Ranching for Rivers Program Funding Available

The Soil & Water Conservation Districts of Montana (SWCDM), in partnership with the Missouri River Conservation Districts Council, is pleased to announce funding is available for Ranching for Rivers, a cost-share program to help ranchers with riparian pasture fencing projects.

The purpose of Ranching for Rivers is to provide landowners throughout the state with the necessary resources to voluntarily construct fences and/or other infrastructure (crossings, water gaps, off-stream water, etc.) that enable them to better manage the riparian resources on their land. The program promotes the use of "riparian pastures" as an alternative to complete exclusion of the riparian area to livestock. A riparian pasture is a relatively small pasture that can still be grazed for a portion of the year. Operation benefits include improved management flexibility, the ability to use livestock grazing to manage weeds and overgrown vegetation, increased usage of upland range habitat, and decreased maintenance costs of fencing and off-stream water resources. Natural resource benefits include improved riparian and vegetation habitat, improved water quality and quantity, improved wildlife and fishery habitat, and improved access for wildlife to stream areas.

Funding is available to landowners along streams or rivers included in DEQ-approved Watershed Restoration Plans. A link to these plans and areas can be found here. If you are unsure if your project is part of a WRP, please contact Jessica Makus, 406-443-5711, or jessica@macdnet.org.

Ranching for Rivers offers up to 50% cost-share for riparian pasture fencing, pasture-related watering infrastructure, labor, and equipment use. This funding will also include the services of a range management specialist to work with each landowner to design a customized grazing plan for the new pasture.

Please see the attached Solicitation for Applications as well as the Application. More information can be found on our website, <https://swcdm.org/programs/r4r/>.

Please submit questions or completed applications to Jessica Makus, jessica@macdnet.org.

Forest Service Reminds Hunters To Store Food, Attractants and Animal Carcasses Safely

In recent years many public lands in Montana, including the Beaverhead-Deerlodge National Forest, have implemented Food Storage Orders that affect hunting practices and how hunters set up camp. The Beaverhead-Deerlodge National Forest would like to share some tips for storing food, attractants and carcasses to help hunters develop good habits as bear populations expand.

- Bring your animal carcass home or to the butcher while you finish your hunting trip if you live within driving distance. If you're from out of town, some businesses offer storage for carcasses. There are many butchers, outfitters or other businesses with walk-in freezers who can provide space to hunters.
- Plan for animal carcass storage while camping. Bring storage for the carcass for example, in the form of a truck with topper, enclosed trailer, horse trailer with full doors, or certified bear resistant containers. If you use hang poles, the carcass must hang ten feet high at its lowest point and four feet away from climbable supports and must be 100 yards away from your camp. You may also want to bring pulleys and ropes to help hoist your carcass between trees.
- Pack a tarp or strong plastic sheet to gut your animal in case you down your game near a trail or need to leave your carcass overnight. Gut piles are the most attractive to bears and other scavengers. If you use a tarp or plastic sheet to drag the gut pile away from your animal you may avoid finding a bear on your carcass in the morning. You must drag gut piles at least 200 yards from National Forest system trail to help prevent trail users from surprising a bear feeding on it.
- Don't hang or butcher your animal in camp. Blood on the ground is a powerful attractant to bears and other scavengers.
- When retrieving game, leave a member of your party to "attend" the carcass if possible.
- Borrow bear-resistant containers for FREE from your local Forest Service office. There are a variety of items from coolers to panniers to backpack barrels. Please call ahead to find out what is available at each office.
- Take advantage of the permanent food storage boxes in many of the - Forest Service campgrounds for your food and other attractants. When in doubt, call your local Forest Service or MT Fish, Wildlife and Parks office. They are happy to help you plan your trip and troubleshoot any attractant storage concerns. Be aware that Montana State Wildlife Management Areas have similar requirements.

Remember that all attractants must be acceptably stored at night and attended or acceptably stored during the day. Carcasses or partial carcasses may only be left on the ground if they are one-half mile away from any sleeping area and 200 yards from any Forest Service system trail.

The Beaverhead-Deerlodge National Forest instituted a forest-wide order on June 1, 2014 which is in effect from March 1 through December 1 annually. The storage requirements and tips can be viewed online at: <https://go.usa.gov/xPyMg>. For more information contact your local Forest Service office.

Montana Highway Patrol Receives $1 Million Federal Grant to Combat Meth

The Montana Highway Patrol (MHP) will receive a significant federal grant to combat meth trafficking. Today the U.S. Department of Justice announced that its Office of Community Oriented Policing awarded the MHP a $946,981 grant for anti-meth activities. Montana was one of only nine states to receive such a grant.

"The meth epidemic is killing Montanans and wreaking untold damage upon our children, families, and tribal nations," Attorney General Tim Fox said. "This grant allows us to expand our ongoing work to intercept meth before it gets into our communities."

The grant will fund additional MHP troopers, equipment, and training to intensify meth interdiction efforts on Montana's highways.

"The vast majority of meth in Montana is coming from Mexico, and our highways are the arteries upon which it travels," said Colonel Tom Butler, MHP Chief. "Traffickers are getting more creative in their efforts to evade detection, and so it is important for us to not simply respond but to strengthen our proactive approach on the known trafficking routes."

"I am grateful for the work of Montana's law enforcement community," said Montana Sen. Steve Daines, who worked to advance legislation authorizing and funding the grant. "Their work over the last several years has resulted in the critical seizure of meth and enforcement of meth related crimes. These funds will help fight back against the devastation meth has on our tribes and families."

The federal grant builds upon ongoing efforts that the Montana Attorney General's Office and Department of Justice have been engaged in since Fox took office in 2013.

Last year, the Montana Department of Justice formed a specialized Criminal Interdiction Team to focus on the more organized drug trafficking activities. Cartels and other trafficking organizations account for most of the meth coming into Montana.

In 2014, the MHP launched its first-ever K-9 narcotic units. The six units operate out of strategic locations throughout Montana and travel the state regularly to conduct drug-interdiction operations. Deployment of the K-9 units has resulted in increased meth seizures. In 2017, the MHP seized 68 lbs. of meth, up from 13 lbs. in 2013.

All of these efforts dovetail into Attorney General Fox's Aid Montana initiative, a broad-based effort launched in 2017 to understand and combat substance abuse in Montana.

I AM A REPUBLICAN BECAUSE ...

I BELIEVE the strength of our nation lies with the individual and that each person's dignity, freedom, ability and responsibility must be honored.

I BELIEVE in equal rights, equal justice and equal opportunity for all, regardless of race, creed, sex, age or disability.

I BELIEVE in free enterprise and encouraging individual initiative has brought this nation opportunity, economic growth and prosperity.

I BELIEVE government must practice fiscal responsibility and allow individuals to keep more of the money they earn.

I BELIEVE the proper role of government is to provide for the people only those critical functions that cannot be performed by individuals or private organizations and that the best government is that which governs least.

I BELIEVE the most effective, responsible and responsive government is government closest to the people.

I BELIEVE Americans must retain the principles that have made us strong while developing new and innovative ideas to meet the challenges of changing times.

I BELIEVE Americans value and should preserve our national strength and pride while working to extend peace, freedom, and human rights throughout the world.

FINALLY, I believe the Republican Party is the best vehicle for translating these ideals into positive and successful principles of government.

—We believe the following: (1) the Bible was given by the inspiration of God, 2 Timothy 3:16-17; (2) all statements made in this and any ensuing articles will be based on what the Bible says; (3) the Bible only is the reliable source of spiritual & doctrinal truth; (4) all beliefs in conflict with the Bible are false.

The word 'sanctify' in both Old and New Testaments of the Bible means to be holy, consecrated, purified, or set apart. Many things were to be sanctified in Israel's service to God under the Laws that God gave through Moses. All of these things were sanctified because they were to be holy, dedicated, pure, and consecrated to God for specific service to Him.

There are three areas of sanctification relative to man referred to in the scriptures: spiritual sanctification, sanctification of our life in service to God following our spiritual sanctification, the ultimate or complete sanctification of our total being, i.e., our mind, spirit, & our body.

Spiritual sanctification is accomplished by Christ when we believe in Him and call on His name in repentance and faith. Like 13:3 states, "Except you repent you will all likewise (in like manner) perish." Romans 10:9 says that if you confess the Lord Jesus Christ with your mouth and "...believe in your heart that God that God has raised him from the dead, you shall be saved."

Paul states to the church at Corinth (1 Corinthians 6:11) that they were "...washed...sanctified...and justified in the name of the Lord Jesus, and by the Spirit of our God."

Hebrews 10:10 says that "...we are sanctified through the offering of the body of Jesus Christ once for all."

The book of Jude 1:1 refers to children of God as being "...sanctified by God the Father, and preserved in Jesus Christ."

This spiritual sanctification occurs at the point of each individual's new birth. Jesus refers to this in John 3:3 where He said, "...Except a man be born again he cannot see the kingdom of God." A few verses later in John 3:16 Jesus reveals that this spiritual birth is the result of believing in His only begotten Son, "...that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life."
