Dillon Police Department Graduates

On March 29, 2019 the Montana Law Enforcement Academy (MLEA) held its 167 basic course graduation ceremony at the Helena Civic Center. Sixty officers from all areas of Montana were awarded their diplomas after a 12 week intensive training course. Probationary officers who complete the MLEA basic course are required to successfully complete one full year of training in good standing at their department. Officers are then confirmed and certified as the probationary status is lifted.

The Dillon Police Department presented two graduates in Basic 167, Eric Pedersen and Jace Maroney. Both Officers did exceptionally well, with Officer Pedersen accomplishing the "Hard Rock" challenge for his dedicated attention to physical fitness. Officer Pedersen and Officer Maroney immediately returned to their positions at the Dillon Police Department. Officers will continue their probationary period until they have completed their year on probationary status. Both Officer Pedersen and Officer Maroney completed an 8 week field training period prior to the academy. We are happy to have them back utilizing their training protecting and serving the community of Dillon.

Officer Pedersen and Officer Maroney are excellent community oriented officers that Dillon should be proud of, I know I am.

Once again I want to thank Dillon residents for their continued support and encouragement. New officers take an oath to serve and protect an increasingly violent society where law enforcement officers are targets. To know that the Dillon community supports their law enforcement efforts is an invaluable asset to both us, and the community. We are so appreciative!

City Council March 20, 2019

By: MJ

Council Present: Councilman Schwandt, Shafer, Graham, Stout, Nye, Hand, Kenworthy, Councilwoman O'Rourke and Mayor Klakken

Petitions and Communications: A "Thank You" was received from Beaverhead Animal Shelter for the $500.00 the city donated to the shelter to assist with spay and neuter clinics. The city donates this each year.

Mayor's Report: Mayor presented a letter from the election administrator. Each time there is an election the Council must approve the use of a mail ballot or an auto-mark voting machine. Mayor explained that the cost of auto-mark ballot was $2,000± more due to the cost of renting machine, software and the printing. Councilman Hand stated that less than one (1) percent of the population would benefit from the use of auto-mark machine. Motion moved and accepted to use the mail ballot.

Trailers on Streets: There was a lengthy discussion about trailer on the streets. Councilwoman O'Rourke brought up the trailer on Glendale and Sebree streets that needs to be moved. The owners did move it 10 feet and that meets the requirements of the ordinance. She stated that the intent of the regulations was not to create a street storage place for trailers. At meetings I hear the word intent used by council members, public and/or board members. Question: if it was the intent of the executive branch creating the statute, then why does the text not say, that in the future the people could determine the law via intent? Note: Intent means the intention, objective, object goal… The mayor asks her about putting the trailers in private yards and she replied "no, they need to find storage." Councilman Hand ask if it would it be a "taking" of a property right if a person was not allowed to park a trailer in their private property. Ms. O'Rourke stated that this is a culture thing and other cities are able to get trailers off street without putting them in their front yard. She feels that if you are wealthy enough to buy a trailer then you can pay for storage. Councilman Schwandt ask; "what happened to neighborly." Ms. O'Rourke responded "it is not the time to be neighborly, it is time to hand out tickets. It is a health and safety issue." The discussion continued on without any resolution.

Police Report: Chief Guiberson submitted the police activity report and council approved. There were several questions council members ask to be clarified.

City Court: Judge Minor presented the Feb. 2019 court report for council approval. (Approved) She reported that the court is making great strides in closing cases. Judge Minor stated that she and Judge Candy Hoerning swore each other in as substitute judges for their respective courts.

Treasurer: Mr. Straus presented the bank reconciliation report and cash summary report for council approval. (Approved) Mr. Straus stated that the 3 year contract with auditors is completed and he will be working to find another company or maybe the same company.

Other committee minutes and reports were approved by the council. Meeting adjourned.

Montana Western Rodeo

Montana Western Head Rodeo Coach Kody Lahaye has announced the signing of 10 student-athletes for the 2019-20 men's and women's rodeo season.

"I'm really excited about my first class," Lahaye said. "They bring in a competitive edge and are serious about coming here and making an impact."

The incoming class provides a good mix of out-of-state student-athletes with those hailing from the treasure state. And will mix well those already on the team.

Old Man Speaks His Mind

By: Bryce Angell

My friend and I were looking for a quiet place to eat. We'd signed the deal and sold the cows. Our day was near complete.
We'd driven my old Chevy 'bout two hundred miles from home.
We hadn't had a bath and neither head had seen a comb.
We both preferred The Coffee Shop, but that was far away.
So, we settled for a fancy inn that advertised "Buffet."
The maître d' looked down on us. Said, "Move along old men."
His voice spoke with authority so moving was our plan.
But our legs were sore and swollen and they showed the years of wear. We sure don't break no record speed when using old Shank's Mare.
I looked the young man straight ahead, then gave him my stink-eye.
I said, "We don't mean much to you and think I know just why."
"You're primping in a new blue suit. Your beak at 45.
No one has taught you manners, yet respect is still alive."
"So, let this old man tell you just how much you oughta know.
And maybe if you're smart enough you'll use this chance to grow."
"The beef, which you've been serving here, is more than chunks of meat. Before they were a tenderloin, they walked on all four feet."
"My friend and I raise beef you know. Try kicking that about. And I bet you're clueless cows eat hay and where the crap comes out."
"The spuds you place beside the meat are usually mashed or fried.
They're grown by men who work the land. Some old and some have died."
"This job you now rely on depends on men like us.
Not to mention all the food you eat. Consider that a plus!"
"So, next time you call us old men, shoot some earned respect our way. And 'bout right now a thank you would be nice for you to say."

Jeff Welborn Helena Update

As we approach the final few days of the 66th Session in Helena, I will update you with a few proposals I've mentioned over the course of the last 14 weeks and where they are currently in the process.

Starting in our budget sub committee on Natural Resources, which I'm a member, we re-tooled FWP law enforcement and warden funding, by scaling back the amount of Pittman-Robertson (PR) funding being used to fund law enforcement . This single change was necessary, because of federal mandate, tied to same PR funding, ensured that wardens were forced to spend too much time on conservation work, and not allowing them spend enough time doing law enforcement. This was a concern that we heard from ranchers, sportsman and wardens alike, and that the ratio was out of balance. We have come up with a plan, that will continue to save Montana license dollars, and still put wardens back in the field doing what they do best, more of the time. Stakeholders agree that this is a much better funding model. It looks like this has been set into law, and will stand, with no late changes, in the final version of the budget.

Another achievement this session, within the Natural Resources budget, was to trim funding from several areas, that were looking to over spend, and re-directed those dollars to local conservation districts, which will help districts deliver on the ground results, all over Rural Montana, from soil and water conservation work, to 310 permitting, to aquatic invasive species control. This was long over due, and it's nice to see my colleagues also understand the value of conservation districts.

In the Senate, we were able to restore funding to the stream gauge program, which was previously cut by the Governor's office. These gauges are vital to watershed and conservation work, drought management, flood control, and fisheries management. I've heard from scores of local irrigation districts, watershed groups, and sportsmen alike on this issue. Sadly, this measure was killed in House Natural Resources Committee. I'm very disappointed that Chairman Kerry White, and the Republicans on that Committee, who couldn't see the value of these gauging stations. We will undoubtedly keep addressing this issue into the future, until a solution is reached.

Mental Health Care and Crisis Prevention, which I've mentioned in earlier columns, is a real concern in all Montana Communities, and especially in rural Montana, where suicide rates are the highest. Rural, community based solutions to this crisis, is something that Representative Welch, Representative Shaw, and Myself have been working on for the past two Legislative sessions and beyond. Small, measurable, steps are being made.

HB 660, Introduced by Sidney Republican Joel Krautter, will create a Mobile Crisis Intervention Unit Pilot Program. It allocates a $500k general fund appropriation for grants to communities, that must be matched by a local government dollar for dollar. This measure includes a mental health professional, and one other person who provide crisis intervention services and coordinate and dispatch with local law enforcement and local medical services personnel to respond to a person having a mental health crisis. This model promotes cross service collaboration and helps deter emergency room and jail deferment. Our current approach to crisis care is built on a patchwork system, that delivers minimal care, and results in higher societal costs, due to people having multiple hospital re-admissions, falling into the criminal justice system, or the unthinkable, death by suicide. We passed this out of Senate Finance on Saturday, and it will be up for debate on the floor early this week. My fingers are crossed, as this is in it's final steps.

SB 197 which I've sponsored, will create a pathway for graduates of Youth Challenge, to obtain a diploma from their respective high schools, by closing a loop in current law. This was identified by both Challenge Staff, and the Office of Public Instruction, as a roadblock in the past. I'm happy to report this new proposal passed the Senate unanimously on second reading, it also passed the House, 99-0. It's now it the Governor's hands. Thanks to Representative Welch for his help on this.

Thanks to everyone who continues to stay in touch on the issues important to you. You can reach me at jeff.welborn@mtleg.gov . Have a great week.

WEEKLY LEGISLATIVE REPORT

FOR REP TOM WELCH, MT HD 72

This past week has been an extremely intense and long one for most Legislators including myself. Committee meetings were often over flowing with Bills to be heard as many of the deadlines, set by our Legislative rules, for the handling of introduced Bills were approaching. In some instances, committees were also asked, again via Legislative rule or action, to reconsider their previous actions on a number of Bills. Lots of rule maneuvering took place and will continue thru the final days of the Session. Despite any media coverage to the contrary, as of this writing, Bills associated with Medicaid expansion and reform, infrastructure, energy transmission and Pre-K to mention some, still are in play as the Session winds down. Much work is done behind the scenes in passing any major piece of Legislation and many unexpected twists and turns arise between introduction and possible signing. What remaining Bills, if any and in what form, actually pass this Legislature remain to be seen.

As a reminder, the only Constitutional duty that the Montana Legislature has is to pass a balanced budget for the next biennium. Until all of the above noted pieces and others are finalized, the Budget itself cannot be completed. However, preliminarily, the Budget, which we expect to bring forth at this time, appears to be in good shape.

I have been asked quite a bit lately, when we will finish up in Helena. Monday, April 15th will be the 79th work day of our scheduled 90-day Session with an originally scheduled final day for Wednesday May 1. I anticipate that we could finish up a little early, say sometime around April 25 following a short Easter break.

I had the opportunity to meet Beaverhead County High School student, Treyton Anderson and his parents, this week at the Capitol. Treyton was honored by Governor Bullock, as the first-place winner in the Statewide Ideas for New Business contest. Treyton's extensive proposal was for a smartphone app that allows fans at sporting events to order, pay for and have food delivered from concession stands directly to their seats. Congratulations Treyton!

Brightening up the Capitol this week, were the NAIA 2018/19 National Women's Basketball Champion Lady Bulldogs from the University of Montana Western. The entire team, coaches, support staff and Chancellor Beth Weatherby were the guests of Representative Ray Shaw, Senator Jeff Welborn and myself. Many of the group had never been to the Capitol so we tried to make sure that they got to explore the building, meet as many people as possible including Governor Bullock, Lt. Governor Cooney, alumni in the Legislature, and others. In addition, they were introduced on both the House and Senate floors to roaring applause during our afternoon sessions. We were honored to have them come to the Capitol!

I continue to work hard and especially so during these final days of the Session, to ensure that we pass meaningful and needed Legislation that is also cost efficient. Again, thank you for your continued support of my efforts as your elected member of the Montana House of Representatives.
