Wildlife Habitat Management Wins in Court

A U.S. District Court judge ruled a habitat management project in west-central Montana designed to benefit wildlife will go forward as planned.

The Johnny Crow Project will utilize prescribed burning and the removal of invasive junipers into grasslands in the Elkhorn Mountains as part of an effort to rejuvenate forage for elk and other wildlife.

The judge denied claims by two environmental groups and ruled in favor of the U.S. Forest Service, Rocky Mountain Elk Foundation and partners.

"This is a big win-win," said Kyle Weaver, RMEF president and CEO. "It is a victory for wildlife and it is a victory for the Helena-Lewis and Clark National Forest. Like so many other areas in elk country, it is in need of active treatments to create early seral conditions of grasslands, sage brush and forbs that are vital for bird and animal life."

In March 2017, the Helena-Lewis and Clark National Forest issued what's called a "categorical exclusion" which exempts the U.S. Forest Service (USFS) from completing an environmental assessment for certain actions determined to not significantly impact the environment. In January 2018, RMEF filed a brief in support of the USFS decision.

"We have seen time and time again that active management with a focus on wildlife habitat in the form of prescribed burns, thinning and other treatments triggers the growth of new grasses and forbs that benefits elk and a wide array of wildlife species," said Blake Henning, RMEF chief conservation officer.

The Elkhorn Mountains lie within a unique wildlife management situation. Managed jointly by the USFS, Bureau of Land Management and Montana Fish, Wildlife and Parks, they are within the only unit in the entire Forest Service system that is designated by Congress with a focus on wildlife and wildlife habitat.

The Elkhorns are also recognized as a location featuring some of the best elk hunting in Montana.

In a somewhat similar case, the U.S. Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals denied claims by several environmental groups approximately six months ago and ruled in favor of active forest management in southwestern Montana.

"We have seen time and time again that interference by environmental groups only thwarts efforts by wildlife habitat and forest managers to try to improve the condition of our forests. Such litigation only harms forests and wildlife as litigants seek payouts in the form of taxpayer dollars to pad their bottom line," added Weaver.

RMEF is a long-time advocate for active habitat and forest management as a benefit for wildlife and wild landscapes.

RED HAT SOCIETY NEWS

The Red Hat Belles held their annual Christmas gift exchange at the 4 B's Restaurant on Tuesday, December 11th. Co-hostesses, Alyce Wassail and Barb Schrader had decorated the tables beautifully with two decorative poinsettias. Each lady was given a number when she arrived; numbers were also assigned to the presents brought.

Door prizes of the two poinsettias were given to Diana Carroll and Margie Nelson. Congratulations. Then, numbers were called corresponding to gifts until everyone had received a gift.

In addition, our chapter was given a variety of Red Hat items recently. These items were shown to the ladies and they were told to take what they wanted. Almost all of the items were distributed. We want to express our appreciation for this thoughtful gesture.

We also want to thank the 4 B's for their fine food and service. Of course, a big thank you to our co-hostesses, Alyce and Barb. You always make these events so special. Thanks again!

The Giving Tree is a community tree to help low income children receive a gift for Christmas. Parents can stop by Rattlesnake Alpacas (on the corner of Idaho & Sebree) and pick up an application to fill out. The Giving Tree will soon be set up at Rattlesnake Alpacas, and decorated with tags requesting gifts. Community members can then stop by and take a tag, fill the tag, and return the wrapped gift (with the tag attached so we know who it goes to). Gifts will need to be returned to Rattlesnake Alpacas by December 19 so we can deliver the gifts to the excited child. Thank you for your support of this wonderful project!

Letter to the Editor

Recently I had a problem on the interstate near Clark Canyon Reservoir. My ice house slipped off my flatbed trailer and slid into the ditch. I was lucky that there was no damage. As I was putting it back on the trailer, MHP Trooper Tony Jenson stopped his patrol car and put on his lights. I had called my friend Ben in Dell and we continued to winch it back onto the trailer. The three of us worked for about 45 minutes and got it back on the trailer. Tony then flagged the traffic so I could be on my way.

The purpose of my letter is to let people, and especially Trooper Jenson know, how I appreciate his professional assistance. We have a tendency to take these officers for granted and view their presence as writing violations. I for one look at it a little differently now.

All-America Teams

2018 AFCA NAIA Coaches' All-America Teams announced today by the American Football Coaches Association. Montana Western junior linebacker Jason Ferris was named to the first-team.

In 2018 Ferris led the Frontier Conference with 125 tackles, 9.5 tackles for loss, 15 passes defended, three interceptions, two sacks, two fumble recoveries, and a forced fumble. He is third in the nation in tackles per game, averaging 12.5. He was named First-Team All-Conference and the Defensive Player of the Year. He was named Second-Team All-Conference in 2017.

Ferris is the first Bulldogs to be named first-team All-American since AJ Wilson received the honor in 2015.

The AFCA has selected an All-America team since 1945 and currently selects teams in all five of its divisions. What makes these teams so special is that they are the only ones chosen exclusively by the men who know the players the best — the coaches themselves.

CHRONIC WASTING DISEASE

Nine more deer found suspect for CWD: 3 south of Billings, 6 on the Hi-Line

Test results from CWD surveillance samples taken during the last week of Montana's general hunting season showed nine more deer to be suspect of chronic wasting disease.

South of Billings in Carbon County, two mule deer — a buck and a doe — and a white-tailed buck from CWD-positive areas showed suspect for the disease.

Along the Hi-Line, three mule deer from CWD-positive areas in Blaine County and two mule deer bucks from the CWD-positive area in Valley County all returned as suspect for the disease. A mule deer buck from Phillips County, outside a CWD positive area, was also discovered to be suspect for the disease.

This brings the total suspect of positive animals found in this year's surveillance efforts to 22 deer — five from the CWD positive area south of Billings and 17 from along the Hi-Line.

In the coming weeks, FWP officials will look back at this year's surveillance effort along the northern part of the state and determine the next steps forward in addressing CWD, including any management actions. CWD surveillance efforts will continue next year to include portions of the southeast corner of the state.

For more information on CWD in Montana, go online to fwp.mt.gov/CWD.

Hunters should properly dispose of carcasses. Once an animal with CWD dies, any part of the carcass can transmit the disease for at least two years. Safely disposing of all animal parts in solid waste landfills will help prevent the transmission of CWD.

THANK YOU

Dear Santa,

Thank you so much for your generosity! I love my nativity set so much! Gold bless. Joyce Goodman

BARRETT HOSPITAL FOUNDATION

Looking Forward Giving Back

Danielle Mayfield, FNP-C

Supporting Barrett Hospital Foundation is important to me as it provides much needed assistance to many of our patients, which helps guide them toward health and healing. The foundation is a large contributor to the purchase of equipment that our medical community needs to do their jobs effectively.

Sandra McIntyre, MD

Eric and I support Barrett Hospital Foundation to enthusiastically ensure that our friends and neighbors have access to the breadth of care – from a mammogram for a woman in need to a beautiful and healing hospital and work environment to state of the art medical technology – it matters.

Kelly Smith, MD

I donate to the foundation because I appreciate seeing the immediate impact that this donation makes to my patients and our community. The gifts that our donors provide help us to maintain a high quality of care because we have the support needed to do so. It helps us to work toward the mission of the hospital. I am a Barrett Hospital Foundation board member.

I am Ben Power, Quality Coordinator at Barrett Hospital & HealthCare, where I measure and facilitate improvement of clinical services. September 11, 2015 I was 33 years old, married to Christina, and the father of 4 young children. On this day I suffered a stroke; over the next 18 months I slowly recovered most of my short-term memory, peripheral vision, and ability to read. I decided to pursue graduate education not only as a long-held personal goal, but also to continue ensuring the best possible quality of care at Barrett. I am very grateful that Barrett Hospital Foundation has assisted in advancing my education by awarding me the Stefan A. Fabaz Memorial Scholarship. A donation to Barrett Hospital Foundation provides educational opportunities to working professionals, broadening our expertise to improve the overall patient experience.

I am Mike Pitts, combat veteran, retired law enforcement officer, and member of the South Carolina State House of Representatives. Opening day of big game hunting season 2018 I hit a speed bump in the road of life. I was doing what I truly love, experiencing God's creation with great friends. Then my heart began to choke down. It was the worst physical pain I have ever experienced and that's saying a lot. I have taken two bullets in the line of duty. Thanks to a merciful God, my friends, excellent first responders, and Barrett Hospital & HealthCare emergency room medical staff I survived. I am blessed. Thank you all. I am eternally grateful to your hospital, and will complete the circle of giving with a contribution to Barrett Hospital Foundation.

In this cherished landscape, we are part of a community that is invested in healthcare excellence. At Barrett Hospital & HealthCare our exceptionally trained and dedicated medical staff are equipped to diagnose and treat a myriad of medical conditions due to the cutting-edge equipment and technology provided largely by donors. Your donations to Barrett Hospital Foundation have implemented vital medical programs, advanced education, and provided 52.5% of all equipment purchased for the hospital in 2018. This year we also embarked on a bold campaign to raise $1,000,000 over two years to establish an equipment & technology endowment. Innovation is never-ending, creating the necessity for constant advances. We are implementing solutions to ensure that those demands will be met in the long-term. Your gift matters and is 100% tax deductible. We implore you to walk with us by supporting Barrett Hospital Foundation's Annual Appeal.

To learn more about the impact your donation can make, please visit our website:

www.barrethospitalfoundation.org/

We will be diligent stewards of your support as we continue to advance the best in patient-centered care.

With sincere appreciation,

Brooke Erb, Executive Director
