the next 26 years sharing her special brand of love with the residences there.

Patsy loved spending time in her yard planting flowers in her garden and decorating for the various holidays. But above all her greatest love and joy was her grandchildren and great grandchildren. In Grandma Pat's world, there was no such thing as a "step" child. All children were welcomed with open arms and never once doubted how much she loved them. She is leaving behind a living legacy of young adults that were blessed to have been touched by her love.

She was preceded in death by her parents and Art and Myrtle Reichle. She is survived by sisters Debbie Walker and Connie Carter and brother Larry Fulford.

Daughters Lisa (Leo) Jimenez of Dillon, and Tonya (Travis) Hauck of East Helena, MT. Sons Randy (Alison) Norris of Dillon, and Jamie Norris of Dillon.

Grandchildren: Lacey Norris, Valorie (Nate) Finch, Cory Norris, Daniel (Jennifer) Norris, Bailey Jimenez, Wendy (Jeremy) Alvarez, Ashley (Jon) Parker, Logun (Rachel) Norris, Dakota Norris, Kaitlynn (Anthony) Child, Ash Norris, Zach Dumezich, Hailey Roberts, Makenizy Roberts, Taustin Hauck, Trevon Hauck, Noah Hauck, Abby Hauck. Great grandchildren: Beau Reynolds, Behra Hutchinson, Jase Alvarez, Tristan Alvarez, Lillianna Valenzula, CJ Valenzula, Arianna Valenzula, Aubree Child, Owen Child, Charlie Norris, Caysen Duschaneck. She was looking forward to the expected birth of two more great grandsons later this summer: Patrick Norris and Wyatt Child. We believe that she got to meet them first and is cuddling them until we get to meet them.

Funeral Services will be held in Dillon MT at the Brundage Funeral Home on Monday April 15th, 2019 at 1:00 pm with graveside interment to follow.

2019 Summer Kickoff Concert

The Dillon Jaycees are excited to announce the lineup for the 2019 Summer Kickoff Concert. Headlining the 3rd annual Kickoff Concert will be country star Ned Ledoux.

In country music, a last name like LeDoux casts a big, storied and bittersweet shadow, but it's one Ned LeDoux doesn't mind standing in one bit. Having been a drummer in his dad Chris' band Western Underground since 1998, Ned knew from an early age that he had "no plan b" but to play music, "Once I got the taste of the road, and being in front of a crowd and just the sound of it, it was...freedom."

When his dad passed away in 2005, Ned continued to tour with his father's band to keep the musical spirit of Chris LeDoux alive. This drove him to pick up the guitar and try his hand at some of his dad's songs. It started with "Rodeo Man," and before long Ned had a whole catalogue of his father's early hits ready to play. When the other band members heard Ned's voice, he found himself front and center singing at the shows. Stepping out from behind the drums stirred something inside of Ned that he hadn't felt before, "It's a different kind of rush, getting up with a guitar and standing behind a microphone...shoot I'm getting butterflies thinking about it right now."

The timing couldn't be more right for Ned to pick up a guitar and belt out "Western Skies;" it has been over 10 years since Chris LeDoux passed and he believes people want to hear something new. Ned has boxes of song ideas his dad never finished and is digging through those for inspiration, "I will kind of stick with what dad used to do but bring my own stuff to the table." In July of 2015, Ned traveled to Nashville with some of those unfinished songs and met up with Mac McAnally to put that inspiration to work. Mac produced Chris' last two studio records and wrote his hit "Horsepower," so the collaboration with Ned was a natural fit and lead to the first new Chris LeDoux co-writes in nearly two decades.

Keeping the cowboy in country is important to Ned as you can hear in the song "Forever A Cowboy" also co-written with his dad. Ned puts his own spin on his endless touring with "Brother Highway" about all the time he has spent on the road with various bands since his days in high school. Ned says he doesn't even need a road map anymore—that he and the highway are like brothers. He wants to write songs about what he knows, keep the themes simple and harken back to the sound of good ole country music but with an edge.

For the last year, Ned has been steadily touring and opening for acts like Toby Keith, Garth Brooks, Aaron Watson and Brother's Osborne. Yet now that he is in front of the mic, Ned has a new goal. "There's an age group who doesn't know who Chris LeDoux is and I just want to keep his name out there. I want to reintroduce him to people who've maybe heard of him but didn't know what he did. Just carry on his legacy and carry on his music and at the same time show them what I can do."

Poison Oak

by "Swede" Troedsson (Missoula, '59)

In late July, 1959, seventeen of us Missoula jumpers, in the "Doug", led by Al Cramer (MSO '43), "boosted" to Redding, CA.

On July 25th, thirteen of us were dispatched to the Water Gulch Fire, located on the shore of Shasta Reservoir.

Upon arrival, we observed that there was a line around the fire. A barge, with a dozer on board, was headed our way. While circling around the fire and over the lake, recreational motor boats were circling underneath us to watch the jump show.

My jump partner and I were kicked out early and landed on the lake shore, close to the water. A motor boat roared up to us. The operator offered to take us to join the rest of our crew. We gladly accepted!

The rest of the jumpers landed in a tall brush field. They were commenting on the fact that the brush had provided such a cushy landing.

It turned out the fire was already contained, so all we did was gather our gear and return to Redding.

Little did we realize that the brush was poison oak. As I recall, six of our crew were off the jump list for two weeks, recuperating from a poison oak infection.

Meeting of Dillon Farmers' Market Thurs. April 25

The Dillon Farmers' Market Annual Meeting will be held Thursday April 25, 2019 at 5:30 pm in the St. James Guild Hall at 203 E. Glendale St. in Dillon. Everyone interested in the Farmers' Market is welcome. The agenda includes a report on the past season, finances, plans for the summer of 2019, and election of board members. There will be refreshments and door prizes. The 2019 market season will start on June 22 and end Sept. 21.

Last year was the 15th season for the Dillon Farmers' Market, showcasing local home grown, handmade products. In 2018 we had 60 members and averaged 28 vendors in the market per Saturday. Many vendors offered more than one product for sale: 23 had produce, plants, and/or food products, 37 had arts and crafts, and at least ten were engaged in public service or charitable fundraising.

Dillon Farmers' Market Inc. is an all-volunteer, member-based nonprofit organization. You don't have to be a vendor to be a member. The main qualification for being a member is enthusiasm and interest in helping the market serve our community. The annual membership fee is $5. In addition, vendors pay $5 per week for a space in the market, which takes place in the Wells Fargo Bank parking lot (by agreement with the bank). All members receive a Dillon Farmers' Market shopping bag.

For information about the Dillon Farmers' Market, the annual meeting, or serving on the market's board of directors, contact Katie Bump at 406-683-6735 or Catherine Cain at 406-498-6198. Market rules and forms will be available at the meeting on April 25, and after that on line at the Dillon Farmers' Market web site, dillonfarmersmarket.blogspot.com. The facebook page is dillonfarmers-market.

Bible Truth...What happens in the resurrection

[Statement of belief: the Bible alone is the source of truth and all beliefs in conflict with the Bible are false.]

Many scriptures confirm Jesus Christ's resurrection from the dead. The word 'resurrection' & 'raised' are used about 80 times in the New Testament. Both terms refer dead bodies that come forth from the grave.

In speaking of the body Job 34:15 states, "All flesh shall perish together, and man shall return to dust." Ecclesiastes 3:20 also refers to man's body returning to dust, "All go to one place; all are of the dust, and all turn to dust again."

When the body dies the spirit of that body departs to a different realm. The spirits of those who have not accepted Jesus Christ as their Savior are under the wrath of God as stated in John 3:36. These unbelievers will be relegated to the torments of a fiery hell [see Luke 16:19-31].

2 Corinthians 5:6 and 8 reveals a different realm for the believers in Christ, "Therefore we are always confident, knowing that, while we are at home in the body, we are absent from the Lord. We are confident, I say, and willing rather to be absent from the body, and to be present with the Lord."

The Apostle Paul states in Acts 24:15 that there will be a "...resurrection of the dead, both the just and the unjust."

In the resurrection of the unjust [Christ rejecters] Revelation 20:11-15 states that all the dead [spiritually dead due to rejecting Christ] will stand before God and be cast into the lake of fire because their names are not in God's book of life. The absence of names is due to not believing in Christ.

In the resurrection of the just those who have trusted Christ will be "...raised incorruptible" and will "put on incorruption, and this mortal body must put on immortality."

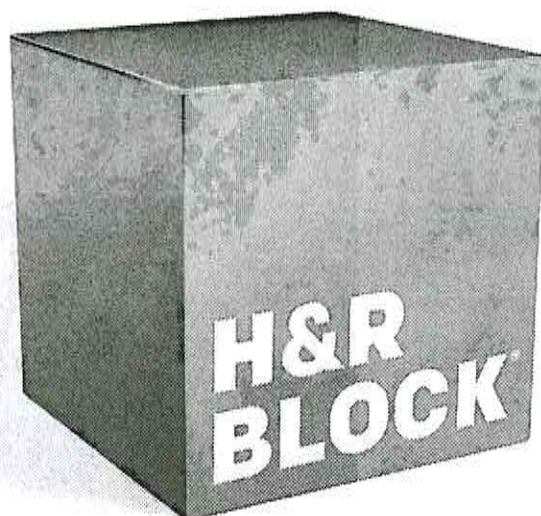

Revelation 21:4 reveals that the eternal home of believers is a place with no tears, no crying, no death, no sorrow & no pain.

Living eternally in heaven is based on one thing...the decision to accept Jesus Christ as your Savior. You don't have to decide to reject Him, you are already condemned just by not believing, John 3:18.
