Republicans Prioritize Education Funding

On Thursday House and Senate Republicans along with the Superintendent of Public Instruction, Elsie Arntzen, held a press conference to lay out their plan to prioritize school funding.

Representative Bruce Grubbs, sponsored HB 159 to fund local schools including inflationary increases to K-12 ANB funding. This bill had a hearing in House Education Committee Wednesday afternoon. Representative Grubbs said: "As a former school administrator, it is my honor to carry this bill. We are fulfilling our constitutional duty to fund public education, and we get to help out our local school districts by doing this early in the legislative session."

House Education Committee Chairman Representative Seth Berglee stated: "It was a goal of ours to move quickly on this important funding bill. Our local school districts can not finalize their budgets until we do our jobs here in Helena." Chairman Berglee continued by talking about the history of this bill in previous legislative sessions. "Until recently, this funding bill was often used as a political football late in legislative sessions. The result was our local school districts were handcuffed with uncertainty about their budgets. In some years local school districts had no decision by the legislature until May. This year, Republican leadership has prioritized this critical funding bill to help our local school districts. We had a hearing yesterday and we hope to have this bill to the Senate by next week."

Superintendent Elsie Arntzen closed the press conference by praising Republican leadership for working on this bill early in the session: "This provides stability to local schools as they budget and prevents education funding from becoming a political pawn later in the session." Arntzen continued by saying that this action early in the session, "shows the legislature's commitment to putting students first." She then called on legislators to put this on the desk of the Governor as soon as possible, saying "schools are not political."

Dillon Tree Board Receives Eighth Program Development Grant

The City of Dillon and the Dillon Tree Board were awarded an $11,000 matching grant from a federal award of the U.S. Forest Service, Department of Agriculture, sub-awarded by the Montana Department of Natural Resources and Conservation (DNRC), Forestry Division. The City matches the grant funding at 100% to accomplish the proposed project work.

The 2019 grant will fund several urban forestry projects in Dillon. These projects include pruning and removal of trees on city boulevards, hiring of a seasonal tree worker to water and maintain young trees on city properties, and assist homeowners in planting trees on boulevards through a cost-share program.

The first project involves the pruning of 50 trees and removal of 15 trees located on city-owned property. The City is responsible for the maintenance of these trees. The results of a tree inventory completed in 2016 identified trees in need of pruning and those that have a high likelihood of failure. An ISA certified arborist will complete the work; all woody material will be removed from the sites, and the City will grind the stumps after removal. Property owners adjacent to the project locations will be contacted before the work begins. Work will begin in February and finish in early spring.

The second project involves hiring of a seasonal tree worker to water young trees that have been planted on city properties throughout Dillon. This position's responsibilities include watering young trees twice a week during the hot summer months, removing grass competition, perform minor pruning, and maintain mulch around the young trees.

The third portion of the grant will assist private homeowners in planting trees in city boulevards, parks or in the Mountain View Cemetery. Through a cost-share system, the program will defray some of the costs of planting new trees. Homeowners can purchase a tree for $75, with the Tree Board and City covering the remaining portion of the purchase price. Applicants will be contacted by a Tree Board member to assist them in selecting and planting the most suitable tree species for their site. This cost-share program provides the incentive for private homeowners to participate in enhancing the City's beauty by adding to the boulevard plantings and providing a tree canopy for future generations.

Since 2008, the Dillon Tree Board has secured over $100,000 in funding to enhance Dillon's urban forest. The mission of the Tree Board is to preserve, enhance, and expand our community forest through educating the public and promoting community involvement and individual dedication.

For additional information, contact City Hall at 406-683-4245 or call the DNRC office at 406-683-6305. Information can also be found on the Dillon Tree Board website at www.dillontrees.org. Like us on Facebook at

Wildlife Habitat Conserved in Wyoming

A family in southeast Wyoming teamed up with the Rocky Mountain Elk Foundation to permanently protect 133 acres of important elk habitat.

"Fred and Stephanie Lindzey have always cherished the wildlife values of their land during their more than three decades of ownership," said Kyle Weaver, RMEF president and CEO. "We appreciate their desire to both recognize and allow us to conserve it for years to come."

The property is about 20 miles west of Laramie and just east of the Snowy Range Mountains on the Medicine Bow-Routt National Forest. It features high quality wildlife and riparian habitat along the Little Laramie River and is part of the Snowy Range Scenic Byway. It also provides critical linkage between several nearby completed and developing conservation projects which are all located within the Wyoming Game and Fish Department's Sheep Mountain Mule Deer Initiative Area.

"Knowing that this place won't be developed makes us all feel good," said Fred Lindzey. "It became obvious our goals and those of the Elk Foundation were very similar and that is to make sure things don't change in a negative way from where they are right now. That's just exactly what we wanted."

"Having known the Lindzeys for many years, I know this is as important to them as it is to the people and wild creatures in that part of Wyoming," said Bob Budd, Wyoming Wildlife and Natural Resource Trust executive director. "This project is yet another example of capturing the absolutely critical pieces of habitat for multiple species of wildlife, and especially some of those we don't think about every day. Congratulations to the Lindzeys and RMEF for providing this habitat for many generations to come."

The Home Ranch Conservation Easement, as it is called, protects winter and year-round range for elk as well as moose, mule deer and antelope. Additionally, the property serves as historic range for a wide array of nongame fish, bird and animal species, including golden eagles. The landowners cooperate with wildlife agencies and nonprofit organizations on habitat research and also host a bird banding site for the Audubon Society on the property.

"This conservation easement is a great example of saving necessary habitat for a wide variety of wildlife species including fish, birds and both game and non-game animals," said Tony Woodell, Wyoming Wildlife Foundation director. "Special thanks to RMEF for coordinating the effort. Creating a stable area for sustaining wildlife not only benefits this easement, it benefits all the areas around it."

Funding partners for the project included the Wyoming Wildlife and Natural Resource Trust, National Fish and Wildlife Foundation and the Wyoming Wildlife Foundation. The Lindzey family also made a generous donation.

RMEF works with willing landowners to establish conservation easements to protect crucial elk winter and summer ranges, migration corridors, calving grounds and other areas vital to elk and other wildlife.

Since 1986, RMEF and its partners protected or enhanced 1,131,711 acres of habitat in Wyoming and more than 7.4 million acres nationally.

THANK YOU

Beaverhead County Museum and The Executive Director, Cheryl Pierce, would like to express our gratitude for the success of the Cowboy Poetry and Song event which was held at the Depot Theatre last Friday, January 11th. This event was possible because of the talent and generosity of several community members and supporters of the Museum. We would like to thank Val Prophet, Rick Kuntz, Morgan Rose and Sandy and Jean James for their talents, organization, and dedication to the Museum and this Community. The proceeds are appreciated and will benefit the Museum greatly.

Thank You- Cheryl Pierce

Bible Truth...Hell is a real place (part 2)

Statement of belief: the Bible only is the source of all truth and all beliefs in conflict with the Bible are false.

In our second segment on this subject the following reasons are stated for believing in a real Hell.

First, Jesus spoke on this subject more than any other person in the Bible. In Luke 16 He refers to a place of the deceased as having a great, impassable gulf between believers and unbelievers. While unbelievers are in torments of fire on one side, believers are in total comfort and peace on the other. In Matthew 25 He states regarding the wicked that "...these shall go away to everlasting punishment: but the righteous into life eternal." Other scriptures: John. 3:16-18; John 3:36; John 5:24; Revelation 20:11-14.

Second, it is contradictory to believe in heaven & perfection for the righteous but not believe in punishment and hell for the unrighteous.

Finally, it is not logical to believe that one can reject God's mercy, grace, and justice and not suffer any consequences.

"We were created with the ability and responsibility to make choices. If there is no hell there is no option for life after death. This means that one can reject God and no matter what a foul, wicked, reprobate or perverted life he lives, he will be granted the privilege of living in eternity in the presence of God among those who accepted Christ as their Savior and lived righteously during their life on earth.

Common sense regarding justice dictates that there must be a hell. Without hell, the wrongs of Hitler's Holocaust would never be righted. Justice would be impugned if, after slaughtering six million Jews, Hitler merely died...with no eternal consequences. [While we] may wish to think that no one will go to hell, ...common sense regarding justice precludes that possibility." [Hank Hanegraaff]

Conclusion: Escaping hell comes through forgiveness of sin, which comes through believing in Jesus Christ. The only sin that sends a person to hell is not believing in Him as one's personal Savior, "He that believes on him is not condemned: but he that believes not is condemned already, because he has not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God," John 3:18.

Spanky's Garage

Is closing its doors forever!

After 18 years of service to the Dillon and surrounding communities we have decided to close the doors for good. It's been a wonderful experience and journey and I'd like to say "Thank You" for entrusting your vehicles to our care and service over the years. It is now time to begin a new chapter and focus our attention on Mad Dog Towing, as well as enjoying some downtime with friends and family. We are no longer taking appointments but will happily point you in the right direction for all your automotive repair needs, just give us a call.

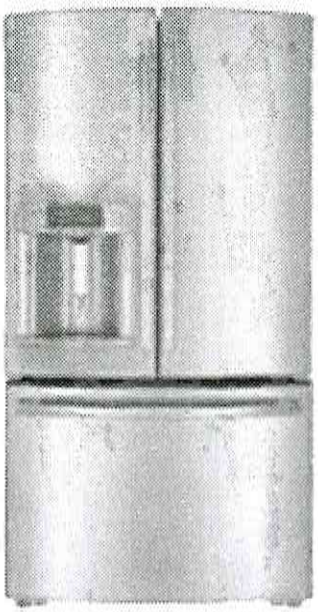

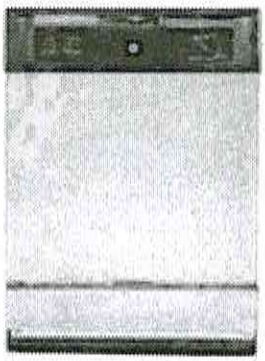

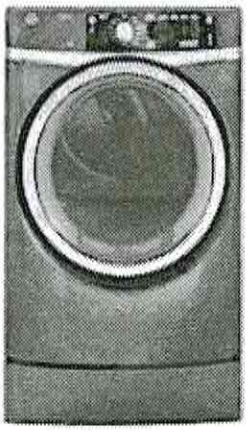

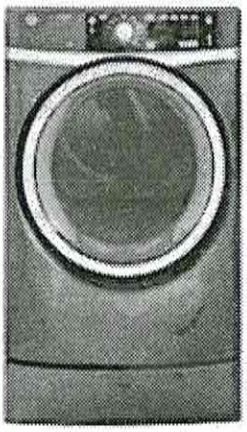

Please be on the lookout in the coming days for an announcement of a Celebration we'd like to host at the shop, so everyone to stop by one last time and say "Good Bye".

Sincerely,

Brad Reis
