Chad Gerald Holland, 75

On Saturday, November 17, 2018, Chad Gerard Holland passed away at the age of 75. Chad was born October 10, 1943 in Idaho Falls, ID to Ben and Faye Holland. They moved to the Grasshopper Valley, Montana in 1950. Chad graduated from Beaverhead County High School in 1960. He spent the next six years with the National Guard. Chad married Verna McLean on November 30, 1968. They raised three sons Ken, Koy and Koby on their family ranch.

Chad passed doing what he loved working on the ranch and tending to the buffalo. He had great passion for family, animals, and sports. If you ever missed a sporting event (of any kind) you would receive a full recap the next morning while doing ranch work. He especially loved Dillon Beaver sports and Rodeo. He loved watching and helping all his sons and grandkids succeed.

Chad was preceded in death by his father, Ben, his mother, Faye, and his sister Marge. He is survived by his wife, Verna, his three children, Ken (Mandy & Bryce), Koy (Denise, Wyatt, Tel & Faye), and Koby (Kristi), his sister Sonja (Russell Munday), his brother, Todd (Marcia) Holland and several nephews and nieces.

In respect of his wishes no services will be held. We will be creating a book of memories for his grandchildren. If you wish to share memories of Chad please send them to Koby Holland, PO Box 924, Dillon, MT 59725. In lieu of flowers please send donations to the University of Montana Natural Horsemanship or Rodeo Program. They may be sent to UMW Foundation, 710 S. Atlantic, Dillon, 59725.

If you get an email from the Internal Revenue Service, don't open it

There has been a surge in fraudulent emails from senders impersonating the IRS, the agency warned last week. The emails often use the subject line "tax transcripts" in an attempt to bait people into opening documents that contain malware that then attacks the computer and its network.

The malware used in the attack the IRS warned about is Emotet, a well-known infection that allows hackers to steal sensitive financial data. The United States Computer Emergency Readiness Team has designated it as "among the most costly and destructive malware affecting state, local, tribal, and territorial (SLTT) governments, and the private and public sectors."

Both individuals and businesses should be on alert for the emails. "The scam is especially problematic for businesses whose employees might open the malware because this malware can spread throughout the network and potentially take months to successfully remove," the IRS said in a statement.

The IRS, along with tax prep companies and state agencies that it partners with through its Security Summit program, are warning taxpayers to avoid the scam. The IRS will never initiate contact with consumers by email, it said.

People panic when they see the IRS in their email inbox, said Abhishek Iyer, technical marketing manager at Cupertino, Calif. based provider of security automation Demisto.

"These phishing emails exploit the fear and urgency that's usually tied with receiving any financial or tax-related information," he said. "If people stop and think, they'll know that it's unusual for the IRS to send sensitive information over email. But the phishing emails bank on them to not spend any time thinking."

If you receive an email from the IRS, do not open any attachments and; forward it to the IRS security email: phishing@irs.gov. And if the email has been sent to your work account, alert the company's technology professionals of the potential attack.

The attack comes as consumers face IRS fraud on other platforms as well. Consumers reported $905 million lost to robocall fraud in 2017, up $63 million from the year before, according to the Federal Trade Commission.

Some groups are at higher risk than others: People in their 20s and early 30s are six times likelier than baby boomers to disclose personal information to phone scammers.

As is the case with emails, the IRS will never call you to demand repayment for penalties. Call the IRS line directly to verify if you think you may have penalties to pay at 800-829-1040.

Dillon Middle School news Nov. 26th - Nov. 30.
We hope everybody had a nice Thanksgiving break

The lunch menu for the week is as follows: On Monday we will enjoy beef and bean burritos with seasoned potatoes. On Tuesday pizza will be served with cheesy pinwheels and marinara sauce, and on Wednesday, we will have a local beef hamburger on a school made bun with trimmings. Thursday, we will enjoy tomato soup with toasted cheese sandwiches. And on Friday we will have sloppy joes on a bun with cabbage salad.

This past week, the middle school had a "perfect attendance" assembly to reward students who have not had a single absence for the first quarter. This is especially difficult because they cannot be absent for a single period during the day. For first quarter, we had 30 such students. It is soooo important to be in school and we want to honor those that achieved perfect attendance for the first quarter: Troy Andersen, Hunter Barnes, Spencer Bess, Emily Brevig, Kee Christiansen, Olivette Copple, Kinzy Creighton, Carter Curnow, Kalei and Xavier Currie, Max Davis, Trapper Doering, McKenzie Doffinger, Phoenix Eck, Andrew Egan, Kaydan Elmer, Abigail Esposito, Colby Garland, Alena Hanson, Jacob Harvey, Tel Holland, Jesse Hughes, Zi Johns, Josiah Jones, Alexander Jorgensen, Micaiah Kizzar, Madison Knight, Tyler Lagunas, Nadia Ledbetter, Nicolas Marquez, Alexy Navarrete, Kaydyn Nelson, Moonyen Paloma, Kelsey Roder, Amber Santos, Cayden Sevalstad, Damon Skradski, Ben Steadman, Zane Steffens, Connor Stroup, Briannah and Brooklyn Williams, and Gunner Wright. Congratulations students.

Last week, Mr. Anderson's technology classes participated in the culmination of their unit on creating phone apps. The top apps from each class participated in a semi-final round. Last week, we reported on the first group. This week, we'd like to report on the second semi-final group. Lacey Pape and Jasmine Salix created "Smacker Tracker"...a chip is put in a child's shoe, so the parent can track his whereabouts. Also, a radius can be established so that if the child goes outside that radius, it alerts the parents. Trapper Doering and Josiah Jones created "Animal Finder" which uses trail cameras to track the habits of wild game. Aubrey Hawley and Daelen Hammer created "send it anywhere"...an app that allows students and teachers to communicate about school related matters. And Jesse Hughes and Eli Nourse presented "Sneakers and Stuff" an app that allows a person to enter their interests and the sports they participate in to find the best places to shop for sports equipment. The two apps that went on to the finals were: "Animal Tracker" and "Sneakers and Stuff". Great job Trapper, Josiah, Jesse and Eli.

Congratulations to Eli Nourse, Caden Hansen, Kale Konen, and Damon Skradski for becoming the 2018 3 on 3 basketball champions. Thanks, Mr. Williams, for running such a fun lunch time competition. Congratulations to the boys' basketball teams. Each team beat the
