Water Mainline Break

December 27th, 2018 to December 31st, 2018

The City of Dillon has had another water mainline break. It has been repaired but there is a lot of ice on the streets. Please use extreme caution when driving on East Glendale, East Sebree and East Reeder Streets between South Nelson, South Wyoming and South Nevada Streets. The City crew will be sanding this area heavily for the next couple of days.

The City of Dillon apologizes for any inconvenience that this may cause.

Please do not hesitate to call the City at 683-4245 if you have any questions.

3. MONEY ISSUES OFTEN CAUSE STRESS DURING HOLIDAYS

Stick to a budget. The cost of holiday shopping mounts quickly and can make people feel out of control and anxious. So draw up a budget long before you actually start your shopping and stick to it. If you need to talk to someone, call 1-800-273-TALK or 1-800-273-8255 or text "MT" to 741741. Call or text 24/7. Someone is always ready to listen.

This reminder brought to you by the Beaverhead County Mental Health Local Advisory Council.

4. STICK TO A ROUTINE TO OVERCOME HOLIDAY DEPRESSION

If you have an exercise routine, stick with it, whether it's working out every day or a few times a week. That routine is familiar, and it's good for you or you wouldn't be doing it in the first place. Routines help normalize your life, despite the increase in social activities and demands over the holidays. According to the Journal of Clinic Psychiatry, as little as 30 minutes of cardiovascular exercise can provide an immediate mood boost similar to the effects of an antidepressant medication. If you need to talk to someone, call 1-800-273-TALK or 1-800-273-8255 or text "MT" to 741741. Call or text 24/7. Someone is always ready to listen.

This reminder brought to you by the Beaverhead County Mental Health Local Advisory Council.

5. KEEP YOUR HOLIDAY EXPECTATIONS MODEST

Don't get hung up on what the holidays are supposed to be like and how you're supposed to feel. If you're comparing your holidays to some abstract greeting card ideal, they'll always come up short. So don't worry about holiday spirit and take the holidays as they come. If you need to talk to someone, call 1-800-273-TALK or 1-800-273-8255 or text

6. DURING HOLIDAYS, LEAN ON YOUR SUPPORT SYSTEM

If you are depressed, you need a network of close friends and family to turn to when things get tough. During the holidays, take time to get together with your support team regularly – or at least keep in touch by phone to keep yourself centered. If you need someone else to talk to, call 1-800-273-TALK or 1-800-273-8255 or text "MT" to 741741. Call or text 24/7. Someone is always ready to listen.

This reminder brought to you by the Beaverhead County Mental Health Local Advisory Council.

7. THIS HOLIDAY...FORGET THE UNIMPORTANT STUFF.

Don't run yourself ragged just to live up to holiday tradition. So what if you don't get the lights on the roof this year? So what if you don't get the special Christmas mugs from the crawl space? Give yourself a break. Worrying about such trivial stuff will not add to your holiday spirit. If you need to talk to someone, call 1-800-273-TALK or 1-800-273-8255 or text "MT" to 741741. Call or text 24/7. Someone is always there to listen.

Joy, Wonder, Laughter Children's Christmas Gifts to Adults

By Tom Purcell

I love Christmas.

I love it because my mother has worked hard to make the day magical and eventful for her family for more years than she will permit me to share!

My mother has six children, 17 grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren - and counting. Every Christmas, we, along with a mix of cousins, aunts and uncles, gather in my parents' home.

After we enjoy a Christmas feast - our dining room table abuts two folding tables borrowed from a local church - we enjoy coffee and desert as we talk about everything and nothing at all and marvel that another year has passed so quickly.

And then it's time for the best part of our annual gathering: the gift exchange.

We retire to the family room in the basement, the only room big enough to hold everyone. My siblings and I helped my father remodel it into a family room years ago, and my mother's elaborate Christmas decorations fill it with a warm glow.

My mother plays the very Christmas albums, scratches and all, that we listened to as children 40-plus years ago. These include "Holiday Sing-Along with Mitch Miller," "Snoopy vs. the Red Baron" and Bing Crosby's "White Christmas."

We adults usually do a modest grab-bag swap, but the gift ritual isn't for us. It's for the youngest family members in the room.

Our large, extended family has suffered its share of loss over the years. We are filled with grief as our older family members pass on to the next life, leaving a huge hole in our hearts.

But our grief is eased by the energetic young souls who are born into our family - souls filled with boundless joy and wonder as they bask in the love of their extended family on Christmas.

There are few things more rewarding than to see the excitement and happiness in a young child's eyes when she opens a gift you got just for her - there are few words more satisfying than "I love it, Uncle Tom!"

We must learn from our children - we must remember the truths we knew so well when we were their age.

Children are curious. "Why?" is the question they ask over and over again. Their minds are wide open, trying to understand the world - not closed and judgmental, certain that their positions are correct and their opponents are fools.

Children are filled with love. Much of the evil in our world is caused by hatred. Hatred is a learned behavior that some adults pass down to their children. Love is innate. Adults must remember how to embrace love.

Children know how to laugh. Laughter is a cure for multiple ills, in particular stress. Laughter helps us escape the narrowness of our limited points of view - helps us escape self-importance. Remember how easily laughter came as a child? Adults must remember to laugh.

I hope the eventfulness of my parents' family room on Christmas will be a memory our youngest family members will cherish for the rest of their lives.

They have no idea how much their presence and excitement fills us adults with boundless joy.

How much better the world would be if we adults became more curious and loving and laughed more as we navigate the complexity of the adult world.

That's why I love Christmas - and wish you, dear readers, and your families an uplifting holiday season!

Bible Truth...What is a "Bible Believing Church"

(Dec. 28, 2018: #105)

---We believe: (1) the Bible was given by inspiration of God, 2 Timothy 3:16-17; (2) all statements made in this article will be based on what the Bible says; (3) the Bible only is the reliable source of spiritual & doctrinal truth; (4) all beliefs in conflict with the Bible are false.

A man once stated his belief to me that there are 10 or 12 Bible believing churches in our area. After giving it some thought I concluded that the term "Bible Believing Church" must mean different things to different people. For example, I once was asked by the pastor of a church [not Baptist] if I believed everything in the Bible. I told him yes then asked him what he believed. Though his church was supposedly a "Bible Believing Church" his response was that they didn't believe everything it said.

When we state that we are a "Bible Believing Church" we mean that we believe everything in the Bible. We believe that everything from cover to cover is beneficial to us. We are not under the rules and regulations of the Old Testament but the things written there are for our benefit as stated in 1 Corinthians 10:1-11. The New Testament is the rule of faith and practice for all "Bible Believing Churches" and individuals interested knowing and serving God.

Churches making this claim yet teaching that there is no condemnation for those who don't believe in Jesus Christ are not really "Bible Believing Churches", John 3:18, "He that believes on him is not condemned: but he that believes not is condemned already, because he has not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God."

Some churches claiming to believe the Bible practice sprinkling as a method of baptizing. This contradicts the Bible teaching that baptism is a burial [immersion] in water: "Therefore we are buried with him [Christ] by baptism into death..." (Romans 5:4a). The Apostle Paul also refers to baptism as being planted: "For if we have been planted together in the likeness of his death..." (Romans 5:5). Since baptism is a picture of the death, burial and resurrection of Christ, a church not immersing for baptism is not really a "Bible Believing Church".
