INTRODUCTION TO RECOLLECTIONS

"Swede" Troedsson, who has resided in Dillon for over 50 years, retired from the U.S. Forest Service in 1994 with over 37 years of government service. His duties during five summers as a summer temporary for the Forest Service included one summer as a fire lookout, two summers as a Forestry Aide helping layout timber sales, and two smokejumping. Once he received his permanent appointment, his main duties included timber sale layout and administration. Some local folks have encouraged him to share some of his experiences through local media.

CLOSE CALLS - A TOASTED PICKUP

In the summer of 1957, I worked as timber aide on the Skykomish Ranger District, on the Snoqualmie National Forest in western Washington.

We had just completed laying out a 52 million board foot timber sale on Maloney Mountain, when a fire broke out on private land below the timber sale. I drove up to the Maloney Mountain Lookout, situated above the fire, to join District Ranger John Sarginson, who was already there sizing up the fire. He pointed to a Forest Service pickup towing a water trailer that was approaching the fire, and asked me to run down to the pickup and drive it up to the lookout so he could retrieve his caulked boots (boots with spiked soles).

When I arrived at the pickup, it was parked just below a steep switch back. I realized that the two wheel drive pickup, pulling a water trailer, could not make it up and around the steep switchback (later determined to be 18%).

A logger in a four wheel drive pickup offered to attach a tow chain to the pickup, and tow me up and around the switchback. By then hot smoke was boiling over the switchback.

After attaching a tow chain to the pickup, the logger proceeded to tow me up and around the switchback. Two seasonal employees were riding in the bed of the pickup. By then hot embers were falling on the pickup. In the middle of it all, the tow chain came undone from the front of my truck. The logger's pickup just kept going up through the smoke. I was stuck, I couldn't go forward, and I couldn't back up with the attached trailer. The two men riding in the back of the pickup jumped in the cab with me to escape the falling embers. I told them to jump out and run up the road and out of the hot smoke. Shortly thereafter, I grabbed the Ranger's boots, and bailed out of the truck. I ran uphill through the hot smoke and falling embers, and walked up to the lookout.

The pickup gas tank had been topped off with gasoline that morning. The gasoline got to boiling, the filler cap popped off, and the gasoline poured onto the ground and ignited. The truck, including a nice compass in the glove box, and the trailer, were completely consumed by the fire.

Annual Wildflower Tour of Gravelly Range Set for July 9

The Forest Service will sponsor its 22nd annual wildflower tour of the Gravelly Range on Tuesday, July 9, starting at 9 a.m.

The free tour winds through the Gravelly Range in Madison County which is noted for a spectacular, high-elevation display of wildflowers. Forest Service employees on the tour will help identify plants seen along the way. Officials note that each year brings its own set of growing conditions, producing an always plentiful and varied show of wildflowers.

The tour will begin at the Forest Service office in Ennis and proceed toward the Gravelly Range. Participants generally drive their own high-clearance vehicles, but can catch a ride with others if they don't want to take their own vehicle. Attendees are advised to dress for inclement weather and bring their lunch and water.

For more information, contact the Forest Service in Ennis located at 5 Forest Service Road, or call (406) 682-4253, or check out the Beaverhead Deerlodge National Forest Facebook page.

Tule Elk Habitat Conserved in California

The Rocky Mountain Elk Foundation teamed up with the California Department of Fish and Wildlife (CDFW), California Wildlife Conservation Board (WCB) and a committed landowner to permanently protect more than 2,600 acres of prime elk habitat in north-central California.

"We want to thank Jim Keegan who reached out to us to conserve his Whiskey Hill property," said Kyle Weaver, RMEF president and CEO. "The conservation easement now in place protects the wildlife and riparian habitat in the upper portion of the Salt Creek watershed, which is adjacent to the Cache Creek area, and is a focus for RMEF's conservation mission work."

The property is approximately 15 miles west of Williams and 70 miles north and west of Sacramento. It is bordered both to the east and west by lands already under easement protection from other organizations.

"This transaction is especially important because it provides year-round habitat for about 70 tule elk, and is in an area where the CDFW wants to increase the size of the herd," said Blake Henning, RMEF chief conservation officer. "Right now, there are only about 5,000 tule elk in the world."

The property features grasslands, oak woodlands and some patches of brush. It also includes ponds and a few intermittent streams that support riparian habitat in an area where such features are limited.

"We commend Mr. Keegan for actions he took to greatly improve an area that was previously overgrazed. Not only did he alter grazing activity but he greatly improved water availability by creating three solar-powered wells that benefit elk and other wildlife species," added Henning.

The landowner does allow hunting on the property through the CDFW Shared Habitat for Recreational Enhancement (SHARE) Program.

"The WCB is proud to be a partner with the Rocky Mountain Elk Foundation in the Whiskey Hill Ranch Conservation Easement," said John Donnelly, WCB executive director. "The ability to work with the RMEF to conserve and protect working landscapes and critical winter range for the tule elk and other regional California wildlife is something that WCB is honored to be a part of."

In addition to elk, the land is also home to blacktail deer, golden eagles and a wide array of bird and animal species.

RMEF works with willing landowners to establish conservation easements to protect crucial elk winter and summer ranges, migration corridors, calving grounds and other areas vital to elk and other wildlife.

Dedication of Civil War Veteran tombstone and special marker for

Jonathan A. Hill, Private, Co K 92nd Illinois Infantry

July 20, 2019 - 1 p.m.

Mountain View Cemetery, Dillon, Montana

Jonathan A. Hill was the last Civil War veteran to die in Beaverhead County. He died in 1935 and was buried at Mountain View Cemetery in Dillon with full military honors by the American Legion. A veteran tombstone was not ordered for him at that time, so we obtained one for him this year with the help of Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War Compliment-Chapman Camp #2 in Billings. The Sons provided a "last in county" marker for him. The stone and marker were set by the American Legion Post 20 men and friends and will be dedicated by the Sons on July 20. Jonathan Hill's grave is in the old Legion section just west of the Legion monument, close to the main road.

Everyone is invited to be there to honor this last Civil War veteran of our county.

Lettuce Go to the Farmers' Market

Dillon Farmers' Market Opens Saturday June 22

The Dillon Farmers Market will begin June 22 and run through September 21, 2019. The market will be open on Saturdays from 9 am to 1 pm, in the Wells Fargo Bank parking lot at 20 North Montana Street.

Do not park your vehicle overnight in the Wells Fargo Bank parking lot on Fridays. Vehicles left in the lot at 7 am on Saturday mornings may be towed at the owner's expense.

"19 vendors were signed up by June 9, and we will hear from more vendors in the coming weeks," reported Katie Bump, market secretary. In 2018, there were 60 vendor-members, with an average of 28 vendors present on each Saturday. Some vendors come every week, others come just a few times during the summer. The market welcomes musicians and others to provide entertainment at the market. Anyone interested in performing at the market should call in advance to organize dates, times, and spaces.

"Our purpose is to serve the community of southwest Montana, and we really appreciate the support, encouragement, and ideas of our members," said market president, Catherine Cain. For a $5.00 fee, anyone can become a member, and receive a Dillon Farmers' Market shopping bag. Additional bags are available for purchase at the market.

The Dillon Farmers' Market is a 501 (c) (4) nonprofit corporation. Membership and vendor fees support market operations, including insurance, portable toilet, advertising, stipend for the Market Master, canopies for the Kids Corner and entertainment, office supplies, printing, and postage. In addition to the $5.00 annual membership fee, vendors pay $5.00 per week for a space in the market. The annual report, application forms and market rules can be downloaded from the web site for the Dillon Farmers' Market, dillonfarmersmarket.blogspot.com. For more information, call secretary Katie Bump at 406-683-6735, or president Catherine Cain at 406-498-6198.

CANCER PATIENT COULD USE OUR HELP
My husband Bill DuRose was diagnosed with pancreatic cancer. At this time we live on his disability. The hospital at which he will be receiving treatment is over 2 hours away from home. We cannot afford the traveling expenses for gas, hotel, medical bills, etc.
Anything that can be donated in order to help us get to where he need to would be greatly appreciated.
Bill is a US Army Veteran and police officer. Bill is kind, generous and selfless man. He has always done everything he can for others around him.
Please, whatever can be done to help get the treatment for him lets help. A fund has been set up at The Bank of Commerce under William DuRose Cancer Fund.
