is a guestbook available online at www.brundagefuneralhome.com

Waterfowl hunters can help prevent spread of AIS

Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks reminds waterfowl hunters that they can help prevent aquatic invasive species from infesting Montana's wetlands, rivers and lakes.

The three steps of Clean, Drain, Dry greatly minimize the risk of spreading invasive species. Waterfowl hunters use gear that should be inspected before hunting in a new area. Waterfowl hunters should:

- Clean aquatic plants, animals, and mud from boat, trailer, waders, boots, decoys, decoy lines, and push poles.
- Drain water from decoys, boats, motors, and other hunting equipment.
- Brush hunting dogs and rinse off muddy paws.
- Never move plants from one body of water to another. When using vegetation to construct blinds or conceal duck boats, use only what is available in the immediate hunting area.

Hunters' watercraft must be inspected if:

- You are coming into Montana from out of state.
- You are traveling west over the Continental Divide into western Montana (the Columbia River Basin).
- You are coming off Tiber or Canyon Ferry reservoirs.
- You are launching anywhere within the Flathead Basin and your watercraft last launched on waters outside of the Flathead Basin.

Many inspection stations are closed for the season, but FWP offers inspections at all FWP area and regional offices.

For more information or to find an inspection station, visit CleanDrainDryMT.com or contact the FWP fisheries office at 406-444-2440.

Letter to the Editor

Melainya Ryan

In response to questions surrounding the need for expanding the definition of protected persons.

LGBTQ individuals are protected by federal and state law, right? And if so, then why do we need yet another law or city ordinance? Let's take a close look at the federal and state law to determine whether or not the LGBTQ population is considered a protected population.

The Civil Rights Act of 1964 outlawed discrimination based upon race, color, religion, sex, and national origin. This applies to voter registration, education, employment and public accommodations. The Montana Human Rights Act protects people from discrimination based on race, creed, religion, sex, national origin or because of age, physical or mental disability, marital status, pregnancy. As you can see, neither the Civil Rights Act nor the Montana Human Rights Act specifically addresses one's sexual orientation or one's gender identification and/or expression. This leaves room for discrimination and misunderstanding.

How can we, as a society, and the community of Dillon be so confused about whether or not LGBTQ people are protected? It seems that individuals have their own understanding of the law and that we, as community members, look to law enforcement and attorneys to provide us with an accurate interpretation of the law. If you have ever talked to an attorney, you know that they have their own understanding of what the law/code means, and how it is to be interpreted and enforced. It's similar to how each spiritual leader interprets spiritual text. Of course, there are a few words whose meaning is fully comprehended and understood across the board. For instance, the word "shall." Shall is not up for discussion. "Shall" means must. Then there is "may." "May" does not mean must. It means it may or it may not. Research indicates that although 79% of non LGBTQ Americans support equal rights, 80% of those people have the misconception that it's already illegal to fire, evict or refuse service to someone based on their sexual orientation. We don't understand the law because we are not attorneys! Furthermore, even attorneys read and interpret the law differently.

In preparation for proposing the nondiscrimination ordinance to the Dillon City Council, I spoke directly with several of the attorneys across the state of Montana to gain insight as to why they, as attorneys, did or did not support a nondiscrimination ordinance for their community. I was informed by some that they believe the Civil Rights Act of 1964 to be inclusive. In fact, one individual stated that "sex" covers everything from gender (at birth, gender identity, and gender expression) to sexual orientation. This attorney noted that this is how he reads and understands the law. Several other attorneys stated the opposite. In fact, some noted that because there is not yet a federal or state law, there must be a city law as all people must be protected. I was informed that some attorneys are conservative in their interpretation while others interpret the law more liberally. Regardless, all are doing their very best to serve their clients/community/etc. and to uphold moral principles.

As noted, there is NO federal law specifically addressing discrimination against LGBTQ individuals. In fact, on October 24, 2018 the Department of Justice told the US Supreme Court that Congress that businesses can discriminate against workers based on their gender identify without violating federal law. For more information about this case, see the Daily Labor Report. Any protection provided to an LGBTQ person is done at a state or city/county level. At this time, discrimination remains legal in 31 states as these states do not have a statewide law prohibiting such. Discrimination, by and large, is legal in Montana. Of course, there are a few exclusions. For example, in 2016 Governor Bullock issued an executive order protecting LGBTQ state employees and contractors. Additionally, the University of Montana has implemented a nondiscrimination policy to include LGBTQ individuals. Certainly, there are businesses and private organizations committed to inclusiveness. For the most part, 22,300 LGBTQ people in Montana lack statewide protection from ongoing discrimination.

You see, we cannot be entirely sure whether the Civil Rights Act of 1964 or the Montana Human Rights Act protects the LGBTQ population. Until there is a federal law that mandates nondiscrimination and specifies the LGBTQ population, we are at a standstill and our LGBTQ people will be at risk. I wonder if it's possible for us, as a community, to assume personal responsibility for protecting our LGBTQ community? The Dillon City Council has the right to do more; we are allowed to write an ordinance that expands the definition of protected persons (please reference documents of PFLAG Dillon's Facebook page if you are not sure about this). We have an ethical responsibility to support a nondiscrimination ordinance.

SEMI-ANNUAL PASTY BAKE

How often do you have the opportunity to not only enjoy a culinary masterpiece but also indulge in a bit of cultural and historical nostalgia? Well you now have that opportunity. Grace United Methodist Church having just completed its semi-annual pasty bake has a few pasties ready for your dining table. During this busy time of the year what better way to feed a nutritious meal to that hungry hunter or that holiday guest than a delicious Methodist Church pasty.

The really fun part of having a pasty in your larder is that you can tell everyone about the historical significance of the pasty.....the pastry that fed the copper miners of Butte. Be a part of history and at the same time give you taste buds a treat of the old world.

You may order your succulent piece of history by calling Lillian Hegstad at 683-2937

Time for some Truth

You may be wondering why I have not responded to every allegation or political attack made over the last six months of this campaign. This is because it is very difficult to debate with people who fabricate their own facts. Now that we're nearing election day, regardless of the results on November 6th, I want you to know the truth.

Recent letters to the editor by supporters and the treasurer of my opponent's campaign have made false claims that misrepresent the facts and are even out-right lies. Negative and dirty politics do not result in effective government. It is important for the truth to have its day in the sunlight.

By now, reasonable and informed members of the public know and agree that patrol rifles are a necessary tool for today's law enforcement officers. Given school, church and workplace mass shootings and an enhanced need in a rural environment, rifles are necessary. The previous sheriff purchased seven LMT AR-15 rifles. With the addition of a new Deputy, funded by a Federal Community Oriented Policing Grant, we were one rifle short. As Sheriff, I purchased a DD AR-15 because it is a high-quality firearm and the price was about $400.00 less than the LMT models previously purchased.

As for the other budget allegations from people who should know better, the Concealed Weapons Program fund (CWP) is not depleted. In fact, the CWP fund currently has $24,498.45 available. Far from a depleted fund. It is also important to note that use of these funds is at the discretion of the Sheriff, and I have wisely used it to provide better equipment for the safety of our department and the public.

Over the past four years, I have spent between 84-89 percent of the appropriated budget. Salaries, budget revenues and appropriations are set by the County Commissioners. I have done my part to be a good steward of the public's money. Today, over 81 percent of the Public Safety Budget goes towards salaries and benefits, an increase of $242,484, or 5 percent, from four years ago.

The reality is that we have to find savings to continue to make the office function while still providing the services that the community needs.

I take responsibility and own the decisions I make. I hope I have earned your trust. I will not lie to the public for political gain. The job of Sheriff is above politics and only functions with mutual trust.

The truth should matter.

Sincerely,
Sheriff Frank Kluesner

3D Mammography detects threats like no other

When it comes to breast cancer, early detection is essential. In fact, early detection saves lives. That's why we are so passionate about our 3D mammography capabilities at Barrett. And while it might be tempting to choose thermography instead of a mammogram, the FDA warns that thermography should be used only as an adjunct to mammography. The American Cancer Society has stated that thermography is not an effective screening tool for finding breast cancer early.

3D mammography has been proven to detect breast cancer sooner and better. With 3D mammography, callbacks are reduced by 40% and detection is improved up to 50%. Trust the experts at Barrett Hospital & HealthCare. We are here for you and your health.

Talk to your provider about scheduling your mammogram at Barrett Hospital & HealthCare, call 406-683-1188.
