Political Hellraiser Book Signing

The Bookstore, Dillon Public Library and Aerial Wine bar are co-hosting Idaho author Marc Johnson for a book signing, reading and presentation.

Johnson will be signing copies of his book "Political Hellraiser: The Life and Times of Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana" at Aerial Wine Bar, located at 24 East Center St., on Friday, April 19th at 7 pm. There will be a questions & answers session after the reading.

Wheeler (1882-1975) may have been the most powerful politician Montana ever produced, and he was one of the most influential—and controversial—members of the United States Senate during three of the most eventful decades in American history. A New Deal Democrat and lifelong opponent of concentrated power—whether economic, military, or executive—he consistently acted with a righteous personal and political independence that has all but disappeared from the public sphere.

Political Hell-Raiser is the first book to tell the full story of Wheeler, whose successes and failures were woven into the political fabric of twentieth-century America. "This long-awaited and first extensive biography of one of America's most effective and productive U.S. senators, the honorable maverick Burton K. Wheeler, arrives right on time. We Americans need a good and true story like this—about a determined lawyer who defended the rights of day laborers in a hard-rock mining camp out west and went on to represent his constituents as their U.S. senator to his final breath. Marc Johnson has provided that biography."—Pat Williams, U.S. Representative from Montana, 1979–1997 bout the Author, Marc C. Johnson has worked as a broadcast journalist and communication and crisis management consultant and served as a top aide to Idaho's longest-serving governor, Cecil D. Andrus. His writing on politics and history has been published in the New York Times, California Journal of Politics and Policy, and Montana The Magazine of Western History and appears regularly on the blog and podcast Many Things Considered.

The Bookstore will have books available to purchase at the event. If you have any questions or would like to reserve a copy please call 683-6807.

Hunter and bowhunter education courses offered throughout southwest Montana

Hunter and bowhunter education courses have been scheduled in several locations throughout southwestern Montana. Registration has opened for many of those courses.

Students can find the course closest to them and register online at fwp.mt.gov/education/hunter.

Students may be required to pick up materials and complete the course manual before the first day of class. Dates, locations and specific instructions for each class, as well as contact information for the instructors, are available in the event description online.

Students must attend all classroom sessions, the field course and pass a final exam. Anyone age 18 or older can complete an online course but must still attend a field course to become certified.

To purchase a Montana hunting license, any person born after Jan. 1, 1985, must provide proof of having successfully completed a hunter and/or bowhunter education course issued by Montana, any other state or any Canadian province.

Hunter and bowhunter education courses are led by volunteer instructors who are passionate about preserving Montana's hunting tradition, teaching firearm safety and other outdoor skills. Instructors are needed in communities across southwest Montana. If you are interested in mentoring new hunters, please contact Morgan Jacobsen, Region 3 information and education program manager for Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks, at 406-994-6931 or visit fwp.mt.gov/education/hunter for more information.

Presidential Costs including Funeral

By: MJ

Presidential funerals — which take years of government planning — are traditionally expensive affairs. The late President George H.W. Bush's funeral service and related ceremonies cost American taxpayers at least a half-billion dollars in lost productivity and wages for federal workers and other expenses.

Following tradition for presidential funerals, the federal government shut down on Wednesday and the 41st president's casket was transported across the country on Air Force One for a public viewing in Washington, D.C. The presidential plane made a return flight to Houston, with former President George W. Bush and other Bush relatives. Flight costs for the two round-trip flights between Houston and Washington, D.C. — which run at more than $200,000 per hour — could add up to at least $2 million in travel expenses. Other ceremonial flourishes for George H.W. Bush, such as a 21-plane military flyover honoring the late president's service in the Navy during World War II, could tack on another $126,000.

A 2008 analysis by the National Taxpayers Union found that federal holidays cost taxpayers around $450 million per day in holiday pay and lost labor. That figure is based on 2004 U.S. economic data. The federal workforce and costs have grown since then. Adjustments for inflation are not included in these figures.

There are other costs that are assessed after the funerals — such as increased security and Secret Service protection for the high-profile political attendees.

Former President Barack Obama is about to become the most expensive ex-president, costing taxpayers $1,153,000 next year, according to a new Congressional Research Service memo looking at the official

NOTE: Presidents' cost figures don't include protection, which the U.S. Secret Service provides for former presidents and their spouses for life. Those costs aren't public, but reportedly run into the tens of millions of dollars.

PRESCRIBED BURNING

Fire officials from the Dillon Ranger District will begin prescribed burning starting mid-April which may result in visible smoke intermittently through mid-May, 2019.

Firefighters will be conducting jackpot (scattered slash) burning on 240 acres near the Bender Center and approximately 300 acres in the Birch Creek area of the eastern Pioneer Mountains. They will also be burning 100 acres in the Shineberger Creek area south of Lima and west of I-15. These are areas where aspen restoration projects have recently occurred.

Fire crews will burn as weather permits under prescribed conditions and monitor the burns after ignition to ensure fire stays within the prescribed boundaries.

Travelers and visitors in the area may see smoke from this burn, however little impact from the smoke is expected. For more information regarding these prescribed burns, contact the Dillon Ranger District at (406) 683-3900.

SIGNING OF LOCAL STANDOUT

University of Montana Western head women's basketball coach Lindsay Woolley has announced the signing of local standout Brynley Fitzgerald to an NAIA letter of intent.

The Bulldogs land a local star in Fitzgerald. After spending one season as a preferred walk-on at MSU and appearing in 14 games, Fitzgerald is coming back home to Dillon to play for the Bulldogs.

"We're really happy about Brynley's decision to transfer home and put on the black and red," Woolley said. "We think she is a great fit for our program because she can guard multiple positions, has a tremendous work ethic and is extremely competitive. Can't wait to get her on campus and start working with her."

Fitzgerald graduated from Beaverhead County High School in 2018 where as a senior, she registered 18.8 points, 6.9 rebounds and 2.4 steals per game.

She is the all-time leading scorer and rebounder at BCHS, scoring 1,155 points and pulling down 1,124 rebounds. She is a three-time first-team all-conference and first-team all-state selection. She was named 2017 Southwestern A Co-MVP and the 2018 Treasure State Classic MVP.

The multi-sport athlete is also a two-time all-conference selection and first-team all-state in volleyball and three-time all-state selection in track. Fitzgerald led the Beavers to the 2018 team state title in track and won two state championships in the 4x400m relay.

Off the court, she is an 11-time academic all-state selection.

She is the daughter of Greg and Keeley Fitzgerald and is undecided on a major.

CHUTE MALFUNCTION

By "Swede" Troedsson (Missoula '59)

On the morning of August 25th, 1959, Henry (Hank) Trimble (MSO '59) and I were dispatched from Missoula in a Twin Beech to the Moud Cr. Fire.

The small spot fire was near White Sand Lake, on the Powell Ranger District, currently in the Clearwater National Forest, Idaho.

Hank was kicked out first over a meadow. I followed, and after opening shock, I sensed I was descending faster than normal, and heard a sound like sheets flapping in a strong wind. Upon checking my canopy, I saw that I had "line over". I had no steering control of my chute, and was headed towards a HUGE boulder. I reached for a knife mounted on the top of my reserve chute, with the intent of cutting the line. I no sooner got the top flap of the knife case open, when the line slipped off the top of my canopy. I was able to steer clear of the boulder, and make a safe landing.

This area next to the lake is gorgeous. We had the fire out by that evening, and we made camp in the meadow. We slept in the open under a brilliant star filled sky. During the night elk walked right through the meadow.

The next morning, after making a final check of the fire, we stacked our gear on a nearby trail. We then hiked fourteen miles to the Colt Creek Cabin. There we were met by a pickup truck and returned to Missoula.
