Letter to the Editor

As a business person in Dillon for over 40 years, I have a problem passing a non-discrimination ordinance for the city. I think our company is a testament if you treat people fairly; customers, employees, fellow business people, we will not have issues of discrimination. We have never denied our services to anyone that has asked us to do a project for them. My Dad set the example to treat everyone fairly no matter how big or small the request was or who was making the request.

I firmly believe this is a heart issue and not an ordinance issue.

We have laws in place to combat drug and alcohol abuse. Does this stop D.U.I.'s, drug overdose, broken marriage and homes, the list goes on.

This ordinance will not change the harassment, bullying, or any of the issues the PFLAG Committee states are happening in Dillon. Change must come from the people's attitude and heart. I believe passing this ordinance will cause great division and more problems.

An interesting quote I came across today:
"We drift toward compromise and call it tolerance; we drift toward disobedience and call it freedom; we drift toward superstition and call it faith. We cherish the indiscipline of lost self-control and call it relaxation; we slouch toward prayerlessness and delude ourselves into thinking we have escaped legalism; we slide toward godlessness and convince ourselves we have been liberated."

- D. A. Carson

Thomas J. Miller

Montana Western Foundation Launches New Scholarship Application Portal

The Montana Western Scholarship Committee is pleased to announce the launch of a new scholarship application portal for all current and prospective students at the University of Montana Western.

Learn how the generosity of our donors impacts the lives of students at Montana Western in our Gratitude video.

The application process is used to award a variety of scholarships, including the Chancellor's Leadership Scholarship and those supported by the UMW Foundation.

The priority deadline for applications to be received is January 15, 2019. Prospective students can continue to apply after the priority deadline, however, the committee will begin awarding scholarships in mid-January. Over $350,000 in scholarship support was provided through the foundation this past year.

The link to the application is: <https://umwfoundation.academicworks.com/>

"The goal of the creation of the portal is to increase the number of Montana Western students who apply for scholarships due to the streamlining of the application process," said Director of the Montana Western Foundation and Scholarship Committee member Roxanne Engellant.

"Without the support of our many donors, these opportunities would not be possible. On behalf of the Scholarship Committee and the Foundation, we would like to thank them for their current and future support of our students," Engellant said.

For more information, please contact Roxanne Engellant by calling 406-683-7305 or email roxanne.engellant@umwestern.edu.

GROUCHY GRANDMA'S HOLIDAY HOUSE RULES:

As reported in the Western Ag Reporter
Thursday, November 15, 2018

#1. I'm not dead yet. Holidays are still important to me. If being in my Last Will and Testament is important to you, please consider moving heaven and earth to be with me for the holidays.

#2. If I say, "Dinner is at 2:00!" that does not mean 2:05 OR 2:15. It wouldn't hurt for you to arrive a little early to help an old lady with preparations, now would it?

#3. The turkey will be roasted in the oven, not fried in one of those contraptions filled with $90.00 worth of peanut oil that could ignite and burn down the garage. How in the world am I suppose to conjure up a gallon of gravy if we fat fry the bird? Don't even suggest those little gravy packets!

#4. Other than turkey, options might include prime rib, shrimp, or ham. There is no vegan entrée, so invite your guests accordingly. In this family, we have canine teeth that would impress Little Red Riding Hood. There are side dishes that may or may not be vegetarian because they might include ham or bacon (see #9) and oh yes, the pie crusts are made with lard!

#5. Please do not arrive at my house needing to use the oven and the stove, I am using the oven and all the burners on the stove. Bring your own heating device - a Crockpot, electric frying pan, griddle, barbecue or build a campfire if you need.

#6. Paper plates and plastic cups might be bad for the environment, but I will be gone soon and you will have to save the earth from global warming without me.

#7. During dinner, please put your cell phones in the mud room. Trying to text inconspicuously under the table is not polite.

#8. Grandmothers give children cookies and candy. That is just one of the facts of life. They can eat healthy at your house the other 364 days of the year.

#9. Bacon is mainstay of holiday cooking. It has not completely clogged my arteries yet, so apparently wrapping everything in bacon is a holiday tradition.

#10. It is acceptable to get your phone from the mudroom to take pictures and videos. Take lots, because I want the slideshow at my funeral to be lengthy and memorable. I would appreciate if you become proficient in Photoshop, so you can hack 30 pounds and 30 years off of me before you project my images up on a screen.

#11. If your pet MUST accompany you to dinner, it MUST either stay in the car, be tied or kenneled, or take its chances outside with the coyotes, because it is not welcome in my house during dinner.

#12. I am old, so I have learned to always say what I mean. If I say that you don't need to bring anything, you can take me at my word. If I ask you to bring something, please bring it in a quantity that will serve our entire clan plus several uninvited guests.

#13. Speaking of uninvited guests... feel free to bring anyone who needs a holiday meal. But please call with a head count before I peel the potatoes and set the table.

#14. Do not dare talk religion or politics. Especially if you disagree with me on either topic. I cannot afford to elevate my blood pressure and risk popping a vessel somewhere. Suggested safe topics include the weather, amusing anecdotes about your job or kids, or perhaps elaborate on your undying admiration for me.

#15. Holidays are about love of family. You don't have to like everyone in this family, but you do have to love them!

Letter to the Editor

Welcome to Pete Bengeyfield's Hate Club!

More accurately, Welcome to Pete Bengeyfield's "I Hate Any and All Conservatives, Especially Christian Conservatives, Who Supported Donald Trump or Greg Gianforte" Club!

Pete, recently you called President Trump a "corned rat." But you are no rat, Pete. No, Pete, you are a super sly, cunning fox.

We all know what you are up to, clever Pete. In your hate-filled rants, you are trying to get more members to join the Bengeyfield Hate Club than the Francisconi Hate Club.

Dillonite Daily readers will recall that UM Western Professor Michael Francisconi has promoted deep hatred by calling Conservative Trump Supporters as Fascists.

Francisconi thinks his severe hate-filled name-calling will win him followers.

But clever Pete is jealous. Pete wants haters to join the Bengeyfield Hate Club, not the Francisconi Hate Club.

But how can clever Pete outsmart the Francisconi Hate Club?

Pete thinks if he intensifies his hatred that he can out trump Francisconi's hatred.

But Pete, don't forget that Prof. Francisconi is super sly too and smarter than you. Given his privileged position of power as a tenured UM Western professor, Francisconi thinks his hate-filled words are gospel, even Biblical, when he speaks and writes on these pages and calls conservatives as Fascists.

So, clever Pete, while you may be an ordinary smart fox, Prof. Francisconi is a super-smart angelic fox.

Oh my, Pete, what are you to do? Surely, you want more members in the Bengeyfield Hate Club than the Francisconi Hate Club.

As Michele Obama stated, "When they go low, we go high."

So, Pete, when Francisconi goes low, you go lower! Recently you demonstrated you can go as low as Francisconi.

So, clever Pete, please go lower! You can promote even greater hatred than Prof. Francisconi. Readers are confident you can go lower.

Several months ago I wrote: "Pete, the attack-style of your letters are beneath you. Dillonite Daily readers know that you can write an informed and intelligent letter without resorting to child-like name-calling.

Pete, please extinguish the hate-filled name-calling and channel your great political insights and multiple energies to help us create a thoughtful civil, civic discourse that your kids and grandkids would be proud of."

Here's hoping both the Bengeyfield Hate Club and Francisconi Hate Club go Bankrupt Soon!

Our Community deserves much better than the hate-filled rants by Bengeyfield and Francisconi!

To the Editor:

I wonder if anyone has stopped to think about the implications of this constant PFLAG drumbeat for a Dillon NDO ordinance.

What it implies is that members of PFLAG do not trust in the innate good will of the majority of Dillon residents to denounce prejudicial action in housing and employment against people of different sexual persuasion. These members believe only laws will force all people to think as they do.

That this belief is a fallacy can easily be demonstrated by the obvious failure of drug laws to reduce the number of drug users and sellers. An even more striking example is the 18th Amendment. Prohibition gave rise to an unprecedented level of violence and law-breaking and gangsterism across the nation. But it took 14 years to repeal it. And the violence didn't stop afterward.

On the other hand, we have ample evidence of the effectiveness of reasoned persuasion to effect massive changes in human beliefs and conduct. For example, Uncle Tom's Cabin by Louisa May Alcott was given credit by Abraham Lincoln for almost single-handedly inciting the Civil War by its touching illustration of the evils of slavery.

I believe that the PFLAG members could best serve their constituency and demonstrate the sincerity of their beliefs by inviting them to their homes and gatherings at Christmas, remembering their birthdays and arranging social activities to which they are expressly invited.

Letter to the Editor:

There is an old, common sense, expression: "If it ain't broke, don't fix it."
I think this should apply to the current controversy over the introduction of a NDO city ordinance for Dillon.

Until the proponents of this ordinance produce documented evidence of specific cases of people being denied employment or housing in the city of Dillon, solely because of their sexual proclivities, this issue should be tabled.

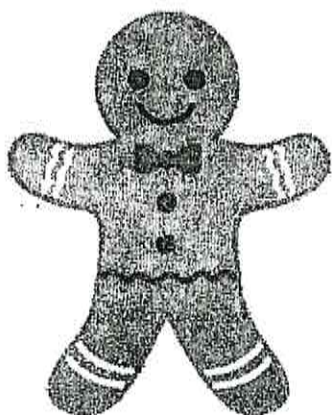

Vague, undocumented allegations attributed to anonymous persons from unspecified places or times in the past do not pass muster in demanding a city ordinance that will affect every employer and home owner who wishes to rent property in Dillon.

In the event that such documented evidence is produced, the fairest and least controversial way to avoid further contention would be to put the NDO sought by PFLAG to a referendum at the next election. This will lift the burden from the city counsel and help to avoid animosities springing up within it.

Should the members of PFLAG object to this reasonable compromise and demand an immediate special election, our city treasurer can ascertain the cost of a special election for the purpose of voting on this referendum and assess PFLAG and its supporters these costs, with the money being put into an escrow fund in advance.

This will ensure that the special election takes place.

Signed: Lawrence Leith
