Audrey Beryl (Remely) Roberts

Audrey Beryl (Remely) Roberts of Dillon passed away on Sunday, March 24, 2019 at Barrett Memorial Hospital after a short illness. Funeral services will be held at Brundage Funeral Home in Dillon at 10:30 a.m. on Monday, April 1, 2019 with burial to follow at Mountain View Cemetery.

Beryl, as she was known to family and friends, was born December 23, 1939 in Winsor, Ontario, Canada to Ivan and Dorothy (Manvell) Remely. Beryl emigrated to the United States with her family first to Niagara Falls in 1949 and ultimately to the Grasshopper Valley of Montana in 1950. She graduated from Beaverhead High School in 1956. Beryl married Thomas Thiel in Dillon on December 22, 1958. Together they had four children, Kim, Mike, Matt and William. The family moved to Helena in 1967. Tom & Beryl were divorced in 1978.

Upon moving to Helena, Beryl began a career in nursing that had her working as the office nurse for Dr. Robert Little, in the ER at Saint Peter's Hospital and finally as a safety nurse for Ashgrove Cement. In Helena, she was active in Soroptimist and in several bridge clubs. Beryl married Dick Roberts in Dillon on August 21, 1993. After moving to Dillon, she worked until her early 70's for the Parkview Nursing Home. She also was active in the Parkview Auxiliary, helped with the annual Festival of Trees, and enjoyed playing bridge. She and Dick enjoyed traveling annually to the NFR in Las Vegas aboard the "nutty bus" with friends for many years as well as travels to England and Wales, Branson, Missouri and her childhood home in Ontario.

Beryl loved the challenge of growing tomatoes each summer in Dillon and was quite happy with her flower gardens as well. Beryl was well read and seldom seen without a book. She loved visiting a bookstore and if you accompanied her, then you planned for a long visit. Beryl's children did not provide her with a bevy of grandchildren so as her two granddaughters aged into adulthood, she turned to her children's pets. Beryl traded cat pictures with William and Mike and was always thrilled when the grand dogs came for a visit with Kim or Matt. Beryl's cat, Spock, will be rehomed in Missoula with a family friend.

Beryl was preceded in death by her parents, Ivan and Dorothy and her brother, Bradley.

Beryl is survived by husband Dick; her children Kim (Dan) Schaaf of Great Falls, Mike (Carrie) Thiel of Kalispell, Matt Thiel of Missoula, and William (Tanya) Thiel of Perth, Australia. Her grandchildren Katie Tobel Burns of Santa Fe, New Mexico and Marissa Davis of Phillipsville, California; and two great grandchildren. Her siblings Barry (Helen) Remely of Bozeman, Barbara (Liam Bennett) Cotton of San Luis Obispo, California, and Brian (Joni) Remely of Dillon. She is also survived by numerous cousins, nieces, nephews and dear friends who will all miss her immensely. A guestbook is available online at www.brundagefuneralhome.com.

Based on an actual event, the play was chosen as a way to raise awareness and prevention of sexual assault. By providing an optional "talk back session" after each performance facilitated by UMW Student Counseling Services, the audience will have the opportunity to ask questions and talk about this important issue.

According to Brazill, "It explores the variety of reactions among the community and the individuals who were actually involved. It is much more than a didactic fable with a moralistic ending. It is the story of how a major incident like this affects the lives of the characters. It is also incredibly relevant in that it brings to light the role of technology and social media to our culture. I hope that this play will generate productive discussions about this relevant subject, and lead to a deeper understanding and knowledge of ways to help and support others."

The content in "Good Kids" is similar to that of an "R" rated film due to its mature themes. The play is not recommended for children as it contains subject matter that may be emotionally triggering and is accompanied by strong, suggestive language.

Tickets are $10 for adults, $5 for seniors and free for Montana Western students. For more information, please email larry.brazill@umwestern.edu, or call (406) 683-7038.

Stories by "Swede" Troedsson

Smokejumpers don't go looking for a fight. It's not unusual that while they are quietly enjoying a beer at a local bar, some local bully, who finds out that jumpers are present, will try to prove his manhood by challenging them to a fight. Jumpers will try to talk their way out of the fight, but if push comes to shove, most of the time the jumpers will give better than they get.

KOOSKIA DAYS

by "Swede" Troedsson (Missoula '59)

On July 3rd, 1958 I cracked my left fibula on my second training jump. After getting fitted with a lower leg cast and crutches, I was sent to the Clearwater National Forest Supervisor's Office in Orofino, Idaho. It was there I was assigned the mundane task of auditing timber survey sheets.

In late July an office clerk suggested I drive down to Kooskia, Idaho to attend their annual celebration, which occurs over the last weekend in July. (Kooskia is on the east edge of the Nez Perce Indian Reservation.)

On that Saturday I drove down to the jump base in Grangeville and alerted the jumpers about the celebration in Kooskia. I returned to Kooskia with Sam Rost (GAC-1958), Doug Getz (GAC-1958), and one other jumper whose name I forget, in tow.

Upon arriving in Kooskia we walked into a bar. The place was packed with people celebrating wildly. We stood in the middle of the floor with can of beer in hand, watching the celebration. Across from us, against a wall, was a table where three good looking women sat. The table was covered with free drinks.

After a short while, I noticed a very attractive Indian woman sitting at the bar. Noticing no wedding band, I clumped over to the bar on my crutches with the intent of pitching a little woo.

Things were going great until the woman informed me that the only other man who had kissed her like that was her husband. I hastily clumped back to rejoin my "bros".

So there we were, "innocent children" from Montana taking all of this in. Eventually, a fellow, who I guessed was in his early twenties, intentionally kicked a crutch out from under me as he passed by on his way to the end of the room to join some of his buddies. He stood there pointing at me as he and his buddies were laughing at me. I was doing a slow torch.

UMW Natural Horsemanship Students Complete Internship in France

Camas Neville, originally from Idaho and Maggie Blandford of Colorado, completed a four month internship at the Ecole du Domaine du Possible where they taught horsemanship classes. Ecole du Domaine du Possible is an alternative school that teaches 150 students grades K-12 using the Waldorf method.

Neville and Blandford had 12 students enrolled in their class at the Ecole du Domaine du Possible, which was held three days a week. They taught students horsemanship, starting with groundwork and then progressing the students into the saddle.

The pair noted that the language barrier was somewhat of a hurdle for them. Students in the class ranged from 14-18 years old and few of them spoke English fluently.

In addition to their teaching duties, Neville and Blandford had project horses assigned to them while in France. The pair felt prepared for this aspect of the internship because they had gained experience working and training horses through their Natural Horsemanship courses at UMW.

Neville and Blandford took advantage of their time in France by spending four days at Haras de La Cense located outside of Paris. The ranch is a sister to La Cense Montana where some of UMW's hands-on horsemanship courses are taught; both ranches are owned by William Kriegel.

UMW horsemanship instructor, Ava Duncan, spent time at Haras de La Cense during the summer of 2018, expanding her horsemanship knowledge as well.

"These internships are amazing opportunities," equine instructor Iola "Olie" Else said.

To learn more about Montana Western and their unique Natural Horsemanship degree, please visit the UMW equine studies website.

I stopped this fellow on his way out and reminded him that he kicked my crutch out from under me. He stuck his chin out and said: "Oh yeah, so what are going to do about it?" There was a month of frustration behind my punch. He back peddled and crashed into that table load of women. Drinks spilled, women screamed, and when he clawed his way back up, I hit him again. Three loggers came to my aid, grabbed the guy up, and threw him out onto the street.

After six weeks I shed my cast. I was assigned to a timber survey crew and spent the rest of the summer on the Clearwater National Forest. It turned out to be a pretty good summer after all.

Letter to the Editor

A number of people running for public office are advocating socialism. I decided to look up the definition. Webster's dictionary defines socialism. "any of systems of the ownership and operation of the means of production and distribution by society being controlled by government. A stage of society coming in which private ownership of the means of production and distribution has been eliminated." Sounds to me that socialism would eliminate private property. My question is this "if socialism is the way to go why aren't all these so-called refugees headed for Venezuela instead of the United States of America?"
