Crazy Town to be Performed at Montana Western

The University of Montana Western Fine Arts Dept., as part of the Bank of Commerce Performing Arts Series, presents its final production of the season, "Crazy Town" by Jonathan Rand. Performances will be held at UMW in the Small Auditorium (Main Hall 314) May 2-4 at 7:30 p.m. with a matinee to be held on May 3 at 1 p.m.

The comedy takes audiences on tour of "the most messed up town in America" as viewed from the imaginary television broadcast of WMOG TV with hosts Jim Pickle and Babs Buttlebee. From a dooms-day inventor to a police interrogation of the sweetest middle school teacher you'd ever meet, to strange appearances by reporters on location, Jim and Bab's "Action News" show delivers all the important news of the day.

Student director Austin Brentlinger, originally from Twin Bridges, directs the play and calls it "a sort of Saturday Night Live on steroids." With a switch of a hat or by donning a mustache, each of the six actors appear in a variety of roles. Montana Western's drama program is unique in that it provides undergraduate students the opportunity to direct and design "full size" productions, with the guidance of theatre faculty. Brentlinger is the fourth student director in the Bank of Commerce Performing Arts Series since its inception.

Collaborating with Brentlinger and fellow students Sean Bahnmler and Taylor Treasure, technical director and faculty member Marcus Todd created bizarre set pieces and an array of background screen projections. Students Michael Grover and Zachary Peterson head sound and light design, with teams of students also managing costumes and props under the supervision of Professor Judy Ulrich. Student Ron Shropshire, a senior from Phoenix, is serving as stage manager.

"This is a great conclusion to our academic year," said Ulrich.

Additional support for this play and all of the 2018-19 theatre productions was provided by ASUMW/Student Senate. Tickets are $10 for adults, $5 for seniors and free for Montana Western students. For more information, please email judy.ulrich@umwestern.edu, or call (406) 683-7422.

1959 HEBGEN LAKE EARTHQUAKE RESCUE

Around 11:30 PM on August 17th, 1959, several of us were returning from our favorite watering hole, called the Swallow Inn, to the smokejumper dorm in Missoula. We were approaching the dorm when we felt the ground shaking from the earthquake at Hebgen Lake.

About 9:00 the next morning, twelve of us boarded the Johnson Flying Service DC-2. First aid and rescue gear was also loaded on board. The pilot was Mel "Cookie" Callaway. The jumper in charge was Al Hammond (MSO '46) and the spotters were Randall (Randy) Hurst (MSO '54) and Joe Roemer (MSO '52). We took off about 9:30.

A little after 10:30 AM we arrived over the earthquake area. Cookie had to thread our way through sight-seeing aircraft. The normal late morning wind was starting up, and between trying to dodge private aircraft, increasing wind, circling to identify jump spots, throwing out drift streamers to check the wind, and kicking out jumpers and cargo, it was pretty spooky.

Eight of our crew were kicked out in an area between the slide and the Hebgen Lake Dam.

It is my understanding that by the time jumpers landed, the injured had already been evacuated to West Yellowstone. The more seriously injured were then transferred to Bozeman.

Bob Nicole (MSO '52) states: "To the best of my memory the jumpers were the first to arrive on the ground at the site. The helicopters did not start showing up for an hour or two later. Hammond and three jumped right in the parking lot on the dam which served as a helicopter landing site. The road coming in from WYS was impassable for several hours after we arrived. Andy, myself and two others landed in the lower site called rescue point. We had to clear some brush and trees before helios could land. Ground vehicles were not able to get there until late afternoon. All the jump crew were driven to the old jump base at WYS arriving about dark. We all returned to quake lake the next morning to continue the search and in the late afternoon went back to WYS where we were then flown to MSO in a DC-3."

(A more detailed account of the smokejumper involvement in this rescue is available on line under Jumper Recounts Yellowstone Quake Rescue by Bob Nicol)

Two of us, Vance Warren and myself, were held back in the aircraft because there was a report of injured at Cliff Lake. Upon arriving over Cliff Lake, we were informed by Forest Service personnel on-site that there were no injured. A couple had been killed when a boulder rolled through their tent. We then flew to Ennis, landing at the Sportsman Lodge air field.

Vance and I de-planed and were transported to an area below the slide to assist in the off-loading of personnel that had been trapped above the slide and evacuated by helicopter. The pilot of the helicopter was Fred Gerlach, one of my Missoula forestry school professors. (Fred received the National Pilot of the Year Award for his participation in the rescue operation.)

I was amazed at all the clothing, bedding, and tents stuck in the trees, deposited there by the wind blast from the slide. After assisting with the unloading of survivors off the helicopter, we were returned to Ennis.

The command center in Ennis was in the fire hall. A woman was manning the radio, next to a big red button, with instructions to press the button to blow the siren should she get word that the dam had broken. Shortly after the quake, due to a faulty report that the dam had failed, the town was evacuated. Residents returned after being assured that the dam still held.

I was really impressed by the quiet efficiency of the Salvation Army. They drove down from Butte to Ennis in a truck full of clothing. Most of the people evacuated to Ennis were still in their pajamas.

A major problem in this rescue operation was lack of good radio communication between Ennis and the slide area. Vance and I accompanied the forest radio technician to the top of the Virginia City Hill in order to set up a repeater. This attempt to establish radio communication with the slide area was unsuccessful.

The second day, a Twin Beech was on final approach to the Sportsman Lodge air field when the landing gear clipped a power line located just off the south end of the runway. The power line fell onto the grass, started a fire, and the woman in the fire hall pushed that big red button.

Needless to say, folks in town got pretty excited until they found out what the siren was about.

Vance and I returned to Missoula the next day.

Beaverhead County High School

- Mill Levy Information

The General Fund budget is used to finance all instruction, administration, facility maintenance, technology, salaries, extracurricular activities, and all other operational costs of the district. Budget levels are calculated based on state entitlements driven by enrollment. Beaverhead County High School has been having declining enrollment for the last few years. Since state money is figured on the enrollment, that portion from the state has declined also. However, even though enrollments have dropped the operational costs of the District continues to increase each year.

So, to have our highest budget that will keep us about where we are this year, we need to go to the taxpayers for a levy of $34,221.54. This is approximately 1.73 mills and will increase the taxes on a home with a market value of $100,000 by approximately $2.34 and on a home with a market value of $200,000 by approximately $4.67. This total amount is an increase per year, not monthly! If the levy fails, the FY2020 budget will be $30,162.78 less than this year's budget and cuts will have to be made.

 It is critical for the taxpayers to understand that the Bond Election money can only be used for the building project as was designated. This cannot be used for General Fund expenditures.

ESTABLISHING A PHARMACY

In response to the overwhelming need from the Dillon community, Southwest Montana Community Health Center is moving forward in establishing a pharmacy in the old Mitchell Drug building at 125 E. Glendale.

"We are very excited for the opportunity to expand our retail pharmacy" services into the Dillon Community. Our staff is dedicated to providing personalized service at an affordable price, as we have in our communities for nearly 20 years," said Tammy Cox, director of pharmacy services for the SWMTCHC.

The pharmacy is expected to open in summer 2019, following a remodel of the building.

In the meantime, CHC pharmacies in Sheridan and Butte are available to assist with medication needs. Call Mac's CHC Pharmacy at (406) 842-7434 or Butte CHC Pharmacy at (406) 496-6001 to discuss options to obtain your prescriptions.

If you need a medical provider, now is the time to establish at our clinic by calling (406) 683-4440 for an appointment.
